The Editor's column

By S. R. PADDOCK

We are sorry we cannot be on the firing line for the start of the campaign for the Northwest Community Hospital. We left a week too early to put in our oar in the site selection. We know they have made a good choice.

Sorry, boys and girls that we will not be home to answer the doorbell on Halloween night, but in lieu of treats, we are sending a $5 check to the hospital fund.

When we made our date for eye surgery, we did not know that it would remove us from the campaign on the city managership issue. We are unable to keep our pulse on public sentiment, but we are of the same opinion as before, that Arlington Heights municipal operations require a trained executive at its head.

We hope it will be a clean fight without election personalities.

It is not our intention to hold to ridicule the actions of any board member who opposed the ordinance plan, but we have a real obligation of presenting in the news columns a clear picture of the village manager operation under the statute plan which our news editors have been instructed to present.

We joyously pay tribute this week to the one-hundredth anniversary of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church which came into being within a year after the original plat of the village of Dunton was filed with the county recorder.

It could have been considered the centennial observance of the birth of Arlington.

How can a hospital patient follow his weight reducing diet when the tray contains contraband food. We have given up trying.

Without television available, which we could not see anyway, we have become extremely critical of radio programs. In reading a newspaper, we can skip the advertisements, but it makes one a little impatient when we are compelled to hear long advertisements before we get a look-in at the very much abreviated news.

Wish some of those radio overlords could be sent to a hospital and blindfolded and be forced to hear the programs they put out on the air.

What business have I, an editor of a newspaper, to criticize the way radio dishes up its features. Some people probably do not like the way I run my paper.

The arrival of flowers at our hospital room bearing the card of the Breakfast Club was most welcome.

We seldom agree on weighty matters under discussion, but we hope that some member has come to the relief of the minority which is the position this editor usually occupies.

Thanks, fellows, you are great guys.

There are many miles between the army general hospital in Denver and the Chicago Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat hospital at Washington and Franklin sts. and there is a lot of difference in the renown of the patient in the army hospital and the mere editor in the Chicago hospital but we know that the nurses taking care of Ike are not as good looking as the nurses who wake us up at 5:30 in the morning so that we can be ready for breakfast at 7 o'clock.

We agree with 2 Chicago newspapers, both with Republican leanings, that Gov. Stratton should call for the resignation of 2 Republican members of the state liquor commission who have made possible the reopening of 3 taverns closed by President Ryan of the county board at the suggestion of Sheriff Lohman.

We are not so much worried over the probable reappearance of slot machines in those taverns as we are for the encouragement that the commission's actions will give other tavern owners to flaunt the law.

It is the first step toward a wide open area. And to think that Republican office holders are responsible. We blush for shame.

We want to pass the word on to Sheriff Lohman how the city of Clinton, Iowa handles its juvenile cases. The parents of all boys arrested for delinquency are charged with "contributing to the delinquency of a minor." They may not be fined or sent to jail, but they get a severe tongue lashing from the judge.

Why is it that the owner of a dog can be forced to pay if the animal bites someone, but parents of a child take no responsibility for actions of their children?

Nobody can claim any guess work over the enrollment figures released last week to the high school citizens committee. It was the counting of noses of the children now in the elementary grades of 11 elementary and 4 parochial schools served by Arlington Heights high school.

Hold on tight. Here are some startling figures. If not a single new family moved into the district by 1959, there will be 3327 enrolled in the high school and 4965 four years later.

The first 32 families out of 475 who have bought homes in Dunhurst, moved into that subdivision this week. There will be a hundred more by Nov. 1st, says Mr. Herzog. That 5,000 figure may be with us four years sooner than the staticians guessed.

Newcomers Net $500 For Hospital From Recent Card Party

Arlington Heights Newcomers announced this week it raised $451 in a recent card party held to raise funds for the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center. They added another $49 to bring the contribution to an even $500.

A check for $100 was received last week from the Ladies Aid Society of Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights.

Miss Edith L. Hooker, 410 W. Wing, Arlington Heights, contributed $20 to the hospital this week.

Palatine Nurses club announced that a total of 3,020 have attended "Kuarter Kaffee Klatsches" for the benefit of the hospital and to date $1,410 has been collected. The coffees are still going strong and final results may easily net the biggest contribution to date toward the proposed hospital.

A Prospect Heights business executive entertained his employees at dinner recently and forbid them to talk shop. Anyone who mentioned anything about business during the evening was fined. The fines amounted to $4, and has been turned over to the hospital fund.

Plum Grove Molding Co., Palatine, operated by Conrad Bergo, Conrad Schaeter, Dickie Sipp, Denny Wessel, Alan Weistzal and Bill Irwin, has collected $11 from sales to date, which has been turned in to the hospital fund. The company makes molds from liquid rubber, which they use to make paste figures that they paint and sell for favors.

Residents of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, passed the hat and collected $90, which is being contributed to the hospital fund.

Lay Plans For 'Tricks Or Hospital Pennies' On Halloween Night

Last week's plea from a young mother with 4 children to aid the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center at Halloween time with pennies and nickels, did not go unheeded.

Plans are being formulated to have all children from Barrington to Wheeling play "Tricks or Hospital Pennies" Halloween night and turn the "loot" over to a Jack-o-lantern Pot!

All heads of Home Owners associations, PTA groups or school organizations are invited to help in this worthwhile project. An organizational meeting will be held at the VFW hall, W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, this Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

This will be an enormous undertaking and will take the cooperation of all parents and children. To volunteer assistance interested persons should call Mrs. Edward Bublitz, CL 3-5033, Mrs. Fred Dufelmeier, CL 3-1661 or William Griffith, CL 3-5971.

'Time Out For Ginger' On Stage October 21-22

"Time Out for Ginger," fall play by students of Arlington Heights high school, will be presented "in the round."

The portable stage in the cafeteria will be moved to the middle of the girls' gym to form an arena stage, with the audience viewing the stage from all sides.

Entrances and exits will be made from the aisles used by the audience.

WHILE THE arena stage relieves crews of the chore of making backdrops and walls, it also presents many problems that are new to the student thespians putting on the play. Their efforts to cope with these problems should provide some of the interest in the play.

Most of these problems arise out of the close contact between cast and audience. To create the desired effect everything about the play must be more exact, more authentic, whether it be costumes, props or acting.

Cast and crew are looking forward to an interesting experience and hope that a large number of parents and patrons of the school will want to share it with them.

The play will be presented October 21 and 22 at 8 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door or may be purchased from members of the cast.

Scout Paper Drive On North Side Saturday

The scouts of Arlington Heights will again pick up old papers and magazines from the curbs in the area north of Northwest highway Saturday, Oct. 15.

Bundles should be tied and on the curb by 9 a.m. Cub scouts will deliver hand bills to all houses in the area which set forth the dates for all drives during the coming year. Please keep these dates in mind.

Special handling can be arranged by calling Clearbrook 3-4224 before 9 a.m. Saturday.

Set Date For Park District Bond Election

Saturday, Oct. 29, has been set as the day Arlington Heights residents will be asked to approve a $675,000 bond issue to provide the city with adequate park facilities.

To encourage voting on this important referendum, the board, for the first time in its history, has set up 3 precincts in which voters may cast their ballots.

Those residents living north of the North Western railroad tracks and east of Dunton st. may vote in Recreation Park at the field house; residents in the area north of the North Western tracks, but west of Dunton may vote at Ridge school. Those living south of the North Western tracks will vote in the gymnasium of South school.

THE WOMAN'S club of Arlington Heights has pledged full support of the new master plan and will aid in distributing an explanatory brochure now being prepared.

"Our city is far behind in adequate parks for the children and a progressive adult program," said Mrs. Clarence A. Hendrickson, club president.

"We must be able to provide an integrated park sytem to meet the city's needs on both sides of the highway," she added.

Under the proposed master park plan, the bond issue will provide funds to complete a Community Park on an already owned 23-acre site bounded by Kennicott, Fernandez, Grove and Fairview aves.

It will boast a new swimming pool, the same size as the present pool at Recreation Park, used this year by 83,000 swimmers in addition to about 20,000 "learn to swim" class members.

It will incorporate a new field house to augment present limited facilities for both youngsters and adults as well as 4 regulation baseball fields, and a natural amphitheatre.

The progressive plan also includes improvement of 5 existing park areas to be established as neighborhood parks and provision for the purchase and improvement of 2 additional neighborhood park sites.

Arlington's park plan follows recommendation of the National Recreation association and the Chicago Regional Planning board.

Caravan Will Haul Citizens To Register

New residents of Arlington Heights were urged today to register for the forthcoming referendum on whether to retain the village manager form of government.

Voters must be registered at least 28 days before the vote, the date for which has not yet been set. The earliest the vote can be held, however, is November 17.

Gerald Chapman, chairman of Citizens for Village Manager, announced that the group will conduct a "registration caravan" October 17 and 19.

The caravan will provide transportation to the county building to anyone who wants to register.

Residents who wish to take advantage of the offer should call Mrs. H. D. Fichte, CLearbrook 3-9640 for transportation and baby sitting if needed. Residents who wish to register independently should go to room 230 in the county building.

In order to register a resident must have lived for at least 30 days at his present address. He must have lived in Cook county for at least 90 days and in Illinois for at least 1 year.

Good Will Truck

The Good Will Industries will make a pick up of old clothes and miscellaneous items in Arlington Heights October 20. Anyone desiring the truck to stop at his home for a pickup should call Clearbrook 3-7788 before that date to make arrangements.

To Head Christmas Seal Sale Drive

Mrs. John Allen, 116 W. Euclid, has again been named Christmas Seal sale chairman for Arlington Heights, it was announced today by George W. Dixon Jr., general chairman for the campaign of the Tuberculosis institute of Chicago and Cook County.

Her activities will include local promotion of the campaign to raise funds for the fight against tuberculosis.

The annual Christmas seal sale opens November 16 and runs through December 25. Although no quota has been established, institute officials are hopeful of raising in excess of $720,000 in order to meet costs of the chest X-ray, research, education and rehabilitation programs which will be conducted through the coming year. year.

Begin Sunday School Class For Retarded Children

Believed to be the first class of its type in northwest Cook county, a Sunday school group for retarded children will hold its first meeting this Sunday, October, 16, at 10:45 a.m. in the Community church of Rolling Meadows, 3201 Kirchoff rd.

It will be non-denominational and parents of retarded children are invited and urged to bring the youngsters whether they live in Rolling Meadows, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect or Palatine. There will be a broad rather than detailed teaching of religion.

VOLUNTEER instructor will be Mrs. Dove Carter, Palatine, a musical therapist who has been working with retarded children for the past 7 years. Anyone wishing further details on the school is asked to contact Mrs. Carter at Palatine 1865 or Mrs. Audrey Krause at CLearbrook 3-8425.

Urge Approval Of Second High School Nov. 5

The citizens lay advisory committee mailed yesterday a letter to all voters in the Arlington Heights high school district recommending approval at the polls Saturday, November 5, of the proposed second high school building on Foundry road.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Nicholas J. Lattof, was appointed in June 1954 by the high school board of education to study the expansion and building problem following defeat of a previous bond issue. All parts and interests of the district were represented on the 61 member committee. After months of study it issued a report a year ago recommending a 2-step program of first, an addition to the present building on Euclid st., and, second, a new building to house 2,500 students on the Foundry road site.

The Euclid st. addition, approved by the voters last February, is now under construction and will be open for school next fall. It will, however, meet the enrollment needs of the district for only 1 year.

Plans for the Foundry rd. building were announced in this newspaper last week and are presented in greater detail elsewhere in this issue.

Homecoming Parade Friday; To Crown King, Queen

Homecoming festivities at Arlington Heights high school reach their first major climax today with the crowning of the 1955 Homecoming king and queen.

Major festivities tomorrow are the parade starting at 2:30 p.m. and the Homecoming game against La Grange, the frosh-soph game starting at 6:15 and the varsity about 8 p.m. The Homecoming dance Saturday evening closes the festivities.

NOT UNTIL the actual coronation was the result of this vote made public, the counting being so arranged that only one teacher, properly sworn to secrecy, knew the result.

The queen and girls of her court will be featured in the homecoming parade, but the king and boys of the court will not, since all are members of the football team and want to enter the game at their peak physically and mentally.

Floats are being prepared by 36 groups made up by combing portions of boys' and girls' counseling classes. Actual construction of the floats has been restricted to the hours 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

Both Ridge and Walnut streets adjacent to the high school will be closed to through traffic tomorrow (Friday) between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. to provide a safe place for last-minute adjustments of floats and assembling the parade.

THE PARADE will get under way from the high school at 2:30 p.m. following the same route as that used last year, east on Euclid to Vail, south to Sigwalt, east to Evergreen, north to Wing, east to State, north to Euclid and west to the high school.

Students of the school will have no classes Friday, as the majority of the teachers will attend the Illinois Education Association meeting at Maine township high school. Some members of the faculty homecoming committee will remain at the school to supervise the parade assembly.

Winning floats and honorable mentions will be presented at the homecoming game Friday night. All others will be "knocked-down" immediately after the parade.

The music of Harve Wills and his band from Evanston will be heard at the homecoming dance.

Start Negotiations For Hospital Site

Selection Follows Intensive Search for Ideal Location

A site for the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center was selected last Friday night by the hospital's board of trustees. It was one of several plots submitted by the site committee.

The ground is centrally located and will be easily accessible from all the communities to be served by the hospital, namely, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, Prospect Heights, Wheeling, Barrington, and Rolling Meadows. Prime consideration in choosing the site was given to availability of sewer and water facilities, which are of major importance, its availability to local supply of lay and professional personnel, transportation, topography of land and soil structure.

THE TRUSTEES instructed the board chairman, Charles Walters of Palatine, to negotiate an option for the property. Announcement of the exact location will be made to the general public as soon as the transaction is completed.

Ross Garrett, one of the nation's outstanding hospital consultants, attended the board meeting. He spoke at length on modern hospital requirements in a growing suburban community. His talk to the board stressed the need for planning for the future. Garrett showed the board a projected 1970 population chart of the area to be served by the hospital, which was one of the influencing factors of the final site selection.

It appears the hospital has passed the stage of hoping and planning and it has now reached a point where real action can be started to get the hospital building program under way.

County Police Hold 3 In Model Home Burglary

Sheriff's police Saturday arrested 3 men in connection with the theft of $2,300 worth of furniture from a model home in Prospect Heights.

The furniture was taken from a home built by Glendrake Subdivision Construction co., at Drake ter. and Elmhurst rd. The company estimated total loss, including damages, at $5,000.

THE 3 BEING HELD are Charles Wulf, 59; his son, James, 26, and Samuel Puleo, 28, James' brother-in-law, all of 1832 Waukegan rd., Skokie.

Burglars last Thursday had cleaned out the 6-room model home of almost all its furnishings. They ripped up wall-to-wall carpeting in the living room-dining room, tore down draperies, removed a built-in radio, detached a medicine chest, and walked out with 3 bedroom suites, the living room and dinette furnishings and a kitchen set.

Attempts to carry out a large copper stove failed, and it was abandoned, disconnected, in the kitchen.

THE BURGLARS gained entry through the garage, backed in a trailer, and loaded up.

The 3 Skokie men were arrested and charged with possession of stolen property after a neighbor reported they were moving furniture into their home under cover of darkness.

Burglars also ransacked a moded home of Smith and Dawson, another Prospect Heights real estate developer. Their home at Sunny Acres near Northbrook had washer, dryer, refrigerator, and stove removed.

The loss was discovered Friday. County police were notified immediately.

Tag Day Tuesday To Aid Children's League

The Childrens' Benefit League will hold its annual tag day in Chicago and outlying suburbs Tuesday, October 18.

The organization is made up of 50 charities which benefit underprivileged children, and for a number of years, the Womens' association of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, has aided in the drive.

Again this year, the Womens' association will be in charge of tagging in Arlington Heights. Members of the Childrens' Benefit league and taggers receive no remuneration for services rendered.

Proceeds collected in Arlington Heights will go directly to Christopher House.

For further information call Mrs. John Heintz, Clearbrook 3-0413.

Arlington Polio Victims Recovering

Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Hahn, 728 N. Kennicott, Arlington Heights, were stricken with polio last week and are in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin.

James, 8, has bulbar polio and his brother, Nicholas, 3, has paralytic polio. Both lads have passed the crisis and are now on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Robert Kloempken, wife of Dr. Robert Kloempken, 832 N. Forrest ave., Arlington Heights, is in Evanston hospital with non-paralytic polio. She is now on the road to recovery.

The Kloempkens' son, John, 3½, who was stricken with non-paralytic polio several weeks ago, is now recovered and back at play.

Engineers Tell of Sewer, Water Needs

At a special meeting of the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night engineers gave a summary of what needed to be done in order to continue to provide this village with an adequate source of water supply and proper pumping and distribution system facilities, to meet not only the present demands but those of the immediate future.

IT WAS ESTIMATED the work needed to be done to provide adequate water and pumping facilities including the dredging of Weller Creek, would cost approximately $1,000,000.

This includes the rehabilitation of 2 of the present wells, the construction of a proposed new well, a million gallon capacity elevated storage tank, distribution mains, high service pump, central control station and other miscellaneous costs.

However, if the village oins in with the proposed water district to bring water in from Lake Michigan, the new well would not be necessary, and the total cost could be lowered $121,000.

According to the engineers if the suggested improvements are to be financed with a junior issue of like water and sewer revenue bonds to be retired serially over a maximum period of 40 years, the average annual principal and interest requirement would be approximately $45,800. If coverage is required in an amount not to exceed 33 1/3% then the surpluses of the water and sewer utility would have to be approximately $60,000 annually to satisfy any new bond requirements.

Any covenants incorporated in the original bond ordinance not already reflected in the operating and fixed charges of the joint utility and the resultant surplus would have to be satisfied.

BOARD MEMBERS will now "digest" the report and will meet later with the engineers to fully discuss the recommendations.

The board approved the employment of the village engineers to draw up plans and specifications for the dredging of Weller Creek to Mt. Prospect road, providing Mt. Prospect will go along with the project and pay its proportionate share.

The attorney will begin negotiations for special assessment proceedings to pave Grove st. from Newbury to Bristol lane. Most residents living in the area who will be included in the assessment, were against the project. The board informed them considerable money could be saved by doing the job under private contract, but they told the board they were not interested in having the street paved, period.

THE PROBLEM arose when Trendel-Lowe and Associates built 4 homes on Grove st., and put up enough money in escrow to pay for the paving of Grove in front of the homes they built. The village board, however, is insisting on a full street improvement and the balance of the paving costs will have to be borne by residents who will be receiving direct or indirect benefits as a result of the paving.

Residents affected were present at the board meeting Tuesday and protested such action. The board informed them the complete street had to be paved. They could get together and pay for it under private contract, which is considerably cheaper than a special assessment, or the village would be forced to begin special assessment proceedings.

Postal Worker Injured

Robert Proebstle, clerk at Arlington Heights post office, was seriously injured Saturday when he fell from the first floor into the basement of the new home he is building on Kensington rd.

He was taken to St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, where he was found to have broken bones in his left hand, crushed vertebrae and ribs, and a gash over his left eye, which required several stitches.

Swivel Chair Comments

Miss Edith L. Hooker, 410 W. Wing, Arlington Heights, contributed $20 to the hospital this week.

Palatine Nurses club announced that a total of 3,020 have attended "Kuarter Kaffee Klatsches" for the benefit of the hospital and to date $1,410 has been collected. The coffees are still going strong and final results may easily net the biggest contribution to date toward the proposed hospital.

A Prospect Heights business executive entertained his employees at dinner recently and forbid them to talk shop. Anyone who mentioned anything about business during the evening was fined. The fines amounted to $4, and has been turned over to the hospital fund.

Plum Grove Molding Co., Palatine, operated by Conrad Bergo, Conrad Schaeter, Dickie Sipp, Denny Wessel, Alan Weistzal and Bill Irwin, has collected $11 from sales to date, which has been turned in to the hospital fund. The company makes molds from liquid rubber, which they use to make paste figures that they paint and sell for favors.

Residents of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, passed the hat and collected $90, which is being contributed to the hospital fund.

Lay Plans For 'Tricks Or Hospital Pennies' On Halloween Night

Last week's plea from a young mother with 4 children to aid the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center at Halloween time with pennies and nickels, did not go unheeded.

Plans are being formulated to have all children from Barrington to Wheeling play "Tricks or Hospital Pennies" Halloween night and turn the "loot" over to a Jack-o-lantern Pot!

All heads of Home Owners associations, PTA groups or school organizations are invited to help in this worthwhile project. An organizational meeting will be held at the VFW hall, W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, this Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

This will be an enormous undertaking and will take the cooperation of all parents and children. To volunteer assistance interested persons should call Mrs. Edward Bublitz, CL 3-5033, Mrs. Fred Dufelmeier, CL 3-1661 or William Griffith, CL 3-5971.

'Time Out For Ginger' On Stage October 21-22

"Time Out for Ginger," fall play by students of Arlington Heights high school, will be presented "in the round."

The portable stage in the cafeteria will be moved to the middle of the girls' gym to form an arena stage, with the audience viewing the stage from all sides.

Entrances and exits will be made from the aisles used by the audience.

WHILE THE arena stage relieves crews of the chore of making backdrops and walls, it also presents many problems that are new to the student thespians putting on the play. Their efforts to cope with these problems should provide some of the interest in the play.

Most of these problems arise out of the close contact between cast and audience. To create the desired effect everything about the play must be more exact, more authentic, whether it be costumes, props or acting.

Cast and crew are looking forward to an interesting experience and hope that a large number of parents and patrons of the school will want to share it with them.

The play will be presented October 21 and 22 at 8 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door or may be purchased from members of the cast.

Scout Paper Drive On North Side Saturday

The scouts of Arlington Heights will again pick up old papers and magazines from the curbs in the area north of Northwest highway Saturday, Oct. 15.

Bundles should be tied and on the curb by 9 a.m. Cub scouts will deliver hand bills to all houses in the area which set forth the dates for all drives during the coming year. Please keep these dates in mind.

Special handling can be arranged by calling Clearbrook 3-4224 before 9 a.m. Saturday.

Set Date For Park District Bond Election

Saturday, Oct. 29, has been set as the day Arlington Heights residents will be asked to approve a $675,000 bond issue to provide the city with adequate park facilities.

To encourage voting on this important referendum, the board, for the first time in its history, has set up 3 precincts in which voters may cast their ballots.

Those residents living north of the North Western railroad tracks and east of Dunton st. may vote in Recreation Park at the field house; residents in the area north of the North Western tracks, but west of Dunton may vote at Ridge school. Those living south of the North Western tracks will vote in the gymnasium of South school.

THE WOMAN'S club of Arlington Heights has pledged full support of the new master plan and will aid in distributing an explanatory brochure now being prepared.

"Our city is far behind in adequate parks for the children and a progressive adult program," said Mrs. Clarence A. Hendrickson, club president.

"We must be able to provide an integrated park sytem to meet the city's needs on both sides of the highway," she added.

Under the proposed master park plan, the bond issue will provide funds to complete a Community Park on an already owned 23-acre site bounded by Kennicott, Fernandez, Grove and Fairview aves.

It will boast a new swimming pool, the same size as the present pool at Recreation Park, used this year by 83,000 swimmers in addition to about 20,000 "learn to swim" class members.

It will incorporate a new field house to augment present limited facilities for both youngsters and adults as well as 4 regulation baseball fields, and a natural amphitheatre.

The progressive plan also includes improvement of 5 existing park areas to be established as neighborhood parks and provision for the purchase and improvement of 2 additional neighborhood park sites.

Arlington's park plan follows recommendation of the National Recreation association and the Chicago Regional Planning board.

Caravan Will Haul Citizens To Register

New residents of Arlington Heights were urged today to register for the forthcoming referendum on whether to retain the village manager form of government.

Voters must be registered at least 28 days before the vote, the date for which has not yet been set. The earliest the vote can be held, however, is November 17.

Gerald Chapman, chairman of Citizens for Village Manager, announced that the group will conduct a "registration caravan" October 17 and 19.

The caravan will provide transportation to the county building to anyone who wants to register.

Residents who wish to take advantage of the offer should call Mrs. H. D. Fichte, CLearbrook 3-9640 for transportation and baby sitting if needed. Residents who wish to register independently should go to room 230 in the county building.

In order to register a resident must have lived for at least 30 days at his present address. He must have lived in Cook county for at least 90 days and in Illinois for at least 1 year.

Good Will Truck

The Good Will Industries will make a pick up of old clothes and miscellaneous items in Arlington Heights October 20. Anyone desiring the truck to stop at his home for a pickup should call Clearbrook 3-7788 before that date to make arrangements.

To Head Christmas Seal Sale Drive

Mrs. John Allen, 116 W. Euclid, has again been named Christmas Seal sale chairman for Arlington Heights, it was announced today by George W. Dixon Jr., general chairman for the campaign of the Tuberculosis institute of Chicago and Cook County.

Her activities will include local promotion of the campaign to raise funds for the fight against tuberculosis.

The annual Christmas seal sale opens November 16 and runs through December 25. Although no quota has been established, institute officials are hopeful of raising in excess of $720,000 in order to meet costs of the chest X-ray, research, education and rehabilitation programs which will be conducted through the coming year. year.

Begin Sunday School Class For Retarded Children

Believed to be the first class of its type in northwest Cook county, a Sunday school group for retarded children will hold its first meeting this Sunday, October, 16, at 10:45 a.m. in the Community church of Rolling Meadows, 3201 Kirchoff rd.

It will be non-denominational and parents of retarded children are invited and urged to bring the youngsters whether they live in Rolling Meadows, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect or Palatine. There will be a broad rather than detailed teaching of religion.

VOLUNTEER instructor will be Mrs. Dove Carter, Palatine, a musical therapist who has been working with retarded children for the past 7 years. Anyone wishing further details on the school is asked to contact Mrs. Carter at Palatine 1865 or Mrs. Audrey Krause at CLearbrook 3-8425.

Urge Approval Of Second High School Nov. 5

The citizens lay advisory committee mailed yesterday a letter to all voters in the Arlington Heights high school district recommending approval at the polls Saturday, November 5, of the proposed second high school building on Foundry road.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Nicholas J. Lattof, was appointed in June 1954 by the high school board of education to study the expansion and building problem following defeat of a previous bond issue. All parts and interests of the district were represented on the 61 member committee. After months of study it issued a report a year ago recommending a 2-step program of first, an addition to the present building on Euclid st., and, second, a new building to house 2,500 students on the Foundry road site.

The Euclid st. addition, approved by the voters last February, is now under construction and will be open for school next fall. It will, however, meet the enrollment needs of the district for only 1 year.

Plans for the Foundry rd. building were announced in this newspaper last week and are presented in greater detail elsewhere in this issue.

Homecoming Parade Friday; To Crown King, Queen

Homecoming festivities at Arlington Heights high school reach their first major climax today with the crowning of the 1955 Homecoming king and queen.

Major festivities tomorrow are the parade starting at 2:30 p.m. and the Homecoming game against La Grange, the frosh-soph game starting at 6:15 and the varsity about 8 p.m. The Homecoming dance Saturday evening closes the festivities.

NOT UNTIL the actual coronation was the result of this vote made public, the counting being so arranged that only one teacher, properly sworn to secrecy, knew the result.

The queen and girls of her court will be featured in the homecoming parade, but the king and boys of the court will not, since all are members of the football team and want to enter the game at their peak physically and mentally.

Floats are being prepared by 36 groups made up by combing portions of boys' and girls' counseling classes. Actual construction of the floats has been restricted to the hours 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

Both Ridge and Walnut streets adjacent to the high school will be closed to through traffic tomorrow (Friday) between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. to provide a safe place for last-minute adjustments of floats and assembling the parade.

THE PARADE will get under way from the high school at 2:30 p.m. following the same route as that used last year, east on Euclid to Vail, south to Sigwalt, east to Evergreen, north to Wing, east to State, north to Euclid and west to the high school.

Students of the school will have no classes Friday, as the majority of the teachers will attend the Illinois Education Association meeting at Maine township high school. Some members of the faculty homecoming committee will remain at the school to supervise the parade assembly.

Winning floats and honorable mentions will be presented at the homecoming game Friday night. All others will be "knocked-down" immediately after the parade.

The music of Harve Wills and his band from Evanston will be heard at the homecoming dance.

Start Negotiations For Hospital Site

Selection Follows Intensive Search for Ideal Location

A site for the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center was selected last Friday night by the hospital's board of trustees. It was one of several plots submitted by the site committee.

The ground is centrally located and will be easily accessible from all the communities to be served by the hospital, namely, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, Prospect Heights, Wheeling, Barrington, and Rolling Meadows. Prime consideration in choosing the site was given to availability of sewer and water facilities, which are of major importance, its availability to local supply of lay and professional personnel, transportation, topography of land and soil structure.

THE TRUSTEES instructed the board chairman, Charles Walters of Palatine, to negotiate an option for the property. Announcement of the exact location will be made to the general public as soon as the transaction is completed.

Ross Garrett, one of the nation's outstanding hospital consultants, attended the board meeting. He spoke at length on modern hospital requirements in a growing suburban community. His talk to the board stressed the need for planning for the future. Garrett showed the board a projected 1970 population chart of the area to be served by the hospital, which was one of the influencing factors of the final site selection.

It appears the hospital has passed the stage of hoping and planning and it has now reached a point where real action can be started to get the hospital building program under way.

County Police Hold 3 In Model Home Burglary

Sheriff's police Saturday arrested 3 men in connection with the theft of $2,300 worth of furniture from a model home in Prospect Heights.

The furniture was taken from a home built by Glendrake Subdivision Construction co., at Drake ter. and Elmhurst rd. The company estimated total loss, including damages, at $5,000.

THE 3 BEING HELD are Charles Wulf, 59; his son, James, 26, and Samuel Puleo, 28, James' brother-in-law, all of 1832 Waukegan rd., Skokie.

Burglars last Thursday had cleaned out the 6-room model home of almost all its furnishings. They ripped up wall-to-wall carpeting in the living room-dining room, tore down draperies, removed a built-in radio, detached a medicine chest, and walked out with 3 bedroom suites, the living room and dinette furnishings and a kitchen set.

Attempts to carry out a large copper stove failed, and it was abandoned, disconnected, in the kitchen.

THE BURGLARS gained entry through the garage, backed in a trailer, and loaded up.

The 3 Skokie men were arrested and charged with possession of stolen property after a neighbor reported they were moving furniture into their home under cover of darkness.

Burglars also ransacked a model home of Smith and Dawson, another Prospect Heights real estate developer. Their home at Sunny Acres near Northbrook had washer, dryer, refrigerator, and stove removed.

The loss was discovered Friday. County police were notified immediately.

Tag Day Tuesday To Aid Children's League

The Childrens' Benefit League will hold its annual tag day in Chicago and outlying suburbs Tuesday, October 18.

The organization is made up of 50 charities which benefit underprivileged children, and for a number of years, the Womens' association of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, has aided in the drive.

Again this year, the Womens' association will be in charge of tagging in Arlington Heights. Members of the Childrens' Benefit league and taggers receive no remuneration for services rendered.

Proceeds collected in Arlington Heights will go directly to Christopher House.

For further information call Mrs. John Heintz, Clearbrook 3-0413.

Arlington Polio Victims Recovering

Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Hahn, 728 N. Kennicott, Arlington Heights, were stricken with polio last week and are in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin.

James, 8, has bulbar polio and his brother, Nicholas, 3, has paralytic polio. Both lads have passed the crisis and are now on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Robert Kloempken, wife of Dr. Robert Kloempken, 832 N. Forrest ave., Arlington Heights, is in Evanston hospital with non-paralytic polio. She is now on the road to recovery.

The Kloempkens' son, John, 3½, who was stricken with non-paralytic polio several weeks ago, is now recovered and back at play.

Rev. Brown Guest Speaker At Centennial

Centennial Observance Week for the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights concludes this Sunday, with special services in the morning, at which the Rev. C. Victor Brown will preach, and with a third and final performance of a historical play, "The First One Hundred Years," which dramatizes important events in the growth of the church since its founding in the fall of 1856.

REV. BROWN, who was pastor here from March 1, 1947, to February 1, 1955, will speak on the subject, "On This Foundation," at each of 3 services Sunday morning. There will be an early service at 8 o'clock in addition to services at the regular hours of 9:30 and 11 o'clock. Reverend Brown is now pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Gary, Ind.

The historical play, presented by church and Sunday school members coached by Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson, will be given in the church auditorium at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free, but tickets are required. They may be obtained, as long as the supply lasts, at the church office.

Engineers Tell of Sewer, Water Needs

At a special meeting of the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night engineers gave a summary of what needed to be done in order to continue to provide this village with an adequate source of water supply and proper pumping and distribution system facilities, to meet not only the present demands but those of the immediate future.

IT WAS ESTIMATED the work needed to be done to provide adequate water and pumping facilities including the dredging of Weller Creek, would cost approximately $1,000,000.

This includes the rehabilitation of 2 of the present wells, the construction of a proposed new well, a million gallon capacity elevated storage tank, distribution mains, high service pump, central control station and other miscellaneous costs.

However, if the village oins in with the proposed water district to bring water in from Lake Michigan, the new well would not be necessary, and the total cost could be lowered $121,000.

According to the engineers if the suggested improvements are to be financed with a junior issue of like water and sewer revenue bonds to be retired serially over a maximum period of 40 years, the average annual principal and interest requirement would be approximately $45,800. If coverage is required in an amount not to exceed 33 1/3% then the surpluses of the water and sewer utility would have to be approximately $60,000 annually to satisfy any new bond requirements.

Any covenants incorporated in the original bond ordinance not already reflected in the operating and fixed charges of the joint utility and the resultant surplus would have to be satisfied.

BOARD MEMBERS will now "digest" the report and will meet later with the engineers to fully discuss the recommendations.

The board approved the employment of the village engineers to draw up plans and specifications for the dredging of Weller Creek to Mt. Prospect road, providing Mt. Prospect will go along with the project and pay its proportionate share.

The attorney will begin negotiations for special assessment proceedings to pave Grove st. from Newbury to Bristol lane. Most residents living in the area who will be included in the assessment, were against the project. The board informed them considerable money could be saved by doing the job under private contract, but they told the board they were not interested in having the street paved, period.

THE PROBLEM arose when Trendel-Lowe and Associates built 4 homes on Grove st., and put up enough money in escrow to pay for the paving of Grove in front of the homes they built. The village board, however, is insisting on a full street improvement and the balance of the paving costs will have to be borne by residents who will be receiving direct or indirect benefits as a result of the paving.

Residents affected were present at the board meeting Tuesday and protested such action. The board informed them the complete street had to be paved. They could get together and pay for it under private contract, which is considerably cheaper than a special assessment, or the village would be forced to begin special assessment proceedings.

Postal Worker Injured

Robert Proebstle, clerk at Arlington Heights post office, was seriously injured Saturday when he fell from the first floor into the basement of the new home he is building on Kensington rd.

He was taken to St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, where he was found to have broken bones in his left hand, crushed vertebrae and ribs, and a gash over his left eye, which required several stitches.

Eastwood Events

Association Meeting

Last week, Tuesday, the regular meeting of the Eastwood association took place at the field house with Mr. J. Brown Hardison, writer and publisher, giving his impressions of the atomic bomb explosions he witnessed on Yucca Flats. Planning programs for a group such as this is not an easy task and lack of attendance at the meetings is most discouraging to those who try to make the meetings interesting. Why don't you plan now to attend the November meeting which will be held November 1. Bulletins will be distributed as to the program for the night. Thanks to Bea Wallace for serving refreshments at the last meeting. Hostesses are needed each month and those who care to help out in this way can contact your correspondent.

Moved

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dallstream moved from their home at 302 N. Brighton last Tuesday to take up residence in Gages Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Petersen have moved from their home on Lincoln lane, but expect to be Eastwood residents again come next spring when their new home located at St. James and Beverly will be completed.

Jean Scott and Judy Babs left Monday with the senior class from St. Pat academy, Des Plaines, on a guided tour to Washington D. C. The girls will spend 4 days seeing the sights in and around the Capitol, and will return home Saturday.

Sandra Lindahl, 207 N. Beverly, was surprised last Saturday evening when her high school friends had a sweet 16 party in her honor at the home of Joanne Merz.

Mrs. Alma Schneider, mother of Mrs. Joseph Orgler, was feted at a family birthday celebration Wednesday in the Orgler home, N. Beverly.

Seems the chain of Kaffee Klatsch parties is gradually starting in Eastwood. Many women are in the process of organizing their groups so in a few weeks it should be in full swing. Of course you all know this is a project of the Palatine Nurses club with the proceeds going to the proposed community hospital. Mrs. Lillian Bryan entertained a group of ladies last Thursday evening. Her guests were Miss Nancy Ford, Mrs. Florence Johnson, Mrs. Mildred Conger, Mrs. Fea Jahns and Mrs. Florence Elfeld.

Hay Ride

John and Virginia Luke, Loretta and David Young and John and Elsie Kelly were among the group of couples from the Methodist church Young Peoples club yho went on a hay ride party Saturday night. After an hour and a half ride the party took over the Northshore ranch for refreshments and square dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Savage of Newton, Iowa, were in Chicago attending a telephone convention this past week and were weekend guests of his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Savage of N. Beverly.

Your contributions to this column are most welcome.

From the Police Blotter . . .

Vandals apparently didn't do a complete job at the Hill-Behan Lumbre Co., Arlington Heights, the previous week, and returned to the company the past weekend and smashed another truck windshield and punctured the gas tank. This was one of the trucks that wasn't damaged during the first spree of vandalism.

Two 12-year-old boys were picked up for shooting air rifles at cars. They were using heavy hair pins for ammunition. They were warned by the police of the danger of such action and then sent home .

A resident in the 800 block on N. Belmont reported to police someone had put tacks in front of his automobile tires while his auto was parked in front of his home.

Police received a report that boys were throwing rocks across the railroad tracks and hitting cars parked at a gas station at 1020 W. Northwest hwy. They were unable to apprehend the boys.

Chicago and North Western railroad reported one of its trains was stoned while traveling just west of Arlington Heights. Four windows were broken.

More vandalism to new homes was reported this week. Someone pushed over 4 tiers of a Roman brick wall, 14 feet long, at 309 S. Stratford. It is estimated that $50 worth of block was damaged.

High School Mailing First Quarter Failure Notices To Parents

Mid-quarter failure notices and notices of unsatisfactory progress will be mailed to parents by Arlington Heights high school this week.

These notices are sent out with the hope that they will call the attention of both student and parent to the unsatisfactory work and cut down on failures at the end of grade periods and semesters.

Parents who receive such notices are urged to call the school to make appointments with teachers to discuss the work done and steps needed to bring the work up to passing quality.

Copies of all failure notices are also sent to the school's counselors, who will attempt to discuss each student's problems with him.

Eastwood Events

Association Meeting

Last week, Tuesday, the regular meeting of the Eastwood association took place at the field house with Mr. J. Brown Hardison, writer and publisher, giving his impressions of the atomic bomb explosions he witnessed on Yucca Flats. Planning programs for a group such as this is not an easy task and lack of attendance at the meetings is most discouraging to those who try to make the meetings interesting. Why don't you plan now to attend the November meeting which will be held November 1. Bulletins will be distributed as to the program for the night. Thanks to Bea Wallace for serving refreshments at the last meeting. Hostesses are needed each month and those who care to help out in this way can contact your correspondent.

Moved

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dallstream moved from their home at 302 N. Brighton last Tuesday to take up residence in Gages Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Petersen have moved from their home on Lincoln lane, but expect to be Eastwood residents again come next spring when their new home located at St. James and Beverly will be completed.

Jean Scott and Judy Babs left Monday with the senior class from St. Pat academy, Des Plaines, on a guided tour to Washington D. C. The girls will spend 4 days seeing the sights in and around the Capitol, and will return home Saturday.

Sandra Lindahl, 207 N. Beverly, was surprised last Saturday evening when her high school friends had a sweet 16 party in her honor at the home of Joanne Merz.

Mrs. Alma Schneider, mother of Mrs. Joseph Orgler, was feted at a family birthday celebration Wednesday in the Orgler home, N. Beverly.

Seems the chain of Kaffee Klatsch parties is gradually starting in Eastwood. Many women are in the process of organizing their groups so in a few weeks it should be in full swing. Of course you all know this is a project of the Palatine Nurses club with the proceeds going to the proposed community hospital. Mrs. Lillian Bryan entertained a group of ladies last Thursday evening. Her guests were Miss Nancy Ford, Mrs. Florence Johnson, Mrs. Mildred Conger, Mrs. Fea Jahns and Mrs. Florence Elfeld.

Hay Ride

John and Virginia Luke, Loretta and David Young and John and Elsie Kelly were among the group of couples from the Methodist church Young Peoples club yho went on a hay ride party Saturday night. After an hour and a half ride the party took over the Northshore ranch for refreshments and square dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Savage of Newton, Iowa, were in Chicago attending a telephone convention this past week and were weekend guests of his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Savage of N. Beverly.

Your contributions to this column are most welcome.

From the Police Blotter . . .

Vandals apparently didn't do a complete job at the Hill-Behan Lumbre Co., Arlington Heights, the previous week, and returned to the company the past weekend and smashed another truck windshield and punctured the gas tank. This was one of the trucks that wasn't damaged during the first spree of vandalism.

Two 12-year-old boys were picked up for shooting air rifles at cars. They were using heavy hair pins for ammunition. They were warned by the police of the danger of such action and then sent home.

A resident in the 800 block on N. Belmont reported to police someone had put tacks in front of his automobile tires while his auto was parked in front of his home.

Police received a report that boys were throwing rocks across the railroad tracks and hitting cars parked at a gas station at 1020 W. Northwest hwy. They were unable to apprehend the boys.

Chicago and North Western railroad reported one of its trains was stoned while traveling just west of Arlington Heights. Four windows were broken.

More vandalism to new homes was reported this week. Someone pushed over 4 tiers of a Roman brick wall, 14 feet long, at 309 S. Stratford. It is estimated that $50 worth of block was damaged.

High School Mailing First Quarter Failure Notices To Parents

Mid-quarter failure notices and notices of unsatisfactory progress will be mailed to parents by Arlington Heights high school this week.

These notices are sent out with the hope that they will call the attention of both student and parent to the unsatisfactory work and cut down on failures at the end of grade periods and semesters.

Parents who receive such notices are urged to call the school to make appointments with teachers to discuss the work done and steps needed to bring the work up to passing quality.

Copies of all failure notices are also sent to the school's counselors, who will attempt to discuss each student's problems with him.

Explain Floor Plan Of Proposed High School

Drawings showing the overall layout and floor plans of the proposed second high school in the Arlington Heights district, to be built on Foundry rd., will be found on the picture page. The project, announced in this newspaper last week, will be voted upon Saturday, November 5. It will be the second step in the building program to meet the rapidly expanding enrollment which has already resulted in double shifts in the present building on Euclid st.

THE MAIN feature of the plan, and occupying approximately half of the overall 250,000 square feet, will be the 3-story academic wing. As shown on the plans of the individual floors, it will contain most of the total of 75 classrooms, office space on the first floor, and the library on the second floor. All classrooms will have outside light. Open-end corridors make possible future expansion if that should be desired.

A curved corridor connects the academic wing with the shop-physical education wing and serves a group of activities which are most efficiently constructed in 1-story and with separate service access to the rear. These include the heating plant, cafeteria to seat 800, and a multi-purpose room for audio-visual work in a variety of subjects, speech and dramatic classes and lectures for groups too large for single classrooms. To the rear of the multi-purpose room is the music department.

In the center of the overall drawing, facing north toward Foundry rd., are the shops. Five are planned for the school of 2,500 students, but, as in the case of the academic wing, the layout lends itself for expansion to the east if that should be desired. To the rear of the shops are the girls' physical education area, lockers, and boys' physical education. The last is designed in the form of a field house. Lower construction costs of rough walls and unfinished floors will make possible enough space for indoor track activities not now provided for at Euclid st. without hampering in any way the regular physical education and intramural sports program. A portable floor can be provided for basketball.

AS ANNOUNCED last week, the plan calls for construction to start next spring with facilities completed for the freshman class in the fall of 1957. During the year construction of additional classrooms would continue to complete the project for 2,500 students in September 1958. The bond issue vote will call for the entire cost of construction, site development and equipment of $3,500,000, but the sale of bonds would be spread over the 2-stage construction period. An estimated $150,000 would be saved as compared with the same program in 2 separate bond issues.

Present plans call for the use of the new building as a freshman-sophomore school with juniors and seniors attending Euclid st. as recommended by the citizens lay advisory committee. This plan has the advantages of flexibility in the face of changing population distribution, certain economics of equipment, and the retention of the high school as a single entity for athletic and other purposes. The building, however, will be completely adaptable as a 4-year high school with only changes in equipment should that be desired later.

Even with allowances in the budget for rising construction costs, the total estimated construction cost is $12.50 per square foot compared to an average recent cost of nearby high schools of $14 to $16. The size of the completed building will be almost identical with that of Euclid st. for the same estimated student capacity.

Words & Music

By Erica Floyd

By John Schaff

Vienna Academy chorus, a group of 12 young men and 12 young women singers, got the community concert series off to a flying start for the opening concert of the season Sunday night in the boys' gymnasium of the high school.

While not possessing the power of 1 of our own famous chorales, the Austrian group nevertheless takes a back seat to no one in matters of pitch, balance, dynamics and diction. Wisely, they retained the original language in performance of their scores; there never yet has been a translation of Bach, Schubert or Strauss that fits either the musical line or the interpretation of the composer.

The group is on a rather short visit to this country, having been here but 2 weeks, and returning home December 14 in time for Christmas. They were honored by the attendance of Karl Wolf, consul attache of the Austrian consulate general's office of New York.

Their opening group of sacred music rose to a pinnacle of performance when they reached the Lobet den Herrn, from the great Bach motet. Here was what every organist yearns to do with a Bach score, in bringing out the counterpoint above the supporting voices of the score. By having superb balance and training, this chorus displayed an artistry that certainly would make the Salzburg festival ring with cheers. There was plenty of appreciation in the local audience as evidenced by the warm applause extended the visiting singers.

Included in the sacred group was a charming collection of Christmas songs; truly a pearl from the snow clad Alps was the Tyrol folksong "Es hat sich halt eroffnet."

While the chorus was offstage for a costume change, 5 young men of the group made up a small dance ensemble of instruments to play a group of vocal and dancing songs, for which old Vienna is justly famous. The chorus returned in peasant costume to present a group of folk and yodeling songs.

The latter part of the program was Vienna in all its musical glory. Beginning with a selection of some of the finest waltz songs ever set to music—the Liebeslieder Waltzes of Johannes Brahms, and using the original four-hand accompaniment, the group progressed to Schubert and Strauss to the increasing delight of their audience. The women's section of this ensemble was incomparable, "out of this world" is the common expression. The full chorus gave a "lift" to the great Strauss waltzes that only a native could hope to accomplish. The accompanists by and large did a most understanding job, but need to develop a greater respect for a big Baldwin with the top half up.

The big hall with its colorful stage curtains and wide foyer made an ideal setting for a concert evening. The acoustics are good, the accomodations ample, and by bearing with a few noisy ventilators many of us hope that the concert series will remain in its new location for seasons to come. Here was a concert that every elementary and high school choral student should have heard; it was an inspiration for a lifetime of choral singing.

THE MAIN feature of the plan, and occupying approximately half of the overall 250,000 square feet, will be the 3-story academic wing. As shown on the plans of the individual floors, it will contain most of the total of 75 classrooms, office space on the first floor, and the library on the second floor. All classrooms will have outside light. Open-end corridors make possible future expansion if that should be desired.

A curved corridor connects the academic wing with the shop-physical education wing and serves a group of activities which are most efficiently constructed in 1-story and with separate service access to the rear. These include the heating plant, cafeteria to seat 800, and a multi-purpose room for audio-visual work in a variety of subjects, speech and dramatic classes and lectures for groups too large for single classrooms. To the rear of the multi-purpose room is the music department.

In the center of the overall drawing, facing north toward Foundry rd., are the shops. Five are planned for the school of 2,500 students, but, as in the case of the academic wing, the layout lends itself for expansion to the east if that should be desired. To the rear of the shops are the girls' physical education area, lockers, and boys' physical education. The last is designed in the form of a field house. Lower construction costs of rough walls and unfinished floors will make possible enough space for indoor track activities not now provided for at Euclid st. without hampering in any way the regular physical education and intramural sports program. A portable floor can be provided for basketball.

AS ANNOUNCED last week, the plan calls for construction to start next spring with facilities completed for the freshman class in the fall of 1957. During the year construction of additional classrooms would continue to complete the project for 2,500 students in September 1958. The bond issue vote will call for the entire cost of construction, site development and equipment of $3,500,000, but the sale of bonds would be spread over the 2-stage construction period. An estimated $150,000 would be saved as compared with the same program in 2 separate bond issues.

Present plans call for the use of the new building as a freshman-sophomore school with juniors and seniors attending Euclid st. as recommended by the citizens lay advisory committee. This plan has the advantages of flexibility in the face of changing population distribution, certain economics of equipment, and the retention of the high school as a single entity for athletic and other purposes. The building, however, will be completely adaptable as a 4-year high school with only changes in equipment should that be desired later.

Even with allowances in the budget for rising construction costs, the total estimated construction cost is $12.50 per square foot compared to an average recent cost of nearby high schools of $14 to $16. The size of the completed building will be almost identical with that of Euclid st. for the same estimated student capacity.

Words & Music

By Erica Floyd

By John Schaff

Vienna Academy chorus, a group of 12 young men and 12 young women singers, got the community concert series off to a flying start for the opening concert of the season Sunday night in the boys' gymnasium of the high school.

While not possessing the power of 1 of our own famous chorales, the Austrian group nevertheless takes a back seat to no one in matters of pitch, balance, dynamics and diction. Wisely, they retained the original language in performance of their scores; there never yet has been a translation of Bach, Schubert or Strauss that fits either the musical line or the interpretation of the composer.

The group is on a rather short visit to this country, having been here but 2 weeks, and returning home December 14 in time for Christmas. They were honored by the attendance of Karl Wolf, consul attache of the Austrian consulate general's office of New York.

Their opening group of sacred music rose to a pinnacle of performance when they reached the Lobet den Herrn, from the great Bach motet. Here was what every organist yearns to do with a Bach score, in bringing out the counterpoint above the supporting voices of the score. By having superb balance and training, this chorus displayed an artistry that certainly would make the Salzburg festival ring with cheers. There was plenty of appreciation in the local audience as evidenced by the warm applause extended the visiting singers.

Included in the sacred group was a charming collection of Christmas songs; truly a pearl from the snow clad Alps was the Tyrol folksong "Es hat sich halt eroffnet."

While the chorus was offstage for a costume change, 5 young men of the group made up a small dance ensemble of instruments to play a group of vocal and dancing songs, for which old Vienna is justly famous. The chorus returned in peasant costume to present a group of folk and yodeling songs.

The latter part of the program was Vienna in all its musical glory. Beginning with a selection of some of the finest waltz songs ever set to music—the Liebeslieder Waltzes of Johannes Brahms, and using the original four-hand accompaniment, the group progressed to Schubert and Strauss to the increasing delight of their audience. The women's section of this ensemble was incomparable, "out of this world" is the common expression. The full chorus gave a "lift" to the great Strauss waltzes that only a native could hope to accomplish. The accompanists by and large did a most understanding job, but need to develop a greater respect for a big Baldwin with the top half up.

The big hall with its colorful stage curtains and wide foyer made an ideal setting for a concert evening. The acoustics are good, the accomodations ample, and by bearing with a few noisy ventilators many of us hope that the concert series will remain in its new location for seasons to come. Here was a concert that every elementary and high school choral student should have heard; it was an inspiration for a lifetime of choral singing.

State's Attorney Wages War on All Unpaid Taxes Here

State's Attorney John Gutknecht in a meeting Friday with the county board tax committee asked for the same power that the board has to bid the unpaid taxes due on a piece of property instead of cash.

Gutknecht is hoping in this way to force payment on delinquent taxes on real property.

Speaking on the foreclosure picture the States' Attorney said he was determined to get taxes out of 3 delinquent tax sources. Old foreclosed property on which taxes haven't been paid for 3 or 4 decades, property on which taxes due are greater than its value, and property on which the delinquency is so great that the owners won't pay unless given some alternative.

GUTKNECHT wants the board to back him up if the state's attorney's office bids the full amount of the tax lien, enabling him to pick up the title in 2 years, and later resell it with a clean title, if the deed holder doesn't pay the taxes in the meantime.

Formerly, the county would appoint a receiver to take all the income on the property in an attempt to pay off the taxes. This plan proved unsuccessful, however, as it only paid off current taxes and not those in arrears.

Gutknecht said he "wants the people to know that we mean business."

HE ALSO told the board that he was going to fight tax exemption cases. "I am going to demand that it be determined what is tax exempt."

Citing examples of "tax exemption." Gutknecht said the Chicago Historical Society, marked tax exempt 50 years ago, has in some of its other property rented out space to different organizations without paying taxes on the rent. He said he was also going to look into American Legion posts.

Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke said the board "is going to give the states' attorney every cooperation. We've got a job to do, and we're going to do it."

St. James Mothers Club Meets Thursday

Mothers of seventh grade pupils will be hostesses and in charge of refreshments for the evening.

Announce Registration Details For 'University Of Life' Program

Registration details for the second annual University of Life program at the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights have just been announced by Whitney Jansen, general chairman for the adult study program.

He explained that those interested in participating in the University of Life may register following church services Sunday and also Sunday, 23. Registrations may also be made at the church offices any time during the coming week or at the time of the first meeting of each of the classes. A fee will be charged at the time of registration, Jansen said.

Each person registering for the program is expected to select one interest group and continue with that section throughout the 4 Sunday evening sessions. The four courses of study being offered this year are Protestant Church History, led by the Rev. Paul L. Stumpf, minister of the Arlington Presbyterian Church; Bible Times — Aids to New Testament Study, led by Thomas T. Chapin, McCormick Theological seminary; Developing a Philosophy of Life, led by Donald W. Deane, minister and graduate student at the Divinity School of the University of Chicago and New Testament Study — A Letter to the Ephesians, led by Dr. Vartan D. Melconian, director of field work and associate professor of practical theology at McCormick Theological seminary.

Jansen said that each week's program will begin promptly at 7:45 p.m. and run until 9:15 p.m. with refreshments being served following the study sessions.

The University of Life will begin Sunday evening, Oct. 23 and continue through November 13.

This Week with PTA

PTA Poorer but Richer

It was a costly week for the PTA treasury, which cheerfully yielded $60 in prizes as membership drive ended. Nine rooms reported a whopping 100 per cent parent enrollment, and 3 rooms were tied with a 97 per cent representation.

Last Friday, when the drive ended, 2872 memberships had been received, reports Mrs. Tadd Wake, membership chairman. This figure, nearly 500 more than the total at the end of last year's drive, is a tribute to the hard work and enthusiasm of Mrs. Wake and her school membership chairmen, Mrs. George Poole of junior high, Mrs. William Ferry of Dryden, Mrs. Arthur Leu of Ridge, Mrs. Herman Raasch of North and Mrs. Weir Swanson of South.

If additional memberships come in at the same rate as last year, when nearly 200 names were added to the list, Arlington Heights PTA might well number more than 3,000 by the end of this school year.

Parents, Here's Your Chance

Judging from the response to membership drive, teachers are anticipating overflow crowds at the elementary schools Tuesday evening, when parents will be given an opportunity to see and hear of the work their children are doing.

Visits to the classrooms, where teachers will be happy to clarify some of the puzzling reports parents are likely to have received ("My teacher says I have to bring a tiger tomorrow"), will be followed by a social get-together over coffee and cake.

Stay as Mean as You Are

Speaking October 4 to about 140 parents of pre-school children, Mrs. Pauline Hartrich, formerly of the Association for Family Living, counseled her listeners against using the hairbrush as the standard form of punishment, but warned against any drastic or sudden changes in methods of discipline.

Children need to know what to count on, she explained, and having their parents change overnight into entirely different people will only make them suspicious and confused. A gradual shift is better, said Mrs. Hartrich, who did not rule out spanking entirely, but suggested it be used sparingly and with good reason.

The problems that confront parents with more than 1 child received considerable attention from Mrs. Hartrich, who reassured her audience on the subject of jealousy and fighting among children. She suggested that busy mothers and fathers take a little time, even if only five minutes a day, alone with each child, so that he may feel he has a special place in their affections.

After Mrs. Hartrich finished speaking, her responsive audience plied her with questions, to which her answers were helpful and realistic. Among the films and books on the pre-school age which she recommended were "The Fascinating Fives" and "The Frustrating Fours," 2 films which will be shown at the next pre-school study group meeting at Dryden school, December 6.

Warming Pipes for Winter

Forty sets of vocal chords were loosened up last Thursday when members of the new Mother-Teacher Singers met for the first time. The enthusiasm and ability displayed at this meeting augurs well for the success of the group, and their first public appearance is eagerly anticipated.

It was decided that rehearsals would be held at 8:15 p.m. every other Monday, beginning October 17. Miss Vivian Erwin, who will direct the group, said that if a sufficient number wished to meet every week, she would arrange her schedule to make this possible.

Any teacher or mother who would like to join this singing group will be welcomed at the next meeting, which will be held in the Junior high school cafeteria. Are Your Bundles Ready? 10 x ital

Are your Bundles Ready?

Next Thursday and Friday, October 20 and 21, are days when clothing will be received at the separate schools and collected for distribution to needy families. Sponsored by the Save the Children federation, this annual collection has in the past been highly successful in providing badly needed garments for the destitute of our own country, as well as foreign areas.

Bundle days were held last year in both spring and fall, and each time brought in about 3000 pounds of wearable clothing. It is hoped that parents will respond as generously this year.

"Harvey" to Be Presented Nov. 4-5

Under the sponsorship of the PTA, the Village Theatre will present the funny and wistful story of "Harvey," the invisible 6-foot rabbit, Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5.

Tickets are now in the hands of the room mothers, who are calling the parents and taking orders. Village Theatre performances of the past have been so popular that it is advisable to purchase tickets early to be sure of not missing this famous comedy.

Correction

Because of an error in newspaper make-up, the name of Mrs. William Doten of Ridge school was omitted from the list of artists who are serving on the new poster committee this year. The services of this badly-needed committee (headed by Mrs. Frederic Suhr) will prove of great value, especially to the ways and means committee in publicizing its various projects.

Gutknecht is hoping in this way to force payment on delinquent taxes on real property.

Speaking on the foreclosure picture the States' Attorney said he was determined to get taxes out of 3 delinquent tax sources. Old foreclosed property on which taxes haven't been paid for 3 or 4 decades, property on which taxes due are greater than its value, and property on which the delinquency is so great that the owners won't pay unless given some alternative.

GUTKNECHT wants the board to back him up if the state's attorney's office bids the full amount of the tax lien, enabling him to pick up the title in 2 years, and later resell it with a clean title, if the deed holder doesn't pay the taxes in the meantime.

Formerly, the county would appoint a receiver to take all the income on the property in an attempt to pay off the taxes. This plan proved unsuccessful, however, as it only paid off current taxes and not those in arrears.

Gutknecht said he "wants the people to know that we mean business."

HE ALSO told the board that he was going to fight tax exemption cases. "I am going to demand that it be determined what is tax exempt."

Citing examples of "tax exemption." Gutknecht said the Chicago Historical Society, marked tax exempt 50 years ago, has in some of its other property rented out space to different organizations without paying taxes on the rent. He said he was also going to look into American Legion posts.

Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke said the board "is going to give the states' attorney every cooperation. We've got a job to do, and we're going to do it."

This Week with PTA

PTA Poorer but Richer

It was a costly week for the PTA treasury, which cheerfully yielded $60 in prizes as membership drive ended. Nine rooms reported a whopping 100 per cent parent enrollment, and 3 rooms were tied with a 97 per cent representation.

Last Friday, when the drive ended, 2872 memberships had been received, reports Mrs. Tadd Wake, membership chairman. This figure, nearly 500 more than the total at the end of last year's drive, is a tribute to the hard work and enthusiasm of Mrs. Wake and her school membership chairmen, Mrs. George Poole of junior high, Mrs. William Ferry of Dryden, Mrs. Arthur Leu of Ridge, Mrs. Herman Raasch of North and Mrs. Weir Swanson of South.

If additional memberships come in at the same rate as last year, when nearly 200 names were added to the list, Arlington Heights PTA might well number more than 3,000 by the end of this school year.

Parents, Here's Your Chance

Judging from the response to membership drive, teachers are anticipating overflow crowds at the elementary schools Tuesday evening, when parents will be given an opportunity to see and hear of the work their children are doing.

Visits to the classrooms, where teachers will be happy to clarify some of the puzzling reports parents are likely to have received ("My teacher says I have to bring a tiger tomorrow"), will be followed by a social get-together over coffee and cake.

Stay as Mean as You Are

Speaking October 4 to about 140 parents of pre-school children, Mrs. Pauline Hartrich, formerly of the Association for Family Living, counseled her listeners against using the hairbrush as the standard form of punishment, but warned against any drastic or sudden changes in methods of discipline.

Children need to know what to count on, she explained, and having their parents change overnight into entirely different people will only make them suspicious and confused. A gradual shift is better, said Mrs. Hartrich, who did not rule out spanking entirely, but suggested it be used sparingly and with good reason.

The problems that confront parents with more than 1 child received considerable attention from Mrs. Hartrich, who reassured her audience on the subject of jealousy and fighting among children. She suggested that busy mothers and fathers take a little time, even if only five minutes a day, alone with each child, so that he may feel he has a special place in their affections.

After Mrs. Hartrich finished speaking, her responsive audience plied her with questions, to which her answers were helpful and realistic. Among the films and books on the pre-school age which she recommended were "The Fascinating Fives" and "The Frustrating Fours," 2 films which will be shown at the next pre-school study group meeting at Dryden school, December 6.

Warming Pipes for Winter

Forty sets of vocal chords were loosened up last Thursday when members of the new Mother-Teacher Singers met for the first time. The enthusiasm and ability displayed at this meeting augurs well for the success of the group, and their first public appearance is eagerly anticipated.

It was decided that rehearsals would be held at 8:15 p.m. every other Monday, beginning October 17. Miss Vivian Erwin, who will direct the group, said that if a sufficient number wished to meet every week, she would arrange her schedule to make this possible.

Any teacher or mother who would like to join this singing group will be welcomed at the next meeting, which will be held in the Junior high school cafeteria. Are Your Bundles Ready? 10 x ital

Are your Bundles Ready?

Next Thursday and Friday, October 20 and 21, are days when clothing will be received at the separate schools and collected for distribution to needy families. Sponsored by the Save the Children federation, this annual collection has in the past been highly successful in providing badly needed garments for the destitute of our own country, as well as foreign areas.

Bundle days were held last year in both spring and fall, and each time brought in about 3000 pounds of wearable clothing. It is hoped that parents will respond as generously this year.

"Harvey" to Be Presented Nov. 4-5

Under the sponsorship of the PTA, the Village Theatre will present the funny and wistful story of "Harvey," the invisible 6-foot rabbit, Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5.

Tickets are now in the hands of the room mothers, who are calling the parents and taking orders. Village Theatre performances of the past have been so popular that it is advisable to purchase tickets early to be sure of not missing this famous comedy.

Correction

Because of an error in newspaper make-up, the name of Mrs. William Doten of Ridge school was omitted from the list of artists who are serving on the new poster committee this year. The services of this badly-needed committee (headed by Mrs. Frederic Suhr) will prove of great value, especially to the ways and means committee in publicizing its various projects.

EYE-WITNESS REPORT

Zionist Politics Complicates Solution to Palestine Crisis

(This is the last in a series of eye-witness reports by Rev. Dahl on his recent trip to the Near East.)

by BIRGER DAHL

A good friend of mine living in Israel believes that Palestine belongs to the Jews by authority of the Bible. He also believes that Zionism is the fulfillment of prophesy.

It is not difficult to understand how a paragraph student of the Scriptures could arrive at such conclusions. There are verses that seem to indicate the Jews' return to the Holy Land is God's will.

Genesis 17:8 tells of the promise that God will give Canaan for an everlasting possession to Abraham and his seed. Jews and Arabs are of the seed of Abraham.

But here is the slight distinction: Ishmael is the first son of Abraham from his Egyptian wife Hagar; Isaac, the second son from his first wife Sarah. The Arabs are descendants of Ishmael. But the inheritance of the land was promised to Sarah's son instead.

FOR CENTURIES, half-brothers have been living together and solving their problems. The Bible is not interested in proving whose land it is. It can be the homeland for both the sons of Ishmael and Isaac.

Is Zionism the fulfillment of Prophesy? Not according to Jeremiah 29:5-7:

"Build ye houses and dwell in them and plant gardens and eat the fruit thereof; take wives and beget sons and daughters . . . And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused ye to be carried away captives and pray unto the Lord for that city, for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace."

ZIONISM DOES not identify itself as a religious movement. Its fulfillment is to set up a political state and establish its own economy.

The Bible does not reveal that the Jews should set up a temporal kingdom—the Bible is concerned with a spiritual kingdom, not a political state. Let him who speaks of fulfillment of prophesy remember Jeremiah 22:13: "Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness"; and Micah 3-10: "They build up Zion with blood."

The Jerusalem Post has suggested to the Arabs:

(1) "Refugees must return to a useful life." Their answer is, "We will." The refugees are determined to continue useful lives back home.

(2) "Arab refugees would neither fit in nor want to return to a Jewish state." Refugees say they will determine that question.

(3) "The real problem is resettlement." Their answer: "True, back home."

(4) "UNWRA's charity nearly equals their former standard . . ." Arabs say,, let the facts speak for themselves.

Some justify the Zionism movement on the grounds that the Arabs have been lax in developing their country, and Israel has been very progressive. The Arabs says that we, too, could have made greater progress if we had millions of United States dollars that Israel has received.

Let's remember that Zionism and Judaism are 2 distinct terms. Many Jews, including some of its world leaders, are more strongly opposed to Zionism than any Gentile could be.

Is is the business of Jew and Gentile to be concerned about the sacredness of life and seek the truth to preserve it.

The Palestine problem is our problem. We must give ourselves to the principles of justice and righteousness. This is the only way to peace and good will in the world.

Crystal Lake Man, 47, Killed In Auto Wreck At Rte. 62, Sutton Rd.

A 47-year-old Crystal Lake business executive was killed Sunday when his car skidded off Algonquin rd. near Sutton rd., southwest of Barrington, and rolled over 6 times.

Dead is George A. Van Valkenbergh, 38 S. Williams st., superintendent of the Pure Oil co. research and development laboratories.

State police said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his auto, allowing it to drift into the other lane. Skid marks began there and continued on the highway for 200 ft., continuing for another 200 ft. in the field.

The wreckage was discovered by a passing truck driver who saw the car's headlights still burning in the field. Van Valkenberg's body was 68 ft. from the car.

Answer To Death Road Crisis Up To Stratton

by CHARLES HAYES

If Cook county's highway death trap—Rand rd.—is to be reformed, Gov. Stratton and his state highway department will have to do it.

That was the declaration made Monday by William J. Mortimer, superintendent of Cook county highway department. He said he was unable to do anything about speeding on U. S. 12, which now has an accident rate 8 times greater than other Illinois rural primary highways.

"I can do nothing," he declared. "I have no control whatsoever over speeds on the state highway."

MORTIMER made the announcement in reply to a letter from Cook county sheriff Joseph D. Lohman, who cited the "urgent" need for regulating speed on the road.

Lohman has recommended a 45 mph limit for Rand rd.

"While I am fully aware of the technical legal difficulties of enforcement," he told Mortimer, "I do believe the urgency of the situation would justify such a posting."

Although the state is the only authority that can impose an enforceable limit, Lohman had hoped the "mere presence" of the signs might act as a temporary deterrent.

SPOKESMEN for the state have said frankly that they think a 45 mph limit is unworkable for Rand because there is no one to enforce it.

Lohman retorted that was "nonsense" and has promised that sheriff's police would assume a "substantial share of the responsibility" for enforcing speed limits.

An accident Sunday at Rand northwest of county line prompted a resident at Plum Grove and Rand rds. to demand action be taken to stop speeding.

She told Paddock Publications that autos travel at 60 and 70 mph over the brow of a hill near Ethel and Elsie's restaurant. If traffic on the southeast side is tied up, cars are unable to stop.

"Last year my car was damaged $300 by such a collision," she explained.

SEVERAL autos were wrecked and 3 children taken to the hospital in an ambulance as the result of a crash Sunday at 6:30 p.m. A speeding car was unable to avoid 3 cars stopped on the roadway for a fourth car to pull in a driveway. Another auto came over the hill and, seeing the tie-up, was forced because of speed to run off the highway, finally stopping atop a hill at the side of the road.

"Every weekend we just sit here and shiver from the traffic," said the woman resident.

Plan Auditions For Soloists With Northwest Symphony

Northwest side residents who would like to perform as soloists with Northwest Symphony orchestra should contact Perry Crafton, musical director of the symphony, at NEwcastle 1-0726, as soon as possible.

The invitation to local musicians to solo with the orchestra is a major feature in the Northwest Symphony association's purpose and program of encouraging interest and participation in good music in our community. Residents subscribing for patron and associate memberships in the Symphony association during the orchestra's patron drive this month are helping to support this program.

Soloists chosen in this year's auditions will perform at the symphony's March 4 or May 20 concerts, or at the first concert of the 1956-57 season.

The exact date of this year's auditions is not yet set; it will be sometime early in December. The auditions committee of the symphony board, Franklin W. Paine and Mrs. Carman Fish of Park Ridge, and Dr. William Heller and Mrs. Milton Tuttle of Des Plaines, is making this advance announcement of the auditions to give aspiring soloists ample time to prepare.

Those wishing to audition must contact Mr. Crafton in advance to indicate their interest in being heard, and to secure information about qualifications, date, place, and time of the auditions. (B5

Bake Sale, Potluck Supper New Projects For Proposed Hospital

Rolling Meadows Junior Womans club is planning a bake sale to be held October 29 at the Kimball Hill school for the benefit of the hospital.

The sale will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 1 p.m.

The ladies auxiliary of Merle Guild Post American Legion Post, Arlington Heights, made plans at its October meeting to hold a potluck supper October 23, at 5 p.m., for the benefit of the hospital. The event will be held at the Legion home.

Slow Stop

The average automobile traveling 40 m.p.h. requires 164 feet of road space to come to a complete stop.

Puffer Cites New Hikes In Grade School Enrollment

Cook county elementary school enrollment is up 9 per cent with increases in Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, and Elk Grove among the highest in the county.

Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, said that Palatine district 15 showed a 23 per cent increase over last year. This represents an additional 475 pupils in the grade school system.

THE INCREASE in Arlington Heights district 25 was 16 per cent, Northbrook district 28 was 33 per cent, Mt. Prospect district 57, 21 per cent, and Elk Grove district 59, 19 per cent.

Continuing high birth rate and the rapid development of new subdivisions in both incorporated and unincorporated suburban territory are causes for increased enrollments.

The county high school enrollment was at an all-time high of 46,771 — a 12 per cent increase over last year. Puffer said this was only the beginning of an enrollment boom in the high schools, and by 1963 present enrollments will be doubled.

"I SEE NO relief from the present teacher shortage," explained Puffer, "because of these large increases in the enrollment facing our communities. Half day sessions may be the rule in high school as well as in many elementary school districts."

The county superintendent repeated a proposal that the schools of the county be consolidated into a single district. This, he said, would release millions of dollars in bonding power for the construction of new schools to meet increased demands.

Mobile Chest X-Ray Unit Here Next Week

Free chest X-rays will be offered residents 15 years old and over, Thursday, Oct. 20, when a mobile unit is parked at the village hall, 101 W. Davis St. Arlington Heights.

X-raying hours are from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

The unit intended to serve as an adjunct to the routine community, industry, food handler and school surveys conducted in various parts of the year, is available primarily to persons needing 14 x 17 in. X-rays for pre-employment, pre-marital, prenatal, and licensing purposes, or as follow-up to suspicious signs found in small-film surveys. However, since the unit can take small "survey" X-rays, too, persons who have not checked their chests for TB within the past year, can do so at this time.

The service is being provided by the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium district in cooperation with the Christmas Seal-sponsored Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county and municipal health departments.

Teacher-Parent Group Asks Sponsorship Of High School Clubs

The Teacher-Parent association of the Arlington Heights high school is attempting to get sponsorship of a number of club students in the high school are interested in holding.

The problem of sponsorship comes up because these were typical extra-curricular activities at the school. Under the split-shift schedule of the school this year, the school is not able to handle the clubs in its customary way.

Clubs seeking sponsorship are aeronautics, art, astronomy, bridge, camera, chemistry, dramatic, horseback riding, hot-rod, intramural athletics, radio, and social science.

Any groups or individuals interested or desire information on what sponsorship would entail may call George Laubenheimer, a vice-president of the Parent-Teacher group. His address is 115 N. [illegible] erson st., Mt. Prospect; telephone, Cl. 3-0910. (B5

Grace Rapp Marries Wayne Busse October 8

Miss Grace E. Rapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Rapp, 308 W. Euclid st., Arlington Hts., became the bride of Wayne Busse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Busse, 115 S. Owen st., Mt. Prospect, in a 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony October 8 in St. Paul Lutheran church. The Rev. J. E. A. Mueller officiated amid a setting of white gladioli, pompons and mums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white lace over ice blue satin fashioned with full waltz-length skirt, long sleeves and high neckline. Her shoulder-length veil was held to her head with a lace cap trimmed with rhinestones. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Daniel Rapp of Arlington Heights, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Carol Busse, sister of the groom, Mrs. Earl Rapp Jr. of Chicago, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Kathleen Allen, also of Chicago. All wore identical ballerina-length dresses of light blue nylon with blue feathered hats with rhinestones. They carried pink carnations and ti leaves.

The bride's 7-year-old niece, Cheryl Rapp, was flower girl. Her gown was of pink embroidered nylon and she carried pink carnations. Randy Rapp, 7, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer and carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

The groom's cousin, George R. Busse, was best man and Robert Haverkamp and Howard Sporleder of Mt. Prospect and the bride's brother, Daniel Rapp of Arlington Heights, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, 400 guests attended the reception held in Mt. Prospect VFW hall where Mrs. Rapp received in a brown crepe dress trimmed with pink satin. The groom's mother was in a mink brown dress of taffeta and lace. Mrs. Rapp's corsage was of baby roses while Mrs. Busse's was of Cymbidium orchids.

After a week's wedding trip in Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Busse will reside with the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Albert Edgell in Arlington Heights until their own home in Haddon Heights is completed. The bride was graduated from Lake View high school in Chicago and until her marriage she was employed at Busse Motor Sales in Mt. Prospect. The groom was graduated from Arlington Heights township high school and is now attending General Motors institute in Flint, Mich., alternating his work at the institute with employment at Busse Motor Sales.

LESSON IN ENGLISH

Words Often Misused

The expression "inclement weather" is a trite, or hackneyed, phrase. It is better to be explicit, and say, "cold, rainy, severe, or unfavorable weather."

Do not use "with," when you mean "of," as in the sentence, "With Massachusetts, as with Virginia, the earliest settlers were English." Instead, say, "Of Massachusetts, as of Virginia, the earliest settlers were English."

"Inasmuch" is usually written as one word. It is followed by "as," but this second "as" is not joined to it.

Do not say, "A crowd of people were there." "Crowd" means a great number of persons. Simply say, "A crowd was there."

LESSON IN ENGLISH

Words Often Misused

The expression "inclement weather" is a trite, or hackneyed, phrase. It is better to be explicit, and say, "cold, rainy, severe, or unfavorable weather."

Do not use "with," when you mean "of," as in the sentence, "With Massachusetts, as with Virginia, the earliest settlers were English." Instead, say, "Of Massachusetts, as of Virginia, the earliest settlers were English."

"Inasmuch" is usually written as one word. It is followed by "as," but this second "as" is not joined to it.

Do not say, "A crowd of people were there." "Crowd" means a great number of persons. Simply say, "A crowd was there."

This past weekend marked another year's anniversary for Dorothy and Dick Braun of Clarendon. Although their anniversary was Monday, Pat and Paul Miresse invited the Clarendon ct. neighbors to their home Friday evening to extend congratulations to Dorothy and Dick. Those present when Pat served whipped cream cake and coffee were Pauline and Don McNamara, Florence and Warren Horner, Shirley and Junius Zolp, Jeanne and Ray Thorsen, Viva and Paul Hembd, and Ruth Raines. Wouldn't it be interesting to keep a record of how many pounds of coffee and how many cakes were consumed in Clarendon ct. over a period of a year. Imagine the number would be surprising even to this sociable group.

Kuarter Kaffee Klatsch

The hospital fund kaffee klatsch snowball is still rolling in the Greens. This week it stopped at Ginny Sims' home on Clarendon and picked up 6 new members, Shirley Heyer, Adele Mitchell, Mildred Compton, Lorraine Loos, Marge Sedlak and June Carlson. Ginny served the perfect morning fare of donuts and sweet rolls together with coffee.

Saturday was a big day for Nancy Shannon, daughter of Terry and Leslie Shannon of Hickory. The children participating in the party fun were Nancy's brothers, Mark and Glenn, and her sister, Kathleen, and Maureen Cooney, Laura Reed, Jane Nichols, Diane Schreiner, Kay Waffle, Dennis Mead, Janice Kerz, Susan Dettloff and Lynn Conrad of Chicago.

Did anyone besides your reporter notice all the houses in the Greens that are getting a face lifting this fall with a new paint job? The many bright colored homes should supply a spark of color during the long drab winter.

JUST DOGS

Hunting Fever

Most hunters are now making their final plans for the hunting season which is fast approaching. If their plans have not included a few workouts with that new hunting dog, they better get right at it or forget the whole matter, because it is important now to have the dog at the point where it can be controlled by its owner with little or no difficulty.

This applies not only to retrievers but also, of course, to your upland game bird dogs, all of which must be in good shape for opening day. It seems that every year about this time your editor talks about the subject of being prepared for the hunting season and, also, every year he points out the embarrasing fact of having a proud owner take out a dog for its first trip in to the field and having the dog end up by pointing or chasing everything from butterflies to field mice.

Most of your experienced field dog trainers have been working for sometime with young dogs which are coming up for their first season of hunting, and the amateur might well learn by observing, if possible, or reading some good books on the subject of just how a dog should be handled in the field. Although reading of books and such other printed matter on the phases of training a dog for field work is quite beneficial, there is no substitute for the actual thing, and it is really for the owner's benefit as well as for the dog's to get out and actually do some dead earnest practicing and, if possible, along with someone else who is working an experienced dog.

This association of a young dog working with an experienced one can be of great help in shortening the time required to bring a dog up to some degree of perfection in field work. Your editor has seen this point demonstrated very vividly during the running of hounds, when a young dog has been put down with an older one and after a few rather uneventful starts in the wrong direction all of a sudden the young dog realizes that the older one is starting out in a particular direction and after a particular scent, with the result that the young dog will start to move right out with the older dog, honoring the more experienced animal's ability to follow a given scent.

Eighteen prominent judges comprise the slate of the 16th annual International Dog Show scheduled next March 31 and April 1, in Chicago's International Amphitheatre--the nation's largest show building.

Best in Show assignment goes to John P. Wagner of Chicago. The six group judges are Sporting, Virgil D. Johnson, of Savannah, Ga.; Hounds, Percy Roberts, Noroton Heights, Conn.; Working, Alva Rosenberg, New York City; Terriers, Walter H. Reeves, Clarkson, Ontario, Can.; Toys, Anton B. Korbel, Belmont, Cal.; and the Non-Sporting Group, Mr. Rosenberg.

Obedience classes, always important at the Chicago all-breed show, are divided between three well known judges. Mrs. William B. Long, Jr. Lexington, Mass., will score the Novice "A" competitions; Clarence C. Alexander, of Indianapolis, Ind., Novice "B" and Open "B"; and Loy F. Green of Berea, Ohio, and Open "A" and Utility classes.

Useful Tricks

After you decide to have your dog do tricks, make sure that they are more or less of some useful nature. With a dog a trick soon becomes a habit and a useless habit in time can become very irritating.

The average intelligent dog soon develops his own useful tricks. Watch him and when he starts to do something which you feel might be worked into something beneficial encourage the dog to the point of where it will become somewhat standard practice.

One man, for example, noticed that his dog started to carry small sticks and logs in his mouth. A few words of praise and a useful trick had been learned. Every time he comes in from the yard the dog brings in a small log or stick for the fire. When the log is taken from him he starts out after another one.

This, of course, has its limitations, which you may realize, expecially when the dog has cleaned out the area around your home. The man in question was living near a wooded area and, of course, it was quite simple for the dog to forage around and come up with something in the way of a stick. It would, perhaps, be embarrassing to find your dog trying to turn into a beaver and attempting to remove all the slats from your neighbor's picket fence.

This stick carrying incident can be worked over to something such as that old stand-by of bringing in the newspaper.

Barks and Bays

The 3rd annual exhibition of field trial dogs held this past week at Fieldale on Higgins Road proved to be an interesting event for those who were able to attend. Also, the demonstration of field work handled by the well known field dog trainer, Orin Benson, of Eagle Wisconsin, was of interest to all. The exhibition brought together one of the largest groups of best-in-show sporting dogs ever assembled for an outdoor event of this type.

THIS IS YOUR V.F.W.

by GEORGE MILLER

The month of October starts the V.F.W. drive for renewing its present membership and recruiting new ones.

Over the past few months this column has endeavored to carry briefly some of the things the V.F.W. stands for and what it does.

This article will endeavor to point out only a few reasons why you should be a member of Arlington Post 981.

FIRST YOU will be joining the fastest growing community organization in Arlington Heights. Your only requirements to become eligible is that you served outside of the continental limits of the U.S. in time of conflict.

You will have for your enjoyment the most beautiful Club Room and building in northern Illinois.

You will become a member of an organization that realizes the need for a hospital in this area and has opened its full facilities at a nominal charge for any effort on this behalf, as well as raising money themselves for this worthy cause. They will hold a dance December third with all the proceeds going to the hospital fund. Their goal is $1,000.

YOU WILL FIND the friendliest kind of comradeship from everyone. Even the comrade who bitterly opposes your views during a meeting will join you in refreshments afterward.

You will become a member of the greatest organization fighting for just veterans rights without having to take any active part in politics or declare your political views. There is no politics engaged in by the V.F.W.

Arlington Post 981 has long been one of the active community organizations and now more than ever will be a leader for good community projects.

You will want to become a part of this post and so why delay any longer. Just take a few minutes time to visit the club house at Yale and Northwest Highway and you will find someone there who will sign you up. (AKP

Cite Urgent Need For Family Service Agency In NW Area

A neglected house soon shows signs of deterioration. The interior gets damp and moldy; the beams rot; the shingles are loose to the winds. In time it may still resemble a house, but the damage is beyond repair.

A family is much the same.

Neglected sources of friction menace a family's well-being. Unattended difficulties, if severe, can lead to family breakdown.

While many families weather stormy periods of personal difficulties without seeking oustide aid, in general, proper preventive care can avert many major threats to a family's welfare.

WHEN FIRST signs of trouble are treated properly, the damage is minimized, the structure maintained, and chances for health and satisfactory living are better.

If help come too late, results are ruinous to both the families concerned and the members of the community, who foot the bills.

Help has been coming too late for families in the northwest suburbs. And too frequently, results have been ruinous.

The need for a family service counseling agency to serve northwest towns is immediate.

SUBURBS ARE not immune from social problems.

A significant example was provided this week in the case of a Palatine township mother and her pregnant, unmarried daughter, 17.

Court action under the Bastardy act was instituted by the girl's mother when she learned of the child's condition and after the father refused to marry the girl.

Because she had a background of sex delinquency, the expectant mother was referred to Family court for investigation.

A probation officer found what he considered to be an unwholesome home enviroment and parents who refused to cooperate in rehabilitation of the girl.

The court will decide October 31 whether to send the girl to Geneva or place her in a foster home. She cannot improve in her present environment, according to the officer.

At a preliminary hearing, the mother admitted she had "failed" in raising the girl.

The probation officer reported that the child, who quit school nearly 2 years ago and hasn't worked since, was "a victim of her parents' complete indifference."

The father declined to talk with the court representative or to appear at the hearing.

THIS IS A situation which could be handled early enough by a family service agency so the present tragedy might have been avoided.

Counselors would have worked with the parents and assisted the girl in making a better adjustment. During pregnancy, they would have assisted her in making arrangements for hospital care and deciding on what to do with the baby.

The Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago reports that from this area alone there are nearly 500 requests a year for counseling assistance—but there is no where to go. How many more don't even bother to inquire because of the lack in facilities ?

A movement is now under way in 7 northwest communities to organize a private family service agency to provide counseling and case work facilities. Referrals would be made from schools, doctors, lawyers, police, and clergy as well as voluntary consultation.

To be served by the agency are Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect, Des Plaines, and Park Ridge.

Cost would be approximately $2,800 a year for each town.

A committee has been organized to develop plans for a fund-raising campaign and to make area residents aware of the ned.

Serving on the committee are Mrs. Howard Froid, Arlington Heights; L. C. Hedberg, Des Plaines; Rev. Edwin Stevens, Mount Prospect; Joan Duffy, Palatine; Joan Shaw, Park Ridge; and Mrs. Raymond Dietrich, Prospect Heights.

A PUBLIC meeting is planned in Mount Prospect Wednesday at 8 p.m. in visual aids room of Contral school. A speaker from United Charities will lead a panel discussion of the need for a family service agency.

"We forget that people moving from Chicago bring their problems with them," added Miss Duffy, social counselor for Oak st. school in Palatine. "Their personal troubles follow them no matter where they live."

Aid In Formation Of Mosquito Abatement District In NW Area

Basic legal work on the formation of the Northwest Cook County Mosquito Abatement district is nearing completion. The legal preparation of petitions to be signed by residents of the area was made possible through the donations of Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Palatine and Rolling Meadows to a fund for the establishment of such a district. Signatures of approximately 5 to 10 per cent of the voters of the area will be sought on the petitions which call for a referendum to establish the mosquito abatement district.

Rolling Meadows representatives to the joint group promoting the mosquito abatement district are George Kitterman and Don Dahlquist. Dahlquist and Kitterman were appointed as representatives to the group by the Home Owners' association prior to the incorporation of the city. The financial contribution of Rolling Meadows to the group was also made by the Home Owners' association.

Basic aim of the mosquito abatement district will be to minimize as much as possible the mosquito problem. The district will become its taxing body and will have funds available for solution of drainage problems and the elimination of breeding spots as well as the acttual "fogging" type operations. (K

'Souls In Conflict' To Be Presented By First Baptist Church

Because his unerring slide-rule doesn't come up with the answer, a famous jet pilot has his doubts about this new "religious resurgence" all his mates are talking about. A prominent actress wonders about this strange new "personal contact." A penny-ante gambling factory worker tries to figure out what the odds are for him. The story of "Souls in Conflict," newest release by Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., is the story of all 3 — a trilogy that proves a change of outlook is brought about only by a supernatural change of the heart.

Billy Graham produced "Souls in Conflict" in conjunction with his London crusade, and Ray Trvelsen, chairman of First Baptist church of Arlington Heights, announces the local presentation of the picture October 30 in the high school at 7 p.m. No admission will be charged.

Joan Winmill, star of the British TV spy thriller, "Epitaph for a Spy," and herself a convert to full-time Christian service, plays the actress. Eric Micklewood is the jet pilot and Charles Leno the factory worker.

"Souls in Conflict," a full-length feature in color, was produced for Billy Graham Evangelistic Films by Great Commission Films, Hollywood, in association with Anglo-Scottish Pictures, London.

Hunting Fever

Most hunters are now making their final plans for the hunting season which is fast approaching. If their plans have not included a few workouts with that new hunting dog, they better get right at it or forget the whole matter, because it is important now to have the dog at the point where it can be controlled by its owner with little or no difficulty.

This applies not only to retrievers but also, of course, to your upland game bird dogs, all of which must be in good shape for opening day. It seems that every year about this time your editor talks about the subject of being prepared for the hunting season and, also, every year he points out the embarrasing fact of having a proud owner take out a dog for its first trip in to the field and having the dog end up by pointing or chasing everything from butterflies to field mice.

Most of your experienced field dog trainers have been working for sometime with young dogs which are coming up for their first season of hunting, and the amateur might well learn by observing, if possible, or reading some good books on the subject of just how a dog should be handled in the field. Although reading of books and such other printed matter on the phases of training a dog for field work is quite beneficial, there is no substitute for the actual thing, and it is really for the owner's benefit as well as for the dog's to get out and actually do some dead earnest practicing and, if possible, along with someone else who is working an experienced dog.

This association of a young dog working with an experienced one can be of great help in shortening the time required to bring a dog up to some degree of perfection in field work. Your editor has seen this point demonstrated very vividly during the running of hounds, when a young dog has been put down with an older one and after a few rather uneventful starts in the wrong direction all of a sudden the young dog realizes that the older one is starting out in a particular direction and after a particular scent, with the result that the young dog will start to move right out with the older dog, honoring the more experienced animal's ability to follow a given scent.

Eighteen prominent judges comprise the slate of the 16th annual International Dog Show scheduled next March 31 and April 1, in Chicago's International Amphitheatre--the nation's largest show building.

Best in Show assignment goes to John P. Wagner of Chicago. The six group judges are Sporting, Virgil D. Johnson, of Savannah, Ga.; Hounds, Percy Roberts, Noroton Heights, Conn.; Working, Alva Rosenberg, New York City; Terriers, Walter H. Reeves, Clarkson, Ontario, Can.; Toys, Anton B. Korbel, Belmont, Cal.; and the Non-Sporting Group, Mr. Rosenberg.

Obedience classes, always important at the Chicago all-breed show, are divided between three well known judges. Mrs. William B. Long, Jr. Lexington, Mass., will score the Novice "A" competitions; Clarence C. Alexander, of Indianapolis, Ind., Novice "B" and Open "B"; and Loy F. Green of Berea, Ohio, and Open "A" and Utility classes.

Useful Tricks

After you decide to have your dog do tricks, make sure that they are more or less of some useful nature. With a dog a trick soon becomes a habit and a useless habit in time can become very irritating.

The average intelligent dog soon develops his own useful tricks. Watch him and when he starts to do something which you feel might be worked into something beneficial encourage the dog to the point of where it will become somewhat standard practice.

One man, for example, noticed that his dog started to carry small sticks and logs in his mouth. A few words of praise and a useful trick had been learned. Every time he comes in from the yard the dog brings in a small log or stick for the fire. When the log is taken from him he starts out after another one.

This, of course, has its limitations, which you may realize, expecially when the dog has cleaned out the area around your home. The man in question was living near a wooded area and, of course, it was quite simple for the dog to forage around and come up with something in the way of a stick. It would, perhaps, be embarrassing to find your dog trying to turn into a beaver and attempting to remove all the slats from your neighbor's picket fence.

This stick carrying incident can be worked over to something such as that old stand-by of bringing in the newspaper.

Barks and Bays

The 3rd annual exhibition of field trial dogs held this past week at Fieldale on Higgins Road proved to be an interesting event for those who were able to attend. Also, the demonstration of field work handled by the well known field dog trainer, Orin Benson, of Eagle Wisconsin, was of interest to all. The exhibition brought together one of the largest groups of best-in-show sporting dogs ever assembled for an outdoor event of this type.

THIS IS YOUR V.F.W.

by GEORGE MILLER

The month of October starts the V.F.W. drive for renewing its present membership and recruiting new ones.

Over the past few months this column has endeavored to carry briefly some of the things the V.F.W. stands for and what it does.

This article will endeavor to point out only a few reasons why you should be a member of Arlington Post 981.

FIRST YOU will be joining the fastest growing community organization in Arlington Heights. Your only requirements to become eligible is that you served outside of the continental limits of the U.S. in time of conflict.

You will have for your enjoyment the most beautiful Club Room and building in northern Illinois.

You will become a member of an organization that realizes the need for a hospital in this area and has opened its full facilities at a nominal charge for any effort on this behalf, as well as raising money themselves for this worthy cause. They will hold a dance December third with all the proceeds going to the hospital fund. Their goal is $1,000.

YOU WILL FIND the friendliest kind of comradeship from everyone. Even the comrade who bitterly opposes your views during a meeting will join you in refreshments afterward.

You will become a member of the greatest organization fighting for just veterans rights without having to take any active part in politics or declare your political views. There is no politics engaged in by the V.F.W.

Arlington Post 981 has long been one of the active community organizations and now more than ever will be a leader for good community projects.

You will want to become a part of this post and so why delay any longer. Just take a few minutes time to visit the club house at Yale and Northwest Highway and you will find someone there who will sign you up. (AKP

Cite Urgent Need For Family Service Agency In NW Area

A neglected house soon shows signs of deterioration. The interior gets damp and moldy; the beams rot; the shingles are loose to the winds. In time it may still resemble a house, but the damage is beyond repair.

A family is much the same.

Neglected sources of friction menace a family's well-being. Unattended difficulties, if severe, can lead to family breakdown.

While many families weather stormy periods of personal difficulties without seeking oustide aid, in general, proper preventive care can avert many major threats to a family's welfare.

WHEN FIRST signs of trouble are treated properly, the damage is minimized, the structure maintained, and chances for health and satisfactory living are better.

If help come too late, results are ruinous to both the families concerned and the members of the community, who foot the bills.

Help has been coming too late for families in the northwest suburbs. And too frequently, results have been ruinous.

The need for a family service counseling agency to serve northwest towns is immediate.

SUBURBS ARE not immune from social problems.

A significant example was provided this week in the case of a Palatine township mother and her pregnant, unmarried daughter, 17.

Court action under the Bastardy act was instituted by the girl's mother when she learned of the child's condition and after the father refused to marry the girl.

Because she had a background of sex delinquency, the expectant mother was referred to Family court for investigation.

A probation officer found what he considered to be an unwholesome home enviroment and parents who refused to cooperate in rehabilitation of the girl.

The court will decide October 31 whether to send the girl to Geneva or place her in a foster home. She cannot improve in her present environment, according to the officer.

At a preliminary hearing, the mother admitted she had "failed" in raising the girl.

The probation officer reported that the child, who quit school nearly 2 years ago and hasn't worked since, was "a victim of her parents' complete indifference."

The father declined to talk with the court representative or to appear at the hearing.

THIS IS A situation which could be handled early enough by a family service agency so the present tragedy might have been avoided.

Counselors would have worked with the parents and assisted the girl in making a better adjustment. During pregnancy, they would have assisted her in making arrangements for hospital care and deciding on what to do with the baby.

The Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago reports that from this area alone there are nearly 500 requests a year for counseling assistance—but there is no where to go. How many more don't even bother to inquire because of the lack in facilities ?

A movement is now under way in 7 northwest communities to organize a private family service agency to provide counseling and case work facilities. Referrals would be made from schools, doctors, lawyers, police, and clergy as well as voluntary consultation.

To be served by the agency are Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect, Des Plaines, and Park Ridge.

Cost would be approximately $2,800 a year for each town.

A committee has been organized to develop plans for a fund-raising campaign and to make area residents aware of the ned.

A PUBLIC meeting is planned in Mount Prospect Wednesday at 8 p.m. in visual aids room of Contral school. A speaker from United Charities will lead a panel discussion of the need for a family service agency.

"We forget that people moving from Chicago bring their problems with them," added Miss Duffy, social counselor for Oak st. school in Palatine. "Their personal troubles follow them no matter where they live." (B5

'Souls In Conflict' To Be Presented By First Baptist Church

Because his unerring slide-rule doesn't come up with the answer, a famous jet pilot has his doubts about this new "religious resurgence" all his mates are talking about. A prominent actress wonders about this strange new "personal contact." A penny-ante gambling factory worker tries to figure out what the odds are for him. The story of "Souls in Conflict," newest release by Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., is the story of all 3 — a trilogy that proves a change of outlook is brought about only by a supernatural change of the heart.

Billy Graham produced "Souls in Conflict" in conjunction with his London crusade, and Ray Trvelsen, chairman of First Baptist church of Arlington Heights, announces the local presentation of the picture October 30 in the high school at 7 p.m. No admission will be charged.

Joan Winmill, star of the British TV spy thriller, "Epitaph for a Spy," and herself a convert to full-time Christian service, plays the actress. Eric Micklewood is the jet pilot and Charles Leno the factory worker.

"Souls in Conflict," a full-length feature in color, was produced for Billy Graham Evangelistic Films by Great Commission Films, Hollywood, in association with Anglo-Scottish Pictures, London. (A

Aid In Formation Of Mosquito Abatement District In NW Area

Basic legal work on the formation of the Northwest Cook County Mosquito Abatement district is nearing completion. The legal preparation of petitions to be signed by residents of the area was made possible through the donations of Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Palatine and Rolling Meadows to a fund for the establishment of such a district. Signatures of approximately 5 to 10 per cent of the voters of the area will be sought on the petitions which call for a referendum to establish the mosquito abatement district.

Rolling Meadows representatives to the joint group promoting the mosquito abatement district are George Kitterman and Don Dahlquist. Dahlquist and Kitterman were appointed as representatives to the group by the Home Owners' association prior to the incorporation of the city. The financial contribution of Rolling Meadows to the group was also made by the Home Owners' association.

Basic aim of the mosquito abatement district will be to minimize as much as possible the mosquito problem. The district will become its taxing body and will have funds available for solution of drainage problems and the elimination of breeding spots as well as the actual "fogging" type operations. (K

Rolling Meadows Little League Auxiliary Formed

Monday evening, Oct. 10, a large group of mothers representing the Minor, Major Little, and Pony League of Rolling Meadows, met at the community barn to organize a Little League auxiliary.

"It was most encouraging," said Fred Schultz, Little League president, who presided over the meeting, "to see such a large turnout of mothers who are showing their interest in strengthening our Little League organization."

After general plans were discussed on how the women could assist the present organization, nomination of officers was held.

After several ladies were nominated, the voting took place and the official results were as follows: Lola Kolb, president; Sue Kunz, vice president; Lillian Carlson, secretary; Jean Broderick, treasurer.

The first meeting for this newly formed group will be Nov. 21, 8 p. m., at the barn; chairman of committees and committee members will be appointed at this meeting.

Then each one trying-out will read lines from the play to test his dramatic possibilities.

Cast parts and chorus are open to any man or woman in Prospect Heights or the surrounding communities. Chorus rehearsals will start after cast selections are made.

Girl Scout News

Intermediate troop 1 has begun its patrol system so they can more effectively work on badges. The leaders of the patrols are Beverly Winkler, Joan Hood and Mary Kay Tamoulis. Mary Kay Tamoulis has also been elected troop scribe.

Mrs. Mary Jane Cordaro is the new senior scout troop leader. Assisting Mrs. Cordaro is Mrs. Carol Wolfe. Senior scouts are completing their 5-point program for the senior round-up. The next faculty dinner of the senior scouts will be held at the home of Mrs. Harvey Shumakers.

Troop 11 had a birthday party Wednesday at 922 N. Princeton. At their election of officers Susan Crawford was elected leader; Janet Hugg, assistant leader; Peggy Miley, treasurer and Carol Retzke, scribe.

Troop 8 is having an apron bazaar and bake sale Saturday, October 22, at the Public Service Co. Proceeds will go to the fund for their family caravan to Alaska. Some revenue has already been earned by their garden project which they worked on all this summer.

A play entitled "The Princess and the Prime Minister" was presented by a group in troop 360 for the rest of the girls. Those participating were Marie Scott, Lynn Smith, Susan Murphy, Patty Buckeridge, Janice Weidner and Donna Reed. Next week the remaining girls are also going to present a play which will then qualify the troop to attain its dramatic badge. The troop also selected its crest last week which is the Cardinal and is very apropos for Arlington Heights.

PREJUDICE

Ignorance is less remote from the truth than prejudice.

—Denis Diderot

Ignorance, pride, or prejudice closes the door to whatever is not stereotyped.

Sunday Tryouts For 'Waltz Dream' Operetta

Any person who enjoys singing and who would be desirous of performing in an operetta which will be given next spring, March 10 and 11, is invited to join the community group who will present the "Waltz Dream" as a Prospect Heights benefit.

Tryouts for cast parts will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Prospect Heights school, Palatine and Schoenbeck rds. Time is half hour earlier than was published 2 weeks ago in the paper.

Characters in the operetta, and the voice necessary to take one of these parts are Maximilian X, baritone; Princess Helene, soprano; Lieutenant Niki, tenor or baritone; Kay Robinson, soprano; Princess Matilda, alto; Louisa, soprano; Bertram Budgett, medium; Count Lothar, baritone; Count Sigismund, tenor or baritone; Nicholas, baritone; Fifi, alto; Annerl, mezzo. Two parts for speaking only are Prince Rupert and Lieutenant Montschi.

Fedor Kabalin, who directed last year's "Mikado" production, will also direct "The Waltz Dream". Kabalin desires that those who want to try for lead parts be prepared to sing a number of their own choosing either sacred or secular. Then each one trying-out will read lines from the play to test his dramatic possibilities.

Cast parts and chorus are open to any man or woman in Prospect Heights or the surrounding communities. Chorus rehearsals will start after cast selections are made.

Mrs. R. H. Dietrich may be contacted at Cl. 3-2793 for further information.

Mission Trip Pictures

Mr. and Mrs. Club of First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, will meet at 6:45 p.m. October 14 for a pot luck supper followed by pictures of the Senior Tuxis Tennessee mission trip.

TRUTH

Unfortunately the serious problem of getting the truth about the multiple hazards that threaten your income and property is no game. Unless you do get the truth from experts who know the answers, the consequences can be tragic.

The analysis of the insurable hazards faced by your family and your business is not something you buy at bargain rates. It comes from the professional advice of insurance brokers who are versed not only in the knowledge of insurance contracts but also in the application of coverage to your individual problems.

There is no substitute for experience. Get the truth about your insurance and enjoy the consequences.

Presbyterian Men To Hear Dr. Seath Talk On Skid Row

Stories of the unfortunates of Chicago's Skid Row and of efforts to help solve their problems will be reviewed Monday night at a dinner meeting of the Presbyterian men of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, by Dr. William Seath, executive director of the Chicago Christian Industrial league and a member of the mayor's committee on Skid Row since 1950.

The meeting will be held in the church dining room at 7 p.m. with James Webster, president of the men's group, presiding. Arrangements for the meeting, first in a series of monthly programs scheduled for the local Presbyterian men in the 1955-56 season, are being made by James R. Wellman and Warren White, program chairmen. Presbyterian Men planning to attend the dinner are requested to make arrangements through their unit leaders.

Subject of Dr. Seath's talk will be "Dead Men Live." The Industrial league, of which he is executive, is located in the heart of the W. Madison and Halsted area where thousands of the homeless men gather. The Mission of the Chicago Christian Industrial league serves an average of 400 meals daily and provides sleeping accommodations for more than 300 men each night. The Christian league is sponsored by the Chicago Presbytery but is interdenominational in the administration of its services to the men of Skid Row.

Dr. Seath, known for his charity work, was a veteran of the first World War and entered rescue mission work in 1920. He has invited the Presbyterian men to bring discarded overcoats or other warm garments to the dinner meeting and he will see that they are distributed among the men on Skid Row.

Representatives of boy scout troop 32 and the explorer post sponsored by the Men's club of the Presbyterian church will also be present at the meeting for formal presentation of the charter to the 2 scout groups. Presentation will be made by John Clark, committeeman representing the Presbyterian men.

Cards Plan Victory Over LaGrange In Homecoming Tilt

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

DICK McAULIFFE, 220 pound giant from Arlington Heights, is making himself heard for Carleton college gridders this fall, and is playing a whale of a game. He won all-conference honors as a sophomore last year as his team rolled to its first Midwest conference grid title in 18 years. Last fall Carleton was noted for its defense; the titlists limited their opponents to an average of 7.38 points per game, and only two foes were able to score more than one TD. This year the defense has been somewhat overshadowed by the Carls' split-T attack, but in the 33-0 win over Monmouth recently the defense showed itself almost on a level with last season. Carleton lost to St. Olaf Saturday, however. McAuliffe is equally at home on offense or defense. According to Coach Wally Hass, he is "a very steady player—not a flashy one, but a player who does his job exceedingly well." This dependability was noted by the conference coaches last fall when they named "Mac" to the first all-conference team.

Dick McAuliffe

Hass feels that McAuliffe is "a better player now than he was last year, since he has shown at least the normal amount of improvement between his first and second varsity seasons." He is extremely agile for a big (6-4½) man, and his size and speed have disconcerted many opposing passers, among others.

McAuliffe, who won five letters at Arlington Heights high school, is also a member of the Carleton basketball and track squads. Last year he received all-conference mention in basketball, and captured fifth place in the shotput at the loop track meet.

FOOTBALL ENTHUSIASM is running high at Arlington after a sparsity of victories these past several seasons. Most optimistic fans are pulling for a championship, the first in Arlington's history since 1939, not counting an abbreviated 3-school title just after Northeast conference broke up in 1948.

But the sober sides still believe you have to win 'em one at a time, with LaGrange, Glenbard, Riverside and York still to be heard from.

And they're right. Some Card players are conceding victories over LaGrange, Glenbard and York, and thinking about Riverside. Such thoughts will not win any titles, particularly in the case of LaGrange which has yet to lose a varsity football game to Heights. We think Heights could win 3 of its remaining 4 games, and at least tie for the title. We hope this comes to pass.

JOHN SUJACK AND WAYNE MALZAHN are gaining stature in the West Suburban league as the season progresses. These 2 Heights stalwarts are playing football the likes of which hasn't been seen in several years.

Sujack has become a triple threat, adding punting to his speed, deception and power. He should make all-league, perhaps even rate an all-state berth as 70-yard dashes for touchdowns are becoming as common for him as officials' whistles on the gridiron.

Those same whistles, by the way, have kept Sujack from racking up still more points. Inopportune penalties have nullified his TD efforts on at least 3 occasions. Then there's Wayne Malzahn, one of the greatest tackles Heights has ever seen. His leadership is establishing new records of performance for the Heights defense, with a good many hard tackles of opponents for losses on the books.

Wayne has missed just 3 minutes of 4 games to date, and has had no equal among opposing tackles thus far. All this from a man converted from fullback!

Of course it's the other 9 boys who have helped make these 2 such standouts, with stamina a big help. In past years Heights teams have folded, physically, towards the end of every game. This time it's "the other guys" who are doing the folding.

IT SEEMS RIDICULOUS to think adults attending football games would have to be reminded of respect due the American flag during playing of the national anthem. But that is the case at Arlington Heights where plenty of late comers fail to either stop walking or talking when the high school band plays the Star Spangled Banner.

Perhaps it's because these adults have been away from school so many years they've forgotten how to act with respect to the flag.

For the men, take off your hat and hold it over your heart, or if hatless, hold your right hand over your heart. Women are to simply stand still. Everyone should face the flag and remain quiet. These simple instructions may not be letter-perfect, but they fill the bill and make this writer stop and think a bit about freedom and what the flag represents.

OLD HOME WEEK will be observed at St. Phillips stadium in Chicago Saturday afternoon when Carthage meets Navy Pier in football . . . Co-captain and quarterback John Eakins of Arlington will be in action with his 2 high school varsity coaches, Curtis Larsen and "Bus" Ormsbee officiating . . . Larsen brought John up to the varsity his sophomore year with Ormsbee directing him his junior and senior years . . . Game time is 1:30 in the stadium at 300 S. Kedzie (3200 west) with Larsen serving as umpire and Ormsbee head linesman.

Booster club is becoming a real help to Arlington athletic teams, providing oranges and moral backing for the players, purchasing lots of tickets for homecoming football to help pay for the scoreboard, etc.

This week the club announced it will provide a scholarship trophy to letterman with highest scholastic average in each of 9 sports conducted at Arlington Heights high school . . . The club is always willing to accept additional memberships, by the way, at only $1.00 per year . . . New coach Bob Scott is providing a lot of spark for the varsity this year, and even wears shirts with "Arlington" label inside the collar . . . That must indicate the school is close to his heart . . . Brother of varsity grid captain Jack Ebert at Heights is Dave Ebert, playing left guard for the freshmen . . . Jack plays fullback . . . West Suburban conference cross country meet will be held at LaGrange Saturday, Oct. 22.

DOWN AT ILLINOIS Jim McMillen, all-Northwest league lineman from Antioch, is on the frosh team . . . He's the son of the former Illini-Bear-wrestler . . . Starting for Iowa State this year are Jack Falter of Downers, WSC all-leaguer 2 years ago, and Jack Tilles of Mt. Prospect, soph guard . . . Other Downers boys on the team include halfback Chuck Gates and halfback Jack Dee.

Emblems will be given to midget football winners at Arlington this year with all boys consistently attending practices receiving certificates.

Fick of Maine suffered 3 cracked vertebrae against Riverside last week, will be in a cast 5 weeks, according to reports . . . Receipts of last summer's Bear game at Maine enabled Elks club to purchase a diathermy machine for the athletic department . . . Maine's John Kilcullen is now No. 1 for DeKalb college cross country team.

The toe of Lew Green has been a big help to Arlington's football Cardinals as they won 2 of 3 league games to date. Most high school football teams do not have a man who can consistently kick points after. Lew is the answer to the problem at Heights. He is shown kicking here with captain Jack Ebert holding the ball. —Staff Photo

Palatine Aims For 1st Win Vs. Wauconda

by G. A. McELROY

Friday night Palatine high will be playing their fifth game in an eight game football schedule and still looking for their first victory. Injuries to key players hurt Palatine from the start but they are gradually working back to the form expected of them. There will be a tremendous incentive to beat Wauconda's varsity team Friday night and get that first victory, because it will be Palatine's homecoming.

Wauconda is one of the better teams in the conference boasting a 2-1 league record and 3-1 for the season. The Bulldogs, on the season record, would appear to rate a 2 touchdown edge over Palatine, but homecoming and a home field may even the odds.

Wauconda has the heaviest team in the league, one of the most deceptive and best forward passing quarterbacks in Bill Weinberg, a junior; and the best all round player in the conference in Gene Jaskot who can run with the ball, catch passes, block, and play a bang up defensive game backing up the line. There will be plenty of razzle dazzle passing and wide open stuff Friday night of the type fans like to watch.

COACH FEUTZ has plenty of chance to look over all of his material in action and fans can be assured the strongest possible lineup will take the field to make homecoming an event to be remembered.

A possibility that at least one of the injured stars may be ready for action is raising the hopes of Palatine backers. Who Feutz will start will not be known until the team takes the field Friday.

The frosh-soph game starts at 6:30 with Palatine a heavy favorite. The Pirate sophs are undefeated winning three in a row after being tied by Barrington in the opening game.

ALSO FRIDAY night in the Northwest conference Grant will be playing a doubleheader at Glenbrook where they will be very much the underdog. Glenbrook won four in a row in handy fashion and Grant, short on material at the start, has been riddled by a half dozen injuries to first line performers.

Saturday afternoon Grayslake will travel to Ela-Vernon to meet a very strong defensive team which, week by week, is showing improvement.

The Rams appear to have too much class and power for Ela the odds are not so great but what Ela could provide an upset. Grayslake players may get caught napping in this one for they may be looking ahead to the big one with Glenbrook the following Saturday.

SATURDAY evening Fenton will play a doubleheader at Antioch. The Bensenville boys are smarting under a string of 9 straight defeats over 2 seasons and the time is ripe for a Bison victory. We have an idea Fenton boys are going to win a big one for Tom Meneguin before the season is over and this may be it.

Most of the teams in the conference are so evenly matched that that little extra try, spirit, and determination makes the difference between winning and losing.

The Bisons have remaining on their schedule Antioch, Palatine, Grant, and Grayslake in that order, plus a postponed game with Ela-Vernon.

INDIVIDUAL scoring, not too important a factor in football, this year has become a three-man proposition. Last year Boyd and Eck staged a real battle for top honors with Boyd breaking the league record with 76.

With 3 games played Gene Jaskot of Wauconda has 33, Gale Peregrin of Grayslake 31, and Bob Boyd of Glenbrook 30. Duane Harms of Glenbrook and Bill Moore of Grayslake are close behind with 24.

Jaskot, the leader, has made all his points except six by catching passes from Bill Weinberg. In the final minute of play at Grant last Saturday night Jaskot ran with the ball on an end around play and sprinted 66 yards for a touchdown. Last year Jaskot played half back on offense and end on defense. This year he plays end on offense and middle line backer on defense.

The new scoreboard is a welcome addition to the expending athletic department at Arlington Heights high school, particularly when it shows a Cardinal win as it did in the conference opener against Hinsdale. The board is a gift of the "A" club, which is trying to raise the final $700 through selling tickets on the homecoming football with LaGrange Friday night. The local eleven is currently tied for first place in West Suburban loop competition. —Staff Photo

Recall Championship Teams Of Meneguin

Tom Meneguin won his share of championships in 12 years of coaching at Fenton high school.

Tom died Saturday morning at Du Page Memorial hospital in Elmhurst, a result of nervous strain and worry over his team's efforts over the years.

A glance at the records of Paddock Publications reveals Meneguin-coached teams won 2 football championships and 2 basketball titles. It is also believed Tom won 3 league baseball titles.

MENEGUIN came to Bensenville high school in 1943, coaching football 12 years, basketball 5 years and baseball 10. Frank Novatny took over the cage reins in the fall of '48 as duties of athletic director increased.

Tom won titles in football in 1944 and 1947. His teams took second in '43, '45, '46 and '48. That '44 championship was marred by a 20-7 loss to Grant and a 6-6 tie with Northbrook. In '47 only loss was to Grant, 15-14. Bensenville and Grant tied for the title.

Only losses for second place teams were to Northbrook and Palatine in '43, Northbrook and Barrington in '45, 7-6 to Northbrook in '46, and to Barrington 26-0 and a tie with Grant 7-7 in '48. Here are season conference records for his football teams:

Year	W	L	T	Pts	Opp	Fin
1943	3	2	0	74	40	2nd
1944	3	1	1	48	39	1st
1945	3	2	0	56	54	2nd
1946	4	1	0	99	19	2nd
1947	4	1	0	148	29	1st
1948	3	1	1	65	33	2nd
1949	3	3	0	60	76	5th
1950	3	4	0	97	130	5th
1951	2	5	0	43	138	5th
1952	0	6	0	39	152	8th
1953	2	5	0	76	153	6th

* * *

IN BASKETBALL Tom's team lost the opener to Barrington in the fall of '44, 30-28, then won all the rest for his first cage title. In '47 only loss was to Grant, 42-40, as his Bisons won the championship. He also copped 2 seconds and a third.

Here is cage record:

Year	W	L	Pts	Opp	Fin
1943	9	1	333	238	2nd
1944	9	1	392	268	1st
1945	10	4	574	447	2nd
1946	9	5	634	502	3rd
1947	13	1	680	430	1st

It is reported Coach Meneguin's baseball squad won titles in '47, '51 and '52, though time was too short to check the records of Paddock Publications when baseball was an abbreviated sport at many schools.

Palatine Frosh Lose To Heights

BY GEOFFREY JOHN

Arlington defeated Palatine 26-13 at Arlington. The whole game was played in heavy rains.

Arlington got the scoring started when Morris plunged over from the two yard line. He then made the conversion. Morris made a second touchdown on another line plunge but the extra point attempt was no good.

ARLINGTON'S third and fourth touchdown came on runs by Saunders and Barber. Both extra points were good. Palatine's touch downs came on a line plunge by Joe Fischer and a 65 yard pass play from Joe Fischer to Tom Wietzel.

The heavy rains made it quite hard to play although Arlington's running attack was good and they had a good defense. Palatine is looking much better every game they play although their passing attack could be better.

Arlington In 5-Way Tie For First In League

It'll be homecoming at Arlington Heights high school this weekend with Cardinal gridders taking on LaGrange in the main attraction Friday night. A full evening of festivities is planned for Friday, though enthusiasm of fans will center on the varsity contest.

Both Heights and LaGrange are tied for first with 2 wins, 1 loss, as are Hinsdale, Maine and Riverside. Maine travels to Hinsdale Saturday with Riversideat Downers. Thus that 5-way tie is certain to be cut to just 2 or 3 teams at the top by Saturday.

WHETHER HEIGHTS can beat LaGrange is questionable. The Lions have always been rough on Arlington. They've beaten the locals 22-0, 32-0, 13-6 and 19-0 since Cardinals joined the West Suburban.

But this time Heights fans think the local team "has the horses." There's number 1 threat Sujack, who has run back kickoffs for touchdowns several times, though penalties have nullified a couple of them. There's Summers, who plays a hard driving game, there's Ebert, sporting about the best ground gaining average in the backfield.

Kingpin of the line is Wayne Malzahn whose leadership and ability to "go both ways" is a big factor in Arlington strong defensive play. Then there are Weber and Harrington, playing great defensive ball at ends. Striegel has been a big help, too, at times, as have others in the line.

GOOD WEATHER should bring out a good crowd, $2,000 strong, for the homecoming tilt. Early arriving fans will see 4 games, including 2 midget tilts. Between soph and varsity games will be a 20 minute interlude of introduction of prize winning homecoming floats, queen and her attendants, national anthem, and arrival of competing teams on the field amidst bursting fireworks.

At halftime the high school band will put on another entertaining show, with the queen drawing the name of the winner of the homecoming football, autographed by Heights players and coaches. Fans should arrive early for choice seats.

Cards Plan Victory Over LaGrange In Homecoming Tilt

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

Dick McAuliffe

DICK McAULIFFE, 220 pound giant from Arlington Heights, is making himself heard for Carleton college gridders this fall, and is playing a whale of a game. He won all-conference honors as a sophomore last year as his team rolled to its first Midwest conference grid title in 18 years. Last fall Carleton was noted for its defense; the titlists limited their opponents to an average of 7.38 points per game, and only two foes were able to score more than one TD. This year the defense has been somewhat overshadowed by the Carls' split-T attack, but in the 33-0 win over Monmouth recently the defense showed itself almost on a level with last season. Carleton lost to St. Olaf Saturday, however. McAuliffe is equally at home on offense or defense. According to Coach Wally Hass, he is "a very steady player—not a flashy one, but a player who does his job exceedingly well." This dependability was noted by the conference coaches last fall when they named "Mac" to the first all-conference team.

Hass feels that McAuliffe is "a better player now than he was last year, since he has shown at least the normal amount of improvement between his first and second varsity seasons." He is extremely agile for a big (6-4½) man, and his size and speed have disconcerted many opposing passers, among others.

McAuliffe, who won five letters at Arlington Heights high school, is also a member of the Carleton basketball and track squads. Last year he received all-conference mention in basketball, and captured fifth place in the shotput at the loop track meet.

FOOTBALL ENTHUSIASM is running high at Arlington after a sparsity of victories these past several seasons. Most optimistic fans are pulling for a championship, the first in Arlington's history since 1939, not counting an abbreviated 3-school title just after Northeast conference broke up in 1948.

But the sober sides still believe you have to win 'em one at a time, with LaGrange, Glenbard, Riverside and York still to be heard from.

And they're right. Some Card players are conceding victories over LaGrange, Glenbard and York, and thinking about Riverside. Such thoughts will not win any titles, particularly in the case of LaGrange which has yet to lose a varsity football game to Heights. We think Heights could win 3 of its remaining 4 games, and at least tie for the title. We hope this comes to pass.

JOHN SUJACK AND WAYNE MALZAHN are gaining stature in the West Suburban league as the season progresses. These 2 Heights stalwarts are playing football the likes of which hasn't been seen in several years.

Sujack has become a triple threat, adding punting to his speed, deception and power. He should make all-league, perhaps even rate an all-state berth as 70-yard dashes for touchdowns are becoming as common for him as officials' whistles on the gridiron.

Those same whistles, by the way, have kept Sujack from racking up still more points. Inopportune penalties have nullified his TD efforts on at least 3 occasions. Then there's Wayne Malzahn, one of the greatest tackles Heights has ever seen. His leadership is establishing new records of performance for the Heights defense, with a good many hard tackles of opponents for losses on the books.

Wayne has missed just 3 minutes of 4 games to date, and has had no equal among opposing tackles thus far. All this from a man converted from fullback!

Of course it's the other 9 boys who have helped make these 2 such standouts, with stamina a big help. In past years Heights teams have folded, physically, towards the end of every game. This time it's "the other guys" who are doing the folding.

IT SEEMS RIDICULOUS to think adults attending football games would have to be reminded of respect due the American flag during playing of the national anthem. But that is the case at Arlington Heights where plenty of late comers fail to either stop walking or talking when the high school band plays the Star Spangled Banner.

Perhaps it's because these adults have been away from school so many years they've forgotten how to act with respect to the flag.

For the men, take off your hat and hold it over your heart, or if hatless, hold your right hand over your heart. Women are to simply stand still. Everyone should face the flag and remain quiet. These simple instructions may not be letter-perfect, but they fill the bill and make this writer stop and think a bit about freedom and what the flag represents.

OLD HOME WEEK will be observed at St. Phillips stadium in Chicago Saturday afternoon when Carthage meets Navy Pier in football . . . Co-captain and quarterback John Eakins of Arlington will be in action with his 2 high school varsity coaches, Curtis Larsen and "Bus" Ormsbee officiating . . . Larsen brought John up to the varsity his sophomore year with Ormsbee directing him his junior and senior years . . . Game time is 1:30 in the stadium at 300 S. Kedzie (3200 west) with Larsen serving as umpire and Ormsbee head linesman.

Booster club is becoming a real help to Arlington athletic teams, providing oranges and moral backing for the players, purchasing lots of tickets for homecoming football to help pay for the scoreboard, etc.

This week the club announced it will provide a scholarship trophy to letterman with highest scholastic average in each of 9 sports conducted at Arlington Heights high school . . . The club is always willing to accept additional memberships, by the way, at only $1.00 per year . . . New coach Bob Scott is providing a lot of spark for the varsity this year, and even wears shirts with "Arlington" label inside the collar . . . That must indicate the school is close to his heart . . . Brother of varsity grid captain Jack Ebert at Heights is Dave Ebert, playing left guard for the freshmen . . . Jack plays fullback . . . West Suburban conference cross country meet will be held at LaGrange Saturday, Oct. 22.

DOWN AT ILLINOIS Jim McMillen, all-Northwest league lineman from Antioch, is on the frosh team . . . He's the son of the former Illini-Bear-wrestler . . . Starting for Iowa State this year are Jack Falter of Downers, WSC all-leaguer 2 years ago, and Jack Tilles of Mt. Prospect, soph guard . . . Other Downers boys on the team include halfback Chuck Gates and halfback Jack Dee.

Emblems will be given to midget football winners at Arlington this year with all boys consistently attending practices receiving certificates.

Fick of Maine suffered 3 cracked vertebrae against Riverside last week, will be in a cast 5 weeks, according to reports . . . Receipts of last summer's Bear game at Maine enabled Elks club to purchase a diathermy machine for the athletic department . . . Maine's John Kilcullen is now No. 1 for DeKalb college cross country team.

Palatine Aims For 1st Win Vs. Wauconda

by G. A. McELROY

Friday night Palatine high will be playing their fifth game in an eight game football schedule and still looking for their first victory. Injuries to key players hurt Palatine from the start but they are gradually working back to the form expected of them. There will be a tremendous incentive to beat Wauconda's varsity team Friday night and get that first victory, because it will be Palatine's homecoming.

Wauconda is one of the better teams in the conference boasting a 2-1 league record and 3-1 for the season. The Bulldogs, on the season record, would appear to rate a 2 touchdown edge over Palatine, but homecoming and a home field may even the odds.

Wauconda has the heaviest team in the league, one of the most deceptive and best forward passing quarterbacks in Bill Weinberg, a junior; and the best all round player in the conference in Gene Jaskot who can run with the ball, catch passes, block, and play a bang up defensive game backing up the line. There will be plenty of razzle dazzle passing and wide open stuff Friday night of the type fans like to watch.

COACH FEUTZ has plenty of chance to look over all of his material in action and fans can be assured the strongest possible lineup will take the field to make homecoming an event to be remembered.

A possibility that at least one of the injured stars may be ready for action is raising the hopes of Palatine backers. Who Feutz will start will not be known until the team takes the field Friday.

The frosh-soph game starts at 6:30 with Palatine a heavy favorite. The Pirate sophs are undefeated winning three in a row after being tied by Barrington in the opening game.

ALSO FRIDAY night in the Northwest conference Grant will be playing a doubleheader at Glenbrook where they will be very much the underdog. Glenbrook won four in a row in handy fashion and Grant, short on material at the start, has been riddled by a half dozen injuries to first line performers.

Saturday afternoon Grayslake will travel to Ela-Vernon to meet a very strong defensive team which, week by week, is showing improvement.

The Rams appear to have too much class and power for Ela the odds are not so great but what Ela could provide an upset. Grayslake players may get caught napping in this one for they may be looking ahead to the big one with Glenbrook the following Saturday.

SATURDAY evening Fenton will play a doubleheader at Antioch. The Bensenville boys are smarting under a string of 9 straight defeats over 2 seasons and the time is ripe for a Bison victory. We have an idea Fenton boys are going to win a big one for Tom Meneguin before the season is over and this may be it.

Most of the teams in the conference are so evenly matched that that little extra try, spirit, and determination makes the difference between winning and losing.

The Bisons have remaining on their schedule Antioch, Palatine, Grant, and Grayslake in that order, plus a postponed game with Ela-Vernon.

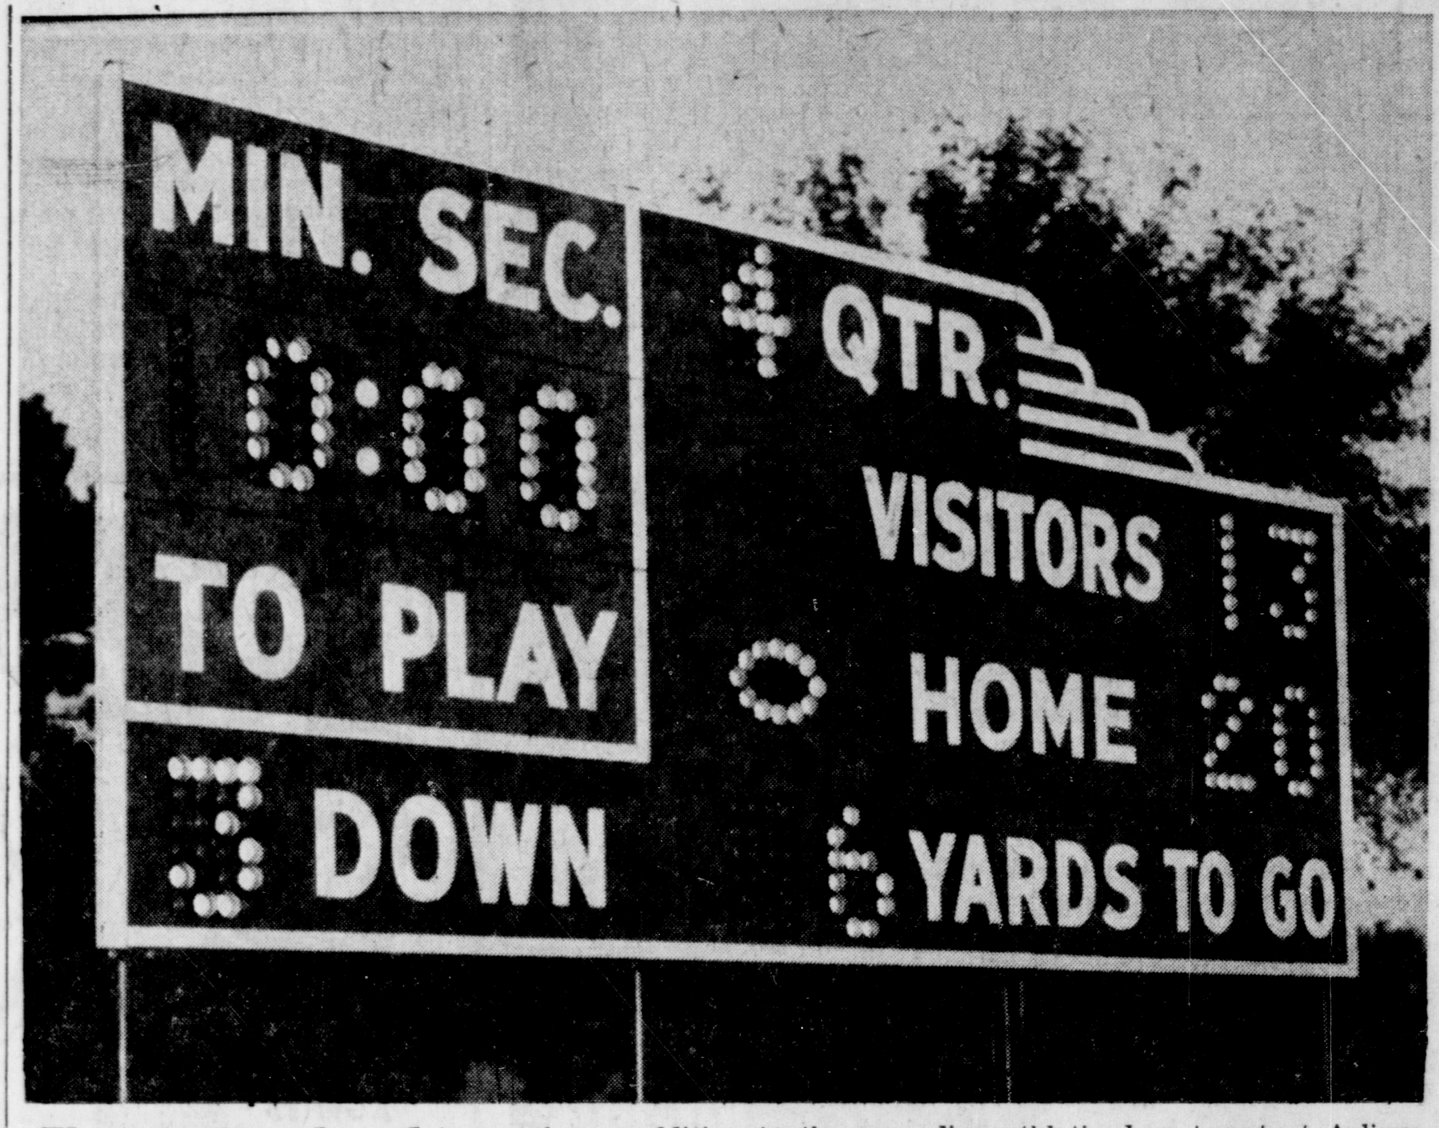
INDIVIDUAL scoring, not too important a factor in football, this year has become a three-man proposition. Last year Boyd and Eck staged a real battle for top honors with Boyd breaking the league record with 76.

With 3 games played Gene Jaskot of Wauconda has 33, Gale Peregrin of Grayslake 31, and Bob Boyd of Glenbrook 30. Duane Harms of Glenbrook and Bill Moore of Grayslake are close behind with 24.

Jaskot, the leader, has made all his points except six by catching passes from Bill Weinberg. In the final minute of play at Grant last Saturday night Jaskot ran with the ball on an end around play and sprinted 66 yards for a touchdown. Last year Jaskot played half back on offense and end on defense. This year he plays end on offense and middle line backer on defense.



The new scoreboard is a welcome addition to the expending athletic department at Arlington Heights high school, particularly when it shows a Cardinal win as it did in the conference opener against Hinsdale. The board is a gift of the "A" club, which is trying to raise the final $700 through selling tickets on the homecoming football with LaGrange Friday night. The local eleven is currently tied for first place in West Suburban loop competition. —Staff Photo

The toe of Lew Green has been a big help to Arlington's football Cardinals as they won 2 of 3 league games to date. Most high school football teams do not have a man who can consistently kick points after. Lew is the answer to the problem at Heights. He is shown kicking here with captain Jack Ebert holding the ball. —Staff Photo

Recall Championship Teams Of Meneguin

Tom Meneguin won his share of championships in 12 years of coaching at Fenton high school.

Tom died Saturday morning at Du Page Memorial hospital in Elmhurst, a result of nervous strain and worry over his team's efforts over the years.

A glance at the records of Paddock Publications reveals Meneguin-coached teams won 2 football championships and 2 basketball titles. It is also believed Tom won 3 league baseball titles.

MENEGUIN came to Bensenville high school in 1943, coaching football 12 years, basketball 5 years and baseball 10. Frank Novatny took over the cage reins in the fall of '48 as duties of athletic director increased.

Tom won titles in football in 1944 and 1947. His teams took second in '43, '45, '46 and '48. That '44 championship was marred by a 20-7 loss to Grant and a 6-6 tie with Northbrook. In '47 only loss was to Grant, 15-14. Bensenville and Grant tied for the title.

Only losses for second place teams were to Northbrook and Palatine in '43, Northbrook and Barrington in '45, 7-6 to Northbrook in '46, and to Barrington 26-0 and a tie with Grant 7-7 in '48. Here are season conference records for his football teams:

Year	W	L	T	Pts	Opp	Fin
1943	3	2	0	74	40	2nd
1944	3	1	1	48	39	1st
1945	3	2	0	56	54	2nd
1946	4	1	0	99	19	2nd
1947	4	1	0	148	29	1st
1948	3	1	1	65	33	2nd
1949	3	3	0	60	76	5th
1950	3	4	0	97	130	5th
1951	2	5	0	43	138	5th
1952	0	6	0	39	152	8th
1953	2	5	0	76	153	6th

* * *

IN BASKETBALL Tom's team lost the opener to Barrington in the fall of '44, 30-28, then won all the rest for his first cage title. In '47 only loss was to Grant, 42-40, as his Bisons won the championship. He also copped 2 seconds and a third.

Here is cage record:

Year	W	L	Pts	Opp	Fin
1943	9	1	333	238	2nd
1944	9	1	392	268	1st
1945	10	4	574	447	2nd
1946	9	5	634	502	3rd
1947	13	1	680	430	1st

It is reported Coach Meneguin's baseball squad won titles in '47, '51 and '52, though time was too short to check the records of Paddock Publications when baseball was an abbreviated sport at many schools.

Palatine Frosh Lose To Heights

BY GEOFFREY JOHN

Arlington defeated Palatine 26-13 at Arlington. The whole game was played in heavy rains.

Arlington got the scoring started when Morris plunged over from the two yard line. He then made the conversion. Morris made a second touchdown on another line plunge but the extra point attempt was no good.

ARLINGTON'S third and fourth touchdown came on runs by Saunders and Barber. Both extra points were good. Palatine's touch downs came on a line plunge by Joe Fischer and a 65 yard pass play from Joe Fischer to Tom Wietzel.

The heavy rains made it quite hard to play although Arlington's running attack was good and they had a good defense. Palatine is looking much better every game they play although their passing attack could be better.

Arlington In 5-Way Tie For First In League

It'll be homecoming at Arlington Heights high school this weekend with Cardinal gridders taking on LaGrange in the main attraction Friday night. A full evening of festivities is planned for Friday, though enthusiasm of fans will center on the varsity contest.

Both Heights and LaGrange are tied for first with 2 wins, 1 loss, as are Hinsdale, Maine and Riverside. Maine travels to Hinsdale Saturday with Riversideat Downers. Thus that 5-way tie is certain to be cut to just 2 or 3 teams at the top by Saturday.

WHETHER HEIGHTS can beat LaGrange is questionable. The Lions have always been rough on Arlington. They've beaten the locals 22-0, 32-0, 13-6 and 19-0 since Cardinals joined the West Suburban.

But this time Heights fans think the local team "has the horses." There's number 1 threat Sujack, who has run back kickoffs for touchdowns several times, though penalties have nullified a couple of them. There's Summers, who plays a hard driving game, there's Ebert, sporting about the best ground gaining average in the backfield.

Kingpin of the line is Wayne Malzahn whose leadership and ability to "go both ways" is a big factor in Arlington strong defensive play. Then there are Weber and Harrington, playing great defensive ball at ends. Striegel has been a big help, too, at times, as have others in the line.

GOOD WEATHER should bring out a good crowd, $2,000 strong, for the homecoming tilt. Early arriving fans will see 4 games, including 2 midget tilts. Between soph and varsity games will be a 20 minute interlude of introduction of prize winning homecoming floats, queen and her attendants, national anthem, and arrival of competing teams on the field amidst bursting fireworks.

At halftime the high school band will put on another entertaining show, with the queen drawing the name of the winner of the homecoming football, autographed by Heights players and coaches. Fans should arrive early for choice seats.

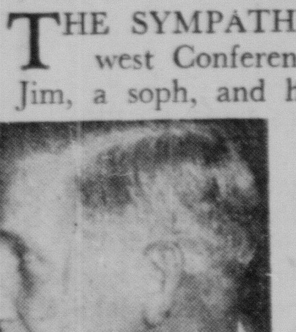
MAC SAYS

by G. A. McElroy

THE SYMPATHY of this publication and the Northwest Conference is extended to Mrs. Meneguin, her son, Jim, a soph, and her daughter, Lenore, a 7th grader, as the schools, coaches, and others mourn the untimely death of Tom Meneguin, athletic director and football coach of Fenton high school of Bensenville. Meneguin had coached and directed the athletic destines of Bensenville high athletics for the past 12 years and had brought championships to the school in football, basketball and baseball. Meneguin had a great competitive spirit as a coach and earlier as a college athlete.



Tom Meneguin

Tom had much ability as a teacher of athletic skills but was his own worst critic. Like many coaches of this area he felt and imagined pressures upon him for winning teams which did not exist to the extent they do in other areas of Illinois. Poor material in recent years intensified the strain upon Tom as a coach and this coming at a time when he was suffering but not giving in to ill health contributed to a condition which got the best of him.

His sudden passing from the athletic scene at Fenton high is a great shock to the students and the community as well as to those outside who knew him through athletic relationships. Meneguin had much to do with the planning of the athletic facilities at the new Fenton High School, but more important and of greater value, has been his influence and work with the hundreds of young men whom he has directed in the athletic program at Bensenville High. The Northwest Conference and the Bensenville Community will miss and long remember Tom Meneguin.

THE STATE DISTRICT cross country competition is scheduled over the state for Saturday, October 29, with the state meet at Urbana Saturday, November 5. Last year 119 schools participated in district runs and 45 sent boys to the state event where Proviso high of Maywood was the winner with Peoria Woodruff the runnerup. This year, as usual, Palatine and Arlington Heights will compete at Evanston along with all the big schools of the North Shore, those of Lake county and the part of Cook county north of Lake street.

Little Dan Kusek, 120 pound 5' 4" Palatine sophomore, has been showing the way for Pirate cross country runners of late as Palatine won 3 of their first 4 meets. Kusek is showing the determination and competitive spirit which we remember so well in the case of Klaus Timmerhaus back in the early forties.

Timmerhaus, in his first years of track, trailed the field by 220 yards in the long runs but by sheer determination, hard training, and desire to excel became one of the best milers in the area and later a letterman in track at the University of Illinois.

PALATINE is experimenting with a change in homecoming this year. Instead of the usual Saturday afternoon parade and game the Pirates will play a doubleheader with Wauconda Friday night and have the parade at 3:30 on Friday afternoon.

The fact that there is no school Friday, due to teachers institute, gives students a holiday to get their floats ready for the parade. This way the games will be played under lights with less competition from Saturday college football and fall Saturday activities of the persons who like to see the prep athletes play.

JERL MAY, 215 pound tackle on Glenbrook's undefeated team of 1954, has made the first string freshman team at Michigan State. Coaches at Michigan State speak highly of May's possibilities. The Northbrook athlete was twice all-conference tackle and was a very good performer in the shot and discus in track.

Larry Borre, football guard of all conference caliber, is enrolled at Northwestern where he will concentrate on wrestling for his sports activity. Borre went to the state meet last year.

Dave Corso, Glenbrook fullback, is out for the grid sport at Northern Illinois State College at DeKalb and Ken Schulteis, all round fine performer in football, basketball, and baseball, is at the University of Colorado.

ONE OF THE WORST football injuries of the season came a week ago Saturday to one of the best players in the suburban area. Barrington's star quarterback Walbaum suffered a dislocated ankle and a compound fracture of both bones in a leg in the game with Warren. We did not see the game, but we understand he was hit by three players at the same time from different angles and that more got into the act as he was downed.

We know Walbaum, as ball handler deluxe and key to the success of the Barrington team, was the target of opposing defensive linemen at all times. We hope his injury was not the result of an effort to get him out of the game. Such tactics are within the rules but violate the spirit of them.

Walbaum, a junior, was a fine varsity basketball player last year and it is doubtful he will see any action in sports this school year.

WE HAVE SELDOM SEEN a football team make such a reversal of form as did Grayslake in the second half against Palatine last Saturday. The Pirates never had a chance after Coach Pat Rooney sent his Rams out for the second half.

Bill Moore, Grayslake fullback, appears to be a cinch all-conference selection if he continues at the present pace.

The Rams have the potential to push Glenbrook plenty hard when the two undefeated teams square off in the showdown meet at Grayslake Saturday afternoon, October 22.

THERE MAY BE some developments coming soon in suburban sports as the result of meetings this week. Wednesday Northwest conference principals were in session from 3:00 to 5:30 and the topic will be evaluation and examination of the present athletic program in the conference.

Some changes are due to come but it will take more than one meeting before there will be any big news.

Thursday the realignment committee of the association of suburban conferences will go into session at Leyden high school in Franklin Park. The committee has a new chairman in Ted Birkhead of Bremen township high school who, as former principal at Antioch, got realignment study started five years ago in this area. His efforts led to the formation of the organization of suburban conferences, but the group almost immediately lost sight of the purpose for which it was formed. Perhaps the founder can get some emphasis placed on a problem which is year by year becoming more acute.

Arlington Harriers Whip Downers

Arlington Heights cross country team tripped Downers Grove Friday, 27-34, with Bill Palmer once again taking top honors for the Cardinals. Coach Russ Attis now has 2 sophomores within his first 5 boys, plus 2 juniors and a senior.

Winning points for Arlington were Palmer (in 9:51), Wayne Haemker 5th, Alan Hutchinson 6th, Dick Koopman 7th, Les Vaughn 8th. For Downers it was Ehninger 2nd, Larson 3rd, Schultz 4th, Fusco 11th, Wyman 14th.

Card Frosh Beat Downers

An improving freshman football team gave Arlington a 15-6 victory over Downers Grove Monday, with the locals looking good on defense. Pass protection was also well handled Monday. Loss was Downers' first this year.

Arlington kicked off with Downers losing 45 yards in 4 plays for a safety, Whitelaw gaining credit for the nailing. Visitors came back with a touchdown the same quarter on a pass through the middle to tall, rangy Lutgens.

IN THE SECOND period Heights moved from its 35 to the Downers 3 on a series of power plays, plus a 15 yard penalty, from where Jim Morris carried across. Allan Sander plunged for the point after.

Arlington scored again in the third period when Downers fumbled on its own 30. Locals moved up on a series of plunges. With 4th and 3 on the 3, Jeff Heintz tossed a pass to right end Dick Bader for the TD. Dave Buren's attempted point after plunge was no good.

MOST OF THE GAME was played between the 20 yard stripes. Coach Curtis Larsen reports he's pleased with progress of his squad, but that "blocking, tackling and pass defense are still No. 1 in practice sessions."

This Monday Heights will meet LaGrange, which lost to Downers, but will provide stiff competition. A few minor injuries were sustained against Downers but only Clyde Hertlein will miss the LaGrange game due to a bad cold.

Manpower Pays Off For Glenbrook Against Antioch

Antioch gave Glenbrook a very good battle for 3 quarters but superior manpower finally took its toll and the Spartans beat the Sequoits last Friday night at Northbrook 26-6. Antioch trailed by only 14-6 going into the final period.

The Sequoits scored in the second quarter on a 60 yard march climaxed by a 2 yard touchdown plunge by Don Schroeder. Glenbrook got an automatic safety in the first period when a bad pass from center by Antioch rolled out of the end zone.

Harms scored twice in the first half for Glenbrook on quarterback sneaks of 2 and 4 yards. In the final quarter Bob Bacon tallied on a 23 yard end run and Bob Boyd took a 21 yard pass from sub quarterback Dick Rinella for a touchdown.

It was Glenbrook's fourth straight win and their third in a row in Northwest Conference play. Glenbrook frosh-sophs took their third win in 4 games 15-0. Their only defeat this year was to Palatine.

Wayne Rolfs and Marian Ovitt are club champs at Rob Roy golf club. Wayne defeated Raleigh Westfall 1-up in 36 holes in the elimination tournament for his title. Marian defeated Myrtle Westfall 2-up in 18 holes for ladies honors.

Ted Williams of the Red Sox didn't have any spring training, and he was laid up for ten days with a bad back in mid-season. Yet, says The Sporting News, he would up with a fantastic .781 slugging percentage, with 250 total bases in 320 official times at bat. Fifty-two of his 114 hits went for extra bases. They included 28 homers, three triples and 21 doubles. His battting average was .356, but he lacked the 400 times at bat to qualify for the league title.

Heights JVs Win

Arlington's Jayvee football squad won its first victory of the year at Downers Grove Monday, 13-6. Winning touchdown was scored by Steingraber with just 2 seconds left to play.

Neither team scored until the final period when Coach Art Serfling's Heights squad partially blocked a Downers punt. A pass from Tom Thackery to Bill Randag was good for 40 yards and the TD.

After Downers retaliated Arlington assembled a series of passes and running plays as time was short, with Fred Steingraber going across from the 1 just before game ended. Next JV game will be Monday, Oct. 24, at Glenbard.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McElroy

THE SYMPATHY of this publication and the Northwest Conference is extended to Mrs. Meneguin, her son, Jim, a soph, and her daughter, Lenore, a 7th grader, as the schools, coaches, and others mourn the untimely death of Tom Meneguin, athletic director and football coach of Fenton high school of Bensenville. Meneguin had coached and directed the athletic destines of Bensenville high athletics for the past 12 years and had brought championships to the school in football, basketball and baseball. Meneguin had a great competitive spirit as a coach and earlier as a college athlete.

Tom Meneguin

Tom had much ability as a teacher of athletic skills but was his own worst critic. Like many coaches of this area he felt and imagined pressures upon him for winning teams which did not exist to the extent they do in other areas of Illinois. Poor material in recent years intensified the strain upon Tom as a coach and this coming at a time when he was suffering but not giving in to ill health contributed to a condition which got the best of him.

His sudden passing from the athletic scene at Fenton high is a great shock to the students and the community as well as to those outside who knew him through athletic relationships. Meneguin had much to do with the planning of the athletic facilities at the new Fenton High School, but more important and of greater value, has been his influence and work with the hundreds of young men whom he has directed in the athletic program at Bensenville High. The Northwest Conference and the Bensenville Community will miss and long remember Tom Meneguin.

THE STATE DISTRICT cross country competition is scheduled over the state for Saturday, October 29, with the state meet at Urbana Saturday, November 5. Last year 119 schools participated in district runs and 45 sent boys to the state event where Proviso high of Maywood was the winner with Peoria Woodruff the runnerup. This year, as usual, Palatine and Arlington Heights will compete at Evanston along with all the big schools of the North Shore, those of Lake county and the part of Cook county north of Lake street.

Little Dan Kusek, 120 pound 5' 4" Palatine sophomore, has been showing the way for Pirate cross country runners of late as Palatine won 3 of their first 4 meets. Kusek is showing the determination and competitive spirit which we remember so well in the case of Klaus Timmerhaus back in the early forties.

Timmerhaus, in his first years of track, trailed the field by 220 yards in the long runs but by sheer determination, hard training, and desire to excel became one of the best milers in the area and later a letterman in track at the University of Illinois.

PALATINE is experimenting with a change in homecoming this year. Instead of the usual Saturday afternoon parade and game the Pirates will play a doubleheader with Wauconda Friday night and have the parade at 3:30 on Friday afternoon.

The fact that there is no school Friday, due to teachers institute, gives students a holiday to get their floats ready for the parade. This way the games will be played under lights with less competition from Saturday college football and fall Saturday activities of the persons who like to see the prep athletes play.

JERL MAY, 215 pound tackle on Glenbrook's undefeated team of 1954, has made the first string freshman team at Michigan State. Coaches at Michigan State speak highly of May's possibilities. The Northbrook athlete was twice all-conference tackle and was a very good performer in the shot and discus in track.

Larry Borre, football guard of all conference caliber, is enrolled at Northwestern where he will concentrate on wrestling for his sports activity. Borre went to the state meet last year.

Dave Corso, Glenbrook fullback, is out for the grid sport at Northern Illinois State College at DeKalb and Ken Schulteis, all round fine performer in football, basketball, and baseball, is at the University of Colorado.

ONE OF THE WORST football injuries of the season came a week ago Saturday to one of the best players in the suburban area. Barrington's star quarterback Walbaum suffered a dislocated ankle and a compound fracture of both bones in a leg in the game with Warren. We did not see the game, but we understand he was hit by three players at the same time from different angles and that more got into the act as he was downed.

We know Walbaum, as ball handler deluxe and key to the success of the Barrington team, was the target of opposing defensive linemen at all times. We hope his injury was not the result of an effort to get him out of the game. Such tactics are within the rules but violate the spirit of them.

Walbaum, a junior, was a fine varsity basketball player last year and it is doubtful he will see any action in sports this school year.

WE HAVE SELDOM SEEN a football team make such a reversal of form as did Grayslake in the second half against Palatine last Saturday. The Pirates never had a chance after Coach Pat Rooney sent his Rams out for the second half.

Bill Moore, Grayslake fullback, appears to be a cinch all-conference selection if he continues at the present pace.

The Rams have the potential to push Glenbrook plenty hard when the two undefeated teams square off in the showdown meet at Grayslake Saturday afternoon, October 22.

THERE MAY BE some developments coming soon in suburban sports as the result of meetings this week. Wednesday Northwest conference principals were in session from 3:00 to 5:30 and the topic will be evaluation and examination of the present athletic program in the conference.

Some changes are due to come but it will take more than one meeting before there will be any big news.

Thursday the realignment committee of the association of suburban conferences will go into session at Leyden high school in Franklin Park. The committee has a new chairman in Ted Birkhead of Bremen township high school who, as former principal at Antioch, got realignment study started five years ago in this area. His efforts led to the formation of the organization of suburban conferences, but the group almost immediately lost sight of the purpose for which it was formed. Perhaps the founder can get some emphasis placed on a problem which is year by year becoming more acute.

Strong Defense Pays Off In Victory Over Downers

Arlington's football team is winning!

That was the big news around Heights Saturday morning after the Cardinals won their second victory in West Suburban league play in 3 starts.

The win put the locals in a 5-way tie for first place in the league, unfamiliar spot for the Cards in football.

THE LOCALS beat Downers Grove on the home field Friday night, 16-7, scoring a touchdown and a safety the second quarter and another TD the third period. In final quarter Downers scored.

Heads up ball and a strong defense were the biggest contributing factors in the Heights victory, though the running of triple-threat John Sujack, Jim Summers, Jack Ebert and Denny Thill all helped, as did the blocking and great defensive play of the entire line. Wayne Malzahn and Dennis Striegel led the way in this department.

ARLINGTON STARTED for its own 20 and advanced to the Downers 31 in 8 plays, then fumbled. Downers went nowhere and punted with Cardinals moving from their 20 to the 41, then punting. Again Downers was held and punted with Heights doing the same as the quarter ended.

Early in the second period the first Arlington scoring drive began. Sujack carried 7 yards to the 32, thence to the 36. Ebert pushed to the 49, but the squad was penalized 5 yards from where Summers went back to the Downers 49. Thill carried to the 44, Sujack to the 39. A pass put the ball on the 20 with Ebert carrying the ball on 5 of 7 plays for a touchdown. Lew Green kicked the point after.

A PENALTY against Downers enabled Coach Ormsbee's eleven to kick off from the Donwers 45, with 3 penalties and a Downers fumble keeping the ball within the Trojan 25. Heights finally lost the ball on downs on the 24, but Downers was immediately penalized 15 yards. Soon after came the safety.

Sujack ran for 70 yards for a TD in the third period but the play was called back to the 32 for clipping. Nine plays later Heights had another TD, with the help of a couple of penalties. Thill snuck across the final 2 yards. Once again Lew Green kicked the point after.

A FUMBLE and a 15-yard penalty the end of the third quarter put Arlington behind the 8-ball, with Downers scoring from the Heights 29 in 4 plays, Caracello making the touchdown. Mike Williams tallied the extra point.

Heights spent the rest of the quarter in Downers territory, gaining momentum as Downers tired, but couldn't score again. Locals did reach the 2-yard line at one point, but failed to score.

LOOKING GOOD on defense for Heights were ends Bob Harrington and Jack Weber. They seldom let Downers get outside, then only for small gains.

Heights moved on the ground 50 times, with Sujack averaging 4.3 on 33 carries, Ebert 4.2 on 12 carries, and Thill 3.4 on 12 carries. Jim Summers averaged 2.9 on 7 carries with Ed Meinken averaging 5.2 on 6 carries.

The locals held a 198-77 advantage on rushing and 87-24 in the air. They completed 6 of 13 passes to 2 of 7 for Downers.

Sizzling On The College Grid

The near-epic Chicago Bear-Green Bay Packer pro football rivalry will be reflected in the Northern Illinois State-Bradley university grid game at DeKalb Saturday, Oct. 15. The rival coaches in the Northern Homecoming game are alumni of the two professional teams.

Bradley is headed by Billy Stone of recent Bear fame, while the Huskies are coached by Bob Kahler, member of the Green Bay Packers' world championship team of 1944. Both Kahler and Stone are in their first year as head coach at the two schools.

Bradley and Northern have had only one common rival this fall — Illinois Normal. The Braves dropped the Redbirds, 18-7, in the season's opener; and the Huskies tied Normal, 7-7, in the second outing of the season.

Kahler builds his hopes for a Huskie victory on the week-by-week improvement of his young squad, plus the added incentive of a large Homecoming crowd, expected to surpass the 10,000 mark. Five freshmen will probably be in the starting line-up again for the Northern eleven. Tackles Dave Vance of Palos Park and Bob Coffey of Rockford, center Don Ebenezer of Rock Falls, quarterback Chuck Boudreau of Kankakee and right halfback Dan Baker of North Chicago are all freshmen with first-string status.

THE EMPHASIS will be on defense this week as Northwestern's thrice-beaten Wildcats prepare to face unbeaten Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday. It will be the 30th game of a series which the Wolverines lead by 19 victories against eight for the Purple. Two games ended in ties. Northwestern's last win was a 6-0 decision in 1951.

Michigan won at Evanston last year, 7-0, on Dan Cline's one yard plunge after the Wolverines recovered a fumble on the Wildcat 24 yard line. Seven fumbles in all plagued the Wildcats, who outgained Michigan in total offense, 274 yards to 89.

This week the Wildcats will seek to bounce back from an 18-7 loss to Minnesota when a lax defense enabled the Gophers to roll up 238 yards by rushing. Loose ball handling also contributed to Northwestern's troubles. The Wildcats committed 6 fumbles and lost the ball twice. One of the miscues set up a Gopher touchdown.

FIRST DIVISION placement in the Big Ten standing will be at stake on Saturday as Purdue and Iowa, both 2-1 for the season and 1-1 in conference competition, clash in the thirty-fourth renewal of a traditional series that will attract a sellout Homecoming throng of approximately 53,000 into the Hawkeye stadium.

Lone losses for both the Hawkeyes and Boilermakers have been provided by league leading Wisconsin. Purdue was upset by the balanced Badgers last Saturday, 9-0, in a great battle featuring the defensive play of the two forward walls, while Iowa lost its second start of the season to Wisconsin, 37-14.

For the first time since the preseason siege of injuries, the Boilermakers are hopeful of being at full physical strength for the invasion of Hawkeye precincts. Neil Habig, promising sophomore center, and Bill Jennings, hard running right halfback, both of whom have yet to play this season, rejoined the squad Monday, ready for scrimmage workouts. If they can get back in game shape within the week, Habig will be able to provide defensive support for Don Fife at center, while Jennings should provide the needed added power at right halfback.

Gearing up the attack, particularly on the ground, provides Coach Stu Holcomb's main objective in preparing for the tossup battle that will determine which team is to remain in Big Ten contention. Defensively, the Boilermakers have been most impressive in their three starts to date, yielding an average per game of only 93.3 yards on the ground and 97.3 yards in the air.

ILLINOIS' football offense is rolling along almost twice as fast as it did in 1954. Although Ohio State helped whittle some of the figures compiled by Illini in first two games, Coach Ray Eliot's gridders still have piled up 1244 yards in 3 games, compared with 1284 in first 6 games last season.

Illinois' 164-17 advantage in the air last Saturday gives the Illini an edge over the combined totals of opponents in passing, the only department in which the Orange and Blue trailed after 2 games. Reserve quarterback Hiles Stout completed 4 of 5 attempts against the Buckeyes to grab the lead among Illini with a .555 average, 10 completions in 18 attempts for 191 yards. Em Lindbeck has completed 10 of 24 attempts for 203 yards.

Abe Woodson still leads in rushing—18 carries for 189 yards and a 10.5 average—and punting. He has kicked 5 times for a 39.6 yard per try average.

Woodson is second in pass receiving, with 3 catches for 59 yards. "Mickey" Bates leads with 5 catches for 105 yards.

Asks Waterfowl Hunters To Help In Mail Survey

John L. Farley, director of the fish and wildlife service, has urged all waterfowl hunters who have received registration cards with the purchase of their federal duck stamps to cooperate with the service by filling out and promptly returning the indicated portion of the form.

This year more than 700 post offices throughout the country have been furnished with double post-card forms which are handed to purchasers of duck stamps at these particular post offices.

One-half of the card is to be filled out by the hunter and returned at once to the service. The other half is to be retained as a sort of scorecard on which the hunter can list the numbers and kinds of waterfowl which he bags during the coming season, and the number of days he hunted.

"This sample of hunters who returned the cards," said director Farley, "will receive questionnaires at the end of the hunting season in which they will be asked to report their seasonal hunting success. It is highly important that all duck stamp purchasers receiving registration cards fill them out and mail them promptly. Cards from everyone contacted are necessary to make our sample representative of the entire hunting population."

Chief purpose of the survey, director Farley explained, is to determine as accurately as possible the extent of the waterfowl hunt that a proper balance between the harvest of these birds and the hunting regulations may continue to be maintained.

Trotters In Chicago

Loyola university gymnasium will be the scene of a gala basketball event on Tuesday night, Oct. 18, when the world-celebrated Harlem Globetrotters headline an exciting event that will benefit the children of La Rabida sanitarium. The magical, world-traveled Globetrotters will be matched against the spectacular Toledo Ohio Mercurys, one of the few teams able to score a decision over them in recent seasons.

The Trotters, owned and coached by Abe Saperstein of Chicago's northwest side, will feature such talented razzle dazzle aces as veterans Ermer Robinson, Josh Grider, Clarence Wilson, Leon Hillard and Andy Johnson, a new comedy king in Bob ("Showboat") Hall and several new stars headed by Jesse Arnelle, last season's Penn State All-American. Palatine Sophs Top Grayslake

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Palatine's frosh-soph team played their third conference game of the season and whipped Grayslake 34-6 giving them a 3-0 record in the conference.

Palatine got an early scoring lead when Richard Wisner ran 65 yards around end and Wisner threw a 13 yard pass to Jordan Danforth for first quarter touchdown. The conversions were made by Danny Lemanski and Richard Wisner. Following the first quarter of play Bob Nordin ran around end for their third touchdown with Wisner kicking the extra point. Palatine got their last two touchdowns on a 31 yard run around end by Wisner and a 10 yard run by Don Teegan. The only conversion was made by Danny Lemanski. With about a minute left Doug Sherman of Grayslake threw a pass to Browning Butler for a touchdown. The play covered 68 yards.

PALATINE'S running attack was again tremendous as was their defensive line, which held Grayslake to a minus 15 yards. Jim Elkeridge, Bill Rogers, and John Gerling seemed to be the real menaces to Grayslake. They stopped running plays, made Sherman throw passes wild, and blocked a kick.

Palatine's passing defense was sparked by Richard Wisner, Don Teegan, Jerry Segsbrecht, and Orrin Helms. Each of them intercepted Grayslake passes. Grayslake had one great advantage, of which they made little use in that they were penalized only 15 yards to Paltine's 65 yards. Grayslake got 97 yards passing to Palatine's 47 yards.

by MAX ZOLINER

Fenton sophomore Bisons copped their second win of the '55 season Tuesday by defeating Ela-Vernon, 14-6, on the Bears' gridiron. Tom McCann, Bison end, provided the scoring punch for Fenton as he scored 2 touchdowns and added an extra point.

After a 55-yard drive, Fenton scored as McCann recovered a Fenton fumble in Ela's end zone. Bison quarterback, Don DiOrio, completed a pass to McCann for the point after for a 7-0 edge.

Taking to the air waves, Fenton scored again in the third quarter on a 60-yard drive, including a 40-yard TD pass from DiOrio to McCann. Terry Biefeld, Fenton back, ran the extra point.

Ela came to life on the final play of the game to make it 14-6.

Spread Formation Good 3 Quarters, But Pirates Lose

by TERRY MOORE

Palatine shifted their offense into a spread formation Saturday but it was not enough as Grayslake took the Pirates 20-7 at Grayslake. Palatine enjoyed a 7-6 lead t the end of the third quarter but the Rams fought back with 2 touchdowns to break the game wide open.

The alert play of Elwood Knutson on defense was outstanding as he recovered three Grayslake fumbles for the Pirates.

NEITHER TEAM scored in the first period of play. A poor punt in the beginning of the second quarter enabled the Pirates to score. The Rams punted 20 yards from their own five to the 25. Palatine halfback Jim Hess made a first down on a 12 yard run. Following an incomplete pass George Beyer passed to Hess in the end zone for the touchdown. Steve Cornwell kicked the extra point making the score 7-0.

Poor punts were the order of the day as a 17 yard Palatine punt in the third quarter have Grayslake the ball on the Pirate 43. Bob Alfredson gained 12 yards in two plays for a first down on the Palatine 31. Fullback Bill Moore plowed for 10 yards and another first down. An eight yard gain by Alfredson and a second eight yard gain by quarterback Gale Peregrin put the ball on the Pirate five. On the next play Peregrin went over for the touchdown. The extra point try by dennis Hunsiker was missed and Palatine still led.

Peregrin intercepted a Palatine pass toward the end of the third quarter which set up the second Ram touchdown. After marching 49 yards in nine plays, Grayslake scored on a two yard plunge by Moore. Hunsiker made the extra point try giving Grayslake the lead they never relinquished.

Towards the end of the game a bad center on a fourth down punt situation by Palatine gave the Rams the ball on the Pirate 14. Three plays later Peregrin scored from seven yards out. The extra point try by Hunsiker was good resulting in the final score of 20-7.

BOTH TEAMS did very poor on total yardage gained as Grayslake gained only 128 yards and Palatine gained a meager 34 yards. The Rams tried only one pass all afternoon which they did not complete. Palatine tried nine passes and completed only one which resulted in a touchdown. Grayslake gained ten first downs compared to Palatine's six.

Card Sophs Lose To Downers

Arlington's frosh-soph gridders took a 25-0 drubbing from Downers Grove Friday night to put the local eleven on the bottom in the standings. Winners tallied twice the second quarter, and once in each of the final 2 periods.

Very poor reaction time and lack of overall speed appeared to cost Coach Bill Beckman's charges the game. Superior rushing yardage gave Downers a 280-190 margin with both teams gaining 31 yards on passes.

Janik took the ball out of Berg's hands for the first Trojan TD. He passed to Dickie for the second, a 25 yard play. Gorecki ran the kickoff back 75 yards for the third touchdown with Pautch plunging 2 yards for the final score against Heights.

Wauconda Pushes 2 Across Final Period To Beat Grant, 27-12

Wauconda scored twice in the final period to rout Grant at Fox Lake Saturday night 27-12 and gain their third win in 4 games this season. It was Wauconda's passing attack which gave them the edge in a stubbornly fought game.

Grant took the lead in the first period on an 18 yard end run by Bob Gaylor but Wauconda led 7-6 at half time as Bill Weinberg tossed a 10 yard pass to Gene Jaskot for a touchdown and the same combination converted for the extra point.

Wauconda tallied again in the third period on a 5 yard plunge by Pintozzi set up by a 15 yard pass to Jaskot. With 7 minutes to play Weinberg threw a 10 yard pass to Thomas for a TD. A 43 yard run by Jaskot set up the scoring situation. With 5 minutes to play Auschback got away for a 43 yard run for Grant and Gaylor again scored on a 3 yard plunge. In the final minute of the game Gene Jaskot circled end for a 66 yard touchdown run.

Palatine Frosh Lose To Grayslake, 12-7

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Palatine's freshman team was defeated by Grayslake 12-7 on two touchdowns that don't often happen when freshman teams play.

Grayslake's first touchdown came when Palatine's center passed bad and the kick was blocked by Lombard on the 28 yard line and he ran for the touchdown. The conversion was no good. Their second touchdown came on an intercepted pass by Striggow who ran 85 yards for the touchdown. Again the conversion was no good. With a few minutes left in the game Tony Mastroianni ran 9 yards around end for Palatine's only touchdown. He then ran over tackle for the extra point.

In the first half Palatine made constant gains by running Joe Fischer and Bill Coates around ends, but each time the drives were stopped by a fumble or they were forced to kick. Grayslake did not have the ball very often during the game but they capatilized on Palatine errors.

Strong Defense Pays Off In Victory Over Downers

Arlington's football team is winning!

That was the big news around Heights Saturday morning after the Cardinals won their second victory in West Suburban league play in 3 starts.

The win put the locals in a 5-way tie for first place in the league, unfamiliar spot for the Cards in football.

THE LOCALS beat Downers Grove on the home field Friday night, 16-7, scoring a touchdown and a safety the second quarter and another TD the third period. In final quarter Downers scored.

Heads up ball and a strong defense were the biggest contributing factors in the Heights victory, though the running of triple-threat John Sujack, Jim Summers, Jack Ebert and Denny Thill all helped, as did the blocking and great defensive play of the entire line. Wayne Malzahn and Dennis Striegel led the way in this department.

ARLINGTON STARTED for its own 20 and advanced to the Downers 31 in 8 plays, then fumbled. Downers went nowhere and punted with Cardinals moving from their 20 to the 41, then punting. Again Downers was held and punted with Heights doing the same as the quarter ended.

Early in the second period the first Arlington scoring drive began. Sujack carried 7 yards to the 32, thence to the 36. Ebert pushed to the 49, but the squad was penalized 5 yards from where Summers went back to the Downers 49. Thill carried to the 44, Sujack to the 39. A pass put the ball on the 20 with Ebert carrying the ball on 5 of 7 plays for a touchdown. Lew Green kicked the point after.

A PENALTY against Downers enabled Coach Ormsbee's eleven to kick off from the Donwers 45, with 3 penalties and a Downers fumble keeping the ball within the Trojan 25. Heights finally lost the ball on downs on the 24, but Downers was immediately penalized 15 yards. Soon after came the safety.

Sujack ran for 70 yards for a TD in the third period but the play was called back to the 32 for clipping. Nine plays later Heights had another TD, with the help of a couple of penalties. Thill snuck across the final 2 yards. Once again Lew Green kicked the point after.

A FUMBLE and a 15-yard penalty the end of the third quarter put Arlington behind the 8-ball, with Downers scoring from the Heights 29 in 4 plays, Caracello making the touchdown. Mike Williams tallied the extra point.

Heights spent the rest of the quarter in Downers territory, gaining momentum as Downers tired, but couldn't score again. Locals did reach the 2-yard line at one point, but failed to score.

LOOKING GOOD on defense for Heights were ends Bob Harrington and Jack Weber. They seldom let Downers get outside, then only for small gains.

Heights moved on the ground 50 times, with Sujack averaging 4.3 on 33 carries, Ebert 4.2 on 12 carries, and Thill 3.4 on 12 carries. Jim Summers averaged 2.9 on 7 carries with Ed Meinken averaging 5.2 on 6 carries.

The locals held a 198-77 advantage on rushing and 87-24 in the air. They completed 6 of 13 passes to 2 of 7 for Downers.

Bradley and Northern have had only one common rival this fall — Illinois Normal. The Braves dropped the Redbirds, 18-7, in the season's opener; and the Huskies tied Normal, 7-7, in the second outing of the season.

Kahler builds his hopes for a Huskie victory on the week-by-week improvement of his young squad, plus the added incentive of a large Homecoming crowd, expected to surpass the 10,000 mark. Five freshmen will probably be in the starting line-up again for the Northern eleven. Tackles Dave Vance of Palos Park and Bob Coffey of Rockford, center Don Ebenezer of Rock Falls, quarterback Chuck Boudreau of Kankakee and right halfback Dan Baker of North Chicago are all freshmen with first-string status.

THE EMPHASIS will be on defense this week as Northwestern's thrice-beaten Wildcats prepare to face unbeaten Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday. It will be the 30th game of a series which the Wolverines lead by 19 victories against eight for the Purple. Two games ended in ties. Northwestern's last win was a 6-0 decision in 1951.

Michigan won at Evanston last year, 7-0, on Dan Cline's one yard plunge after the Wolverines recovered a fumble on the Wildcat 24 yard line. Seven fumbles in all plagued the Wildcats, who outgained Michigan in total offense, 274 yards to 89.

This week the Wildcats will seek to bounce back from an 18-7 loss to Minnesota when a lax defense enabled the Gophers to roll up 238 yards by rushing. Loose ball handling also contributed to Northwestern's troubles. The Wildcats committed 6 fumbles and lost the ball twice. One of the miscues set up a Gopher touchdown.

FIRST DIVISION placement in the Big Ten standing will be at stake on Saturday as Purdue and Iowa, both 2-1 for the season and 1-1 in conference competition, clash in the thirty-fourth renewal of a traditional series that will attract a sellout Homecoming throng of approximately 53,000 into the Hawkeye stadium.

Lone losses for both the Hawkeyes and Boilermakers have been provided by league leading Wisconsin. Purdue was upset by the balanced Badgers last Saturday, 9-0, in a great battle featuring the defensive play of the two forward walls, while Iowa lost its second start of the season to Wisconsin, 37-14.

For the first time since the preseason siege of injuries, the Boilermakers are hopeful of being at full physical strength for the invasion of Hawkeye precincts. Neil Habig, promising sophomore center, and Bill Jennings, hard running right halfback, both of whom have yet to play this season, rejoined the squad Monday, ready for scrimmage workouts. If they can get back in game shape within the week, Habig will be able to provide defensive support for Don Fife at center, while Jennings should provide the needed added power at right halfback.

Gearing up the attack, particularly on the ground, provides Coach Stu Holcomb's main objective in preparing for the tossup battle that will determine which team is to remain in Big Ten contention. Defensively, the Boilermakers have been most impressive in their three starts to date, yielding an average per game of only 93.3 yards on the ground and 97.3 yards in the air.

ILLINOIS' football offense is rolling along almost twice as fast as it did in 1954. Although Ohio State helped whittle some of the figures compiled by Illini in first two games, Coach Ray Eliot's gridders still have piled up 1244 yards in 3 games, compared with 1284 in first 6 games last season.

Illinois' 164-17 advantage in the air last Saturday gives the Illini an edge over the combined totals of opponents in passing, the only department in which the Orange and Blue trailed after 2 games. Reserve quarterback Hiles Stout completed 4 of 5 attempts against the Buckeyes to grab the lead among Illini with a .555 average, 10 completions in 18 attempts for 191 yards. Em Lindbeck has completed 10 of 24 attempts for 203 yards.

Abe Woodson still leads in rushing—18 carries for 189 yards and a 10.5 average—and punting. He has kicked 5 times for a 39.6 yard per try average.

Woodson is second in pass receiving, with 3 catches for 59 yards. "Mickey" Bates leads with 5 catches for 105 yards.

Asks Waterfowl Hunters To Help In Mail Survey

John L. Farley, director of the fish and wildlife service, has urged all waterfowl hunters who have received registration cards with the purchase of their federal duck stamps to cooperate with the service by filling out and promptly returning the indicated portion of the form.

This year more than 700 post offices throughout the country have been furnished with double postcard forms which are handed to purchasers of duck stamps at these particular post offices.

One-half of the card is to be filled out by the hunter and returned at once to the service. The other half is to be retained as a sort of scorecard on which the hunter can list the numbers and kinds of waterfowl which he bags during the coming season, and the number of days he hunted.

"This sample of hunters who returned the cards," said director Farley, "will receive questionnaires at the end of the hunting season in which they will be asked to report their seasonal hunting success. It is highly important that all duck stamp purchasers receiving registration cards fill them out and mail them promptly. Cards from everyone contacted are necessary to make our sample representative of the entire hunting population."

Chief purpose of the survey, director Farley explained, is to determine as accurately as possible the extent of the waterfowl hunt that a proper balance between the harvest of these birds and the hunting regulations may continue to be maintained.

Trotters In Chicago

Loyola university gymnasium will be the scene of a gala basketball event on Tuesday night, Oct. 18, when the world-celebrated Harlem Globetrotters headline an exciting event that will benefit the children of La Rabida sanitarium. The magical, world-traveled Globetrotters will be matched against the spectacular Toledo Ohio Mercurys, one of the few teams able to score a decision over them in recent seasons.

The Trotters, owned and coached by Abe Saperstein of Chicago's northwest side, will feature such talented razzle dazzle aces as veterans Ermer Robinson, Josh Grider, Clarence Wilson, Leon Hillard and Andy Johnson, a new comedy king in Bob ("Showboat") Hall and several new stars headed by Jesse Arnelle, last season's Penn State All-American. Palatine Sophs Top Grayslake

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Palatine's frosh-soph team played their third conference game of the season and whipped Grayslake 34-6 giving them a 3-0 record in the conference.

Palatine got an early scoring lead when Richard Wisner ran 65 yards around end and Wisner threw a 13 yard pass to Jordan Danforth for first quarter touchdown. The conversions were made by Danny Lemanski and Richard Wisner. Following the first quarter of play Bob Nordin ran around end for their third touchdown with Wisner kicking the extra point. Palatine got their last two touchdowns on a 31 yard run around end by Wisner and a 10 yard run by Don Teegan. The only conversion was made by Danny Lemanski. With about a minute left Doug Sherman of Grayslake threw a pass to Browning Butler for a touchdown. The play covered 68 yards.

PALATINE'S running attack was again tremendous as was their defensive line, which held Grayslake to a minus 15 yards. Jim Elkeridge, Bill Rogers, and John Gerling seemed to be the real menaces to Grayslake. They stopped running plays, made Sherman throw passes wild, and blocked a kick.

Palatine's passing defense was sparked by Richard Wisner, Don Teegan, Jerry Segsbrecht, and Orrin Helms. Each of them intercepted Grayslake passes. Grayslake had one great advantage, of which they made little use in that they were penalized only 15 yards to Paltine's 65 yards. Grayslake got 97 yards passing to Palatine's 47 yards.

Fenton Sophs Win Over Ela-Vernon

by MAX ZOLINER

Fenton sophomore Bisons copped their second win of the '55 season Tuesday by defeating Ela-Vernon, 14-6, on the Bears' gridiron. Tom McCann, Bison end, provided the scoring punch for Fenton as he scored 2 touchdowns and added an extra point.

After a 55-yard drive, Fenton scored as McCann recovered a Fenton fumble in Ela's end zone. Bison quarterback, Don DiOrio, completed a pass to McCann for the point after for a 7-0 edge.

Taking to the air waves, Fenton scored again in the third quarter on a 60-yard drive, including a 40-yard TD pass from DiOrio to McCann. Terry Biefeld, Fenton back, ran the extra point.

Ela came to life on the final play of the game to make it 14-6.

Spread Formation Good 3 Quarters, But Pirates Lose

by TERRY MOORE

Palatine shifted their offense into a spread formation Saturday but it was not enough as Grayslake took the Pirates 20-7 at Grayslake. Palatine enjoyed a 7-6 lead t the end of the third quarter but the Rams fought back with 2 touchdowns to break the game wide open.

The alert play of Elwood Knutson on defense was outstanding as he recovered three Grayslake fumbles for the Pirates.

NEITHER TEAM scored in the first period of play. A poor punt in the beginning of the second quarter enabled the Pirates to score. The Rams punted 20 yards from their own five to the 25. Palatine halfback Jim Hess made a first down on a 12 yard run. Following an incomplete pass George Beyer passed to Hess in the end zone for the touchdown. Steve Cornwell kicked the extra point making the score 7-0.

Poor punts were the order of the day as a 17 yard Palatine punt in the third quarter have Grayslake the ball on the Pirate 43. Bob Alfredson gained 12 yards in two plays for a first down on the Palatine 31. Fullback Bill Moore plowed for 10 yards and another first down. An eight yard gain by Alfredson and a second eight yard gain by quarterback Gale Peregrin put the ball on the Pirate five. On the next play Peregrin went over for the touchdown. The extra point try by dennis Hunsiker was missed and Palatine still led.

Peregrin intercepted a Palatine pass toward the end of the third quarter which set up the second Ram touchdown. After marching 49 yards in nine plays, Grayslake scored on a two yard plunge by Moore. Hunsiker made the extra point try giving Grayslake the lead they never relinquished.

Towards the end of the game a bad center on a fourth down punt situation by Palatine gave the Rams the ball on the Pirate 14. Three plays later Peregrin scored from seven yards out. The extra point try by Hunsiker was good resulting in the final score of 20-7.

BOTH TEAMS did very poor on total yardage gained as Grayslake gained only 128 yards and Palatine gained a meager 34 yards. The Rams tried only one pass all afternoon which they did not complete. Palatine tried nine passes and completed only one which resulted in a touchdown. Grayslake gained ten first downs compared to Palatine's six.

Card Sophs Lose To Downers

Arlington's frosh-soph gridders took a 25-0 drubbing from Downers Grove Friday night to put the local eleven on the bottom in the standings. Winners tallied twice the second quarter, and once in each of the final 2 periods.

Very poor reaction time and lack of overall speed appeared to cost Coach Bill Beckman's charges the game. Superior rushing yardage gave Downers a 280-190 margin with both teams gaining 31 yards on passes.

Janik took the ball out of Berg's hands for the first Trojan TD. He passed to Dickie for the second, a 25 yard play. Gorecki ran the kickoff back 75 yards for the third touchdown with Pautch plunging 2 yards for the final score against Heights.

Wauconda Pushes 2 Across Final Period To Beat Grant, 27-12

Wauconda scored twice in the final period to rout Grant at Fox Lake Saturday night 27-12 and gain their third win in 4 games this season. It was Wauconda's passing attack which gave them the edge in a stubbornly fought game.

Grant took the lead in the first period on an 18 yard end run by Bob Gaylor but Wauconda led 7-6 at half time as Bill Weinberg tossed a 10 yard pass to Gene Jaskot for a touchdown and the same combination converted for the extra point.

Wauconda tallied again in the third period on a 5 yard plunge by Pintozzi set up by a 15 yard pass to Jaskot. With 7 minutes to play Weinberg threw a 10 yard pass to Thomas for a TD. A 43 yard run by Jaskot set up the scoring situation. With 5 minutes to play Auschback got away for a 43 yard run for Grant and Gaylor again scored on a 3 yard plunge. In the final minute of the game Gene Jaskot circled end for a 66 yard touchdown run.

Palatine Frosh Lose To Grayslake, 12-7

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Palatine's freshman team was defeated by Grayslake 12-7 on two touchdowns that don't often happen when freshman teams play.

Grayslake's first touchdown came when Palatine's center passed bad and the kick was blocked by Lombard on the 28 yard line and he ran for the touchdown. The conversion was no good. Their second touchdown came on an intercepted pass by Striggow who ran 85 yards for the touchdown. Again the conversion was no good. With a few minutes left in the game Tony Mastroianni ran 9 yards around end for Palatine's only touchdown. He then ran over tackle for the extra point.

In the first half Palatine made constant gains by running Joe Fischer and Bill Coates around ends, but each time the drives were stopped by a fumble or they were forced to kick. Grayslake did not have the ball very often during the game but they capatilized on Palatine errors.

Progressive Planning May Provide More Doves In Future

PROGRESSIVE —LINO

Although this year's dove crop was very good, some progressive dove hunters are asking how they can help insure more doves in years that might not be so bounteous. They want to actually do something that will produce more doves every year.

As far as we know there has never been any successful method of artificially producing doves developed such as has been developed for pheasant and quail. That doesn't mean that some method won't be discovered but until that time there is a means available to anyone where doves can be helped to produce under natural conditions.

IN ILLINOIS the greatest factor in dove production is nesting environment. It is very likely that increased safe nesting areas will increase dove production. One of the greatest deterrents to successful nesting is wind which frequently destroys the rather flimsy dove nest along with the eggs or young doves.

One of the most successful nesting areas has been found in clumps of pine trees used as wind breaks around farms or Christmas tree plantations. The pine trees are heavy enough to break the winds that do so much damage to dove nests.

MANY DOVES are hatched in farm yards or even in towns, about the only places in much of Illinois prairie land where doves can find trees. Elm diseases are taking many trees formerly utilized by doves so there is very likely going to be a shortage of trees suitable for nesting unless they are rapidly replaced by some quick growing substitute trees.

If the dove hunter really wants to help the dove production he can easily find a place to plant pine trees, in his own yard or as a wind break around some farmer friends barnyard. Thousands of farmers would welcome the planting of a windbreak. They would like to have the pine trees but just don't get around to doing the job themselves.

A glance tells you that the '56 Ford has the long, low lines . . . the dazzling beauty of the Thunderbird.

Progressive Planning May Provide More Doves In Future

PROGRESSIVE —LINO

Although this year's dove crop was very good, some progressive dove hunters are asking how they can help insure more doves in years that might not be so bounteous. They want to actually do something that will produce more doves every year.

As far as we know there has never been any successful method of artificially producing doves developed such as has been developed for pheasant and quail. That doesn't mean that some method won't be discovered but until that time there is a means available to anyone where doves can be helped to produce under natural conditions.

IN ILLINOIS the greatest factor in dove production is nesting environment. It is very likely that increased safe nesting areas will increase dove production. One of the greatest deterrents to successful nesting is wind which frequently destroys the rather flimsy dove nest along with the eggs or young doves.

One of the most successful nesting areas has been found in clumps of pine trees used as wind breaks around farms or Christmas tree plantations. The pine trees are heavy enough to break the winds that do so much damage to dove nests.

MANY DOVES are hatched in farm yards or even in towns, about the only places in much of Illinois prairie land where doves can find trees. Elm diseases are taking many trees formerly utilized by doves so there is very likely going to be a shortage of trees suitable for nesting unless they are rapidly replaced by some quick growing substitute trees.

If the dove hunter really wants to help the dove production he can easily find a place to plant pine trees, in his own yard or as a wind break around some farmer friends barnyard. Thousands of farmers would welcome the planting of a windbreak. They would like to have the pine trees but just don't get around to doing the job themselves.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

by PAUL H. LITTLE

The annual international sight and sound exposition which ended not quite 2 weeks ago in Chicago demonstrated dramatically what enormous electronic advance has been made in the reproduction and projection of sound and music designed for home listening. Your critic visited every exhibit, made copious notes, and heard lots of sensational new discs which will soon be at your favorite community platter shop. So let's start our noise-free Scott turntable spinning to as many as space permits.

Mercury Records exhibited at the show, and we had the pleasure of meeting David Hall, whose new "The Disc Book" (published by Long-Player Publications) is the finest analysis of long-playing records we have ever heard. He is Mercury's program director, and evolved the single-microphone technique of recording which has brought such incredible clarity and tonal delineation to Mercury lps. We listened to the 12-inch waxing of Igor Stravinsky's fiery and colorful "Petrouchka" Suite by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra under Antal Dorati, and the dramatic Brahms Fourth Symphony so beautifully interpreted by Paul Paray with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. These two 12-inch lps rank among the dozen finest issued in 1955; not only is the interpretation definitive and emotionally stirring, but the reproduction is absolutely breathtaking!

LONDON RECORDS also exhibited at the show, and we cheer their wonderful albums of Borodin's "Prince Igor" (5 disc-album) and Moussorgsky's "Khovantschina" (4 discs) as performed by excellent soloists and the orchestra and chorus of the National Opera of Belgrade. This Jugoslavian group is as fine as any Italian or German company we have ever heard, and its feeling for these Russian operatic masterpieces is wonderfully communicated to the listener — abetted by London's clean true hi-fi sound. Look also for a soon-to-be released album of the Moussorgsky "Boris Godounoff," one of the greatest operas ever written.

And don't miss London's beautifully performed complete 4-disc album of Mozart's Don Giovanni, which ranks as one of the finest operas any composer ever penned. Josef Krips directs the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra and Vienna State Opera Chorus with enchanting balance and phrasing. In the title role is young Cesare Siepi at his very best, while that master of opera buffa Fernando Corena is an unforgettable Leporello.

BUT THE ENTIRE cast is perfection: Anton Dermota as a fine, lyrical Don Ottavio; Suzanne Danco (star of London's recent fine albums of Ravel's Scheherazade" and Debussy's "Martyre de Saint Sebastien") is a superb Donna Anna, while Lisa della Casa gives us the best Donna Elvira on discs, a role usually miscast and mis-sung but here done with beautiful conviction. Hilde Gueden makes a delightfully ingenuous, sweet-sounding Berlona, and Walter Berry's Masetto and Kurt Bohme's noble Commendatore completes a roster of brilliance. The album is the first of Mozart's four great operas ("Magic Flute," "Marriage of Figaro" and "Cosi fan tutte" being the others) which London is recording to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the composer's birth.

In "pops," the hi-fi show gave us some spine-tingling waxings. Replica Records contributed a 12-inch disc of Al Melgard at our own Chicago Stadium pipe organ in rousing, dynamic-sounding versions of tunes like "Pennsylvania Polka" and "Chop Suey," a super-terrific 10-inch jazz platter by the Johnny Hamlin Quintet with some drum breaks that would rouse Rip Van Winkle, and "Fabulous Eddy," a 12-inches by Eddy Osborn playing the Wurlitzer pipe organ in medleys from the "good old days" including "In My Merry Oldsmobile" which is complete with klaxon! Play these on your home hi-fi system' you'll make the rafters ring!

Savings Drop To Just 6 Per Cent

The Commerce department has just come up with a report card on the wage earner for the first half of 1955. This year he spent 94 cents of his after-tax income, and saved six cents. Last year's figures were 92 and eight. These figures are the roughest of approximations. Spending is more visible than saving, so saving is really just spending subtracted from income. Moreover, things like higher cash values for life insurance policies and lower debts on home loans being amortized are included in savings, when they aren't piling up anywhere in actual cash.

Six per cent is just about rock bottom in percentage of saving to income, judging from past relationships. If we are to continue to see sales gains, the expected increase in national income must show up on schedule.

Ghosts Don't Phase English They're Just Big Business

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Ghosts are part of the British way of life. A castle really isn't considered old unless it is inhabited by spirits, and no one with a knowledge of the world-beyond doubts their existence. Nothing that has ever lived seems to completely die. Even the ghosts of dogs and cats run around.

It is quite easy in England to find photographs of alleged spirits, complete with ectoplasm. This last word is used in the field to describe the smoky substance that oozes out of the fingers and mouths of mediums and ghosts.

IN GENERAL, however, it is difficult to establish the authenticity of such photographs because spiritualists claim that figures from the world beyond will not enter a seance where there is a disbeliever.

One English spiritualist, a woman of substantial economic success in this field, was discovered making the strings of a guitar play by working a mechanism with her toes. Observers at first were under the impression that the music was coming from spirits sailing around the room.

SUCH AN "EXPOSE" frequently has little affect on a spiritualist's popularity. In dealing with the supernatural, faith is paramount. The more blind it is, the more readily the spirits come forth. Many people want to believe in their medium, so that such "mistakes" can easily be explained away.

More recently, English dream interpreters have been ascending in public interest. So many dreams have turned out to be "true" during the last years, that many of those who gave their money and faith to spiritualism have turned to specializing in this allied field.

A certain Mr. X dreamed that his wife fell from the fourth step of a ladder just at the moment the London Express blew a whistle, and resulted in her breaking the left leg. The next day this dream "came true", and newspapers publicized it.

SCEPTICS, however, continue to scoff at such phenomena. But since sceptics are still unpopular in England, as elsewhere, their voices have had no affect on the belief in dreams.

These unpopular individuals point out through their little-read periodicals that roughly 150 million dreams are experienced in England every night (more than one per person). And of these, sheer numerical chance indicates that some dreams will "come true". Indeed, claim the sceptics, it would be extraordinary if a certain number did not! The people whose dreams did not come true are never mentioned in reading matter.

ON THE SUBJECT of spirits, however, there is one classic story that disbelievers frequently tell. It happened near the Borley Rectory, a building which was burned down not too long ago because it was believed to house ghosts.

An English woman who lived nearby was known for years to have set aside supper every evening for her departed cat. Her proof that the cat's spirit was still in the house lay with the fact that the supper was always eaten.

It is possibly relevant to add that this woman also kept a dog in the house.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it always obligatory that a person give the reason for declining an invitation?

A. While not exactly obligatory, it somehow takes the sharpness out of a refusal to give some explanation. And if one gives no reason, future invitations might not be extended.

Q. Is it obligatory that a woman keep her hat on when attending a card party?

A. She, of course, always removes her hat if the party is in a private home. If, however, the card party is in a public place, she may either remove it or keep it on.

Q. When one is eating meat, should only one bit at a time be cut?

A. Yes. It is considered very crude to cut up the entire portion of meat into numerous pieces.

Q. Is it proper for a man to offer his hand in greeting to a woman?

A. Under ordinary circumstances, the man never offers his hand to a woman unless she offers hers first. However, if they are very good friends, they usually offer their hands simultaneously upon meeting.

Q. When attending a church wedding and the usher places you in a seat where you haven't a good view, isn't it all right to change your seat?

A. No. The usher probably has his instructions as to seating, and you should remain where you are seated in order to avoid any possible confusion.

Q. How can one show deference to a woman when introducing her to another woman?

A. By giving her name first with a rising inflection of the voice, saying the second name in a lower tone.

Q. If the bride is being married in a traveling dress, what should the bridegroom wear?

A. An ordinary business suit, or one that is appropriate for traveling, with perhaps a little white flower from the bride's corsage in his lapel.

Q. Should a woman walk on a short distance, or should she wait with her escort while he pays the taxi fare?

A. She should wait with her escort.

Q. At an engagement announcement party, who gives the toast?

A. The father or a male relative of the girl should rise to propose her health and that of her fiance. It would be nice for the father to say, "To the health and happiness of my daughter, Mary, and to my future son, Bob."

Q. When one is smoking at the table in a restaurant, and there is no ashtray, is it all right to use a plate or saucer for the ashes?

A. Only an ill-bred person would do this. It is much better to ask the waiter or waitress for an ashtray.

Q. When entering a night club with her escort, should a girl go first to the table with him and then excuse herself while she goes to the powder room?

A. No; she should go first to the powder room while her escort waits for her somewhere near the entrance to the dining room.

Q. When a woman, who is traveling alone, has been unable to secure a lower berth on a train, and some man offers to exchange with her, is it proper for her to accept?

A. There is no reason why she should not accept. And, of course, such courtesy deserves sincere appreciation.

Q. Who provides the boutonnieres for the best man and the ushers at a wedding?

A. The bridegroom.

Q. When introducing two persons, is it proper to say, "Mrs. Smith, this is Mr. Jones; Mr. Jones, Mrs. Smith"?

A. No; it is altogether unnecessary to mention the names twice.

Q. When a man takes a girl to the movies, should she go with him to the ticket window, or walk on into the theater?

A. If there is not much of a line, she can walk ahead very slowly. But when there is a very long line, she should stand beside him and keep him company until he gets close to the window. Then she goes ahead and waits for him to join her.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—Our house has high ceilings and large rooms. Can I do anything to improve its appearance without making structural changes?

A—Yes. Paint the ceilings dark. In the same way that a dark roof of asphalt shingles gives a tall house a lower look, so will a dark paint lower a ceiling. Patterned wallpaper can make rooms seem smaller, too. If you do use wallpaper, pick your ceiling color from the paper, using a dark tone for high ceilings.

Q—I am finishing my expansion attic into two rooms but don't know how to heat it. The furnace doesn't have sufficient capacity for all this extra space. Do I have to buy a new furnace or is there some other kind of equipment that could be used?

A—A wall heater is a good solution to this frequently encountered problem. Engineers at the Coleman Heating Institute, Wichita, Kan., suggest a "dual-wall" model, which fits in the partition between two rooms and delivers heat on both sides. The amount of heat that is delivered to each room can be controlled. Each room can get half, or one room can get as much as 80 per cent while 20 per cent goes to the other. The wall heater fits between studs, takes no floor space.

Q—What is the best way to clean a flagstone floor?

A—Wash the flagstone with a 5 per cent solution of muriatic acid, being careful to use rubber gloves and a wood-handled brush. Then rinse with clear water and wax.

Q—The latch on our front door doesn't catch when we close the door, although it seems to work with the door open. How can we fix it?

A—The door has probably shrunk. You should remove the door and hinges from the frame, then insert pieces of hard cardboard or thin wood between the hinges and the frame. When you replace the hinges, use longer screws to make up for the added thickness.

Q—What area will one roll of wallpaper cover?

A—In figured paper, you can usually estimate that a single roll will cover 30 square feet.

About Your Health

The person who refuses to wear a hearing aid is very much like an ostrich who hides his head in the sand. Neither gains anything from the action, the educational committee of the Illinois state medical society points out.

A hearing aid is no more unattractive these days than the wearing of glasses. Some forty years ago, when the ear trumpet made its appearance, persons using it were frequently subjected to mock laughter. Today, however, hearing devices are so compact and small that they are hardly noticeable, and people accustomed to seeing them, usually pay no attention.

PERHAPS the refusal to wear a hearing aid rests in the psychology of the person needing one. To be seen with one is an admission of deafness. Rather than admit that, some persons go along indefinitely, pretending to be able to hear. That is bad from every standpoint. Persons with severe deafness do not hear the sounds or voices about them.

Consequently they are not taking an active part in either work or play. There is a tendency to remain alone. Persons who do not hear well develop a sort of blank mask or facial expression that could be avoided if a hearing device were used.

SOUND WAVES or vibrations are directed by the shell of the outer ear into its canal. They travel to the drumhead of the middle ear, whence they are carried by three tiny bones, called the hammer, anvil and stirrup, to a small oval window in the inner ear. The oval window connects the middle ear, which contains air, with the inner ear, which contains fluid.

Vibrations transmitted through the air and the fluid are changed into nerve impulses which are carried along the auditory nerve to the brain. Sounds are actually heard by the brain and not by the ear. Thus if the mechanics of transmission are interfered with, either through injury or disease, hearing is impaired.

The truly deaf, or persons who do not have any hearing, are in the minority. The majority of persons, however, with varying degrees of deafness can be helped through one of the many hearing devices that are now available.

In The Future

A white dry lubricant is available to replace effective but unsightly graphite in keyholes, fishing reels, etc. You can get aluminum caps to cover windowsills which have become unslightly. A gadget which looks like a ballpoint pen is really a cutter to clip items from pages. Steel-framed tool cabinets for the home workshop have transparent sides to help you find the tools. Christmas candles will have a piny aroma.

Cheer Leader

Bob Paddock now provides sports enthusiasts with detailed news and comments on West Suburban athletics in his sprightly column, "Kickin' It Around," appearing every week on the sports pages of Paddock Publications.

Vibrations transmitted through the air and the fluid are changed into nerve impulses which are carried along the auditory nerve to the brain. Sounds are actually heard by the brain and not by the ear. Thus if the mechanics of transmission are interfered with, either through injury or disease, hearing is impaired.

The truly deaf, or persons who do not have any hearing, are in the minority. The majority of persons, however, with varying degrees of deafness can be helped through one of the many hearing devices that are now available.

In The Future

A white dry lubricant is available to replace effective but unsightly graphite in keyholes, fishing reels, etc. You can get aluminum caps to cover windowsills which have become unslightly. A gadget which looks like a ballpoint pen is really a cutter to clip items from pages. Steel-framed tool cabinets for the home workshop have transparent sides to help you find the tools. Christmas candles will have a piny aroma.

Cheer Leader

Bob Paddock now provides sports enthusiasts with detailed news and comments on West Suburban athletics in his sprightly column, "Kickin' It Around," appearing every week on the sports pages of Paddock Publications.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—Our house has high ceilings and large rooms. Can I do anything to improve its appearance without making structural changes?

A—Yes. Paint the ceilings dark. In the same way that a dark roof of asphalt shingles gives a tall house a lower look, so will a dark paint lower a ceiling. Patterned wallpaper can make rooms seem smaller, too. If you do use wallpaper, pick your ceiling color from the paper, using a dark tone for high ceilings.

Q—I am finishing my expansion attic into two rooms but don't know how to heat it. The furnace doesn't have sufficient capacity for all this extra space. Do I have to buy a new furnace or is there some other kind of equipment that could be used?

A—A wall heater is a good solution to this frequently encountered problem. Engineers at the Coleman Heating Institute, Wichita, Kan., suggest a "dual-wall" model, which fits in the partition between two rooms and delivers heat on both sides. The amount of heat that is delivered to each room can be controlled. Each room can get half, or one room can get as much as 80 per cent while 20 per cent goes to the other. The wall heater fits between studs, takes no floor space.

Q—What is the best way to clean a flagstone floor?

A—Wash the flagstone with a 5 per cent solution of muriatic acid, being careful to use rubber gloves and a wood-handled brush. Then rinse with clear water and wax.

Q—The latch on our front door doesn't catch when we close the door, although it seems to work with the door open. How can we fix it?

A—The door has probably shrunk. You should remove the door and hinges from the frame, then insert pieces of hard cardboard or thin wood between the hinges and the frame. When you replace the hinges, use longer screws to make up for the added thickness.

Q—What area will one roll of wallpaper cover?

A—In figured paper, you can usually estimate that a single roll will cover 30 square feet.

Perhaps YOU are a Religious Liberal
without knowing it?

Thousands who felt they had to "think alone" in developing their liberal religious ideas have found the religious home they have been seeking in a Universalist or Unitarian Church, and joined the company of illustrious such as Emerson, Jefferson, John and John Quincy Adams, Hosea Ballou, Oliver W. Holmes, Thomas Mott Osborne, Clara Barton, Theodore Parker and a host of others, past and present.

If YOU seek a free, creedless religion which respects your mind and personality, write for literature.

MAIL THIS COUPON with 10c to First Universalist Society, 263 DuPage Street, Elgin.

Please send me literature on Liberal Religion.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Man's responsibility to make religion practical in his activities throughout the week will be emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" at Christian Science services Sunday, October 16.

Scriptural selections include Paul's advice to the Hebrews (4:14): "Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession."

Also pointing up the need for emulating the master Christian is the following passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (37:22-25): "It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness.

Wet Leaves

Wet leaves are as slippery as ice, and this is the time of year to be alert for skidding on wet leaves. If your car goes into a skid, turn your steering wheel in the direction of the skid and "snub" your brakes. "Snubbing" means applying the brakes gently and releasing them quickly several times. Above all, do not drive faster at any time than conditions will permit complete control.

Perhaps YOU are a Religious Liberal without knowing it?

Thousands who felt they had to "think alone" in developing their liberal religious ideas have found the religious home they have been seeking in a Universalist or Unitarian Church, and joined the company of illustrious such as Emerson, Jefferson, John and John Quincy Adams, Hosea Ballou, Oliver W. Holmes, Thomas Mott Osborne, Clara Barton, Theodore Parker and a host of others, past and present.

If YOU seek a free, creedless religion which respects your mind and personality, write for literature.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Man's responsibility to make religion practical in his activities throughout the week will be emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" at Christian Science services Sunday, October 16.

Scriptural selections include Paul's advice to the Hebrews (4:14): "Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession."

Also pointing up the need for emulating the master Christian is the following passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (37:22-25): "It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness.

Wet Leaves

Wet leaves are as slippery as ice, and this is the time of year to be alert for skidding on wet leaves. If your car goes into a skid, turn your steering wheel in the direction of the skid and "snub" your brakes. "Snubbing" means applying the brakes gently and releasing them quickly several times. Above all, do not drive faster at any time than conditions will permit complete control.

Principal Of Notre Dame High School Banquet Speaker

Rev. James d'Autremont, principal of the new Notre Dame high school, will be guest speaker at the annual father and son's meeting of the Father Linden Council of the Knights of Columbus.

The meeting will be held Friday, Oct. 14 at the VFW hall in Des Plaines. There will be prizes for sons of the members and many sport celebrities will be present.

Now Is Time To Buy That New Home

Recent moves in the real estate market point up two bits of sound advice for those interested in buying a home—do not delay too long and do not overload with installment obligations, Charles A. Hodlmair, president of Northwest real estate board, said.

Imposition of credit curbs by the federal government and the slight tightening of the supply of mortgage money generally lead to these conclusions, Mr. Hodlmair added. "The federal housing administration and the veterans administration a few weeks ago reduced the maximum length of home loans which they will insure or guarantee from 30 to 25 years, and raised the down payment requirements by two per cent" he explained. This means, of course, that the home buyer must put a larger sum down upon purchase and make bigger monthly payments than he did formerly.

Because many builders had submitted applications to these agencies before the deadline, some houses covered by these are still on the market and may be sold under the more liberal terms in effect before the tightening. The supply of them is dwindling, however. (DL

Arboreal 'Finds' Tracked Down By Tree Scouts

Talent scouts are busy scouring the country for undiscovered beauties.

The job of these scouts is to find healthy, handsome tree specimens that can be transplanted to home sites.

Since the current building boom began, the demand for attractive trees has surpassed the commercial supply. So tree scouts have been sent out to help solve this problem.

For the most part, they hunt for desirable sugar and red maples, pin, willow and water oaks; sweetgums, pine, spruce and other worthwhile trees common to the area where they will be moved.

Vigorous specimens are sought, with good coloring and twig growth, straight trunks and well-developed heads.

The choice usually is limited to trees which can be transplanted easily. Trees growing on steep hillsides, in swamps, among rocks and gravel or in certain types of sand are extremely difficult to move, and sometimes impossible.

According to M. W. Staples, tree moving supervisor of the Davey Tree Expert Co. desirable sizes are considerably larger than the usual nursery trees but young enough to respond well after transplanting. Once a likely prospect has been scouted and purchased, tree movers take over with equipment for shifting the latest find to its new home.

Use Existing Faucets And Drain For Shower

A shower stall in the basement adds a convenience which can be inexpensive and simple to build. Use of existing plumbing—floor drain and laundry tub mixer faucet—establishes the location and keeps costs low.

The three-sided shower cabinet may be built of 2 x 2-inch lumber spaced not over 12 inches apart vertically and covered, on the inside, with Masonite Temprtile, a scored hardboard which is especially waterproof. To facilitate drainage, build a wooden slat floor.

Paint the structure with a primer and two coats of exterior paint, outside and in, after calking the joints. If the location of the shower interferes with the laundry tubs, put the stall on casters and wheel it into place when needed.

Connect the shower head to some half-inch pipe terminating over the laundry tubs. Connect the pipe with the mixer faucet by means of a hose. When not in use, the hose is unscrewed. (DL

'Peg-Board' Panel Face-Lifts Radio

To face-lift an old radio, remove the front and install a pice of Masonite "Peg-Board" panel. Its numerous holes will provide outlets for the controls, or extra holes can easily be drilled where needed. Paint it an interesting color, and the old-timer will look better than new. This technique may be used also for new cabinet work, whether for radio, high-fidelity reproducer or television.

The job of these scouts is to find healthy, handsome tree specimens that can be transplanted to home sites.

Since the current building boom began, the demand for attractive trees has surpassed the commercial supply. So tree scouts have been sent out to help solve this problem.

For the most part, they hunt for desirable sugar and red maples, pin, willow and water oaks; sweetgums, pine, spruce and other worthwhile trees common to the area where they will be moved.

Vigorous specimens are sought, with good coloring and twig growth, straight trunks and well-developed heads.

The choice usually is limited to trees which can be transplanted easily. Trees growing on steep hillsides, in swamps, among rocks and gravel or in certain types of sand are extremely difficult to move, and sometimes impossible.

According to M. W. Staples, tree moving supervisor of the Davey Tree Expert Co. desirable sizes are considerably larger than the usual nursery trees but young enough to respond well after transplanting. Once a likely prospect has been scouted and purchased, tree movers take over with equipment for shifting the latest find to its new home.

Use Existing Faucets And Drain For Shower

A shower stall in the basement adds a convenience which can be inexpensive and simple to build. Use of existing plumbing—floor drain and laundry tub mixer faucet—establishes the location and keeps costs low.

The three-sided shower cabinet may be built of 2 x 2-inch lumber spaced not over 12 inches apart vertically and covered, on the inside, with Masonite Temprtile, a scored hardboard which is especially waterproof. To facilitate drainage, build a wooden slat floor.

Paint the structure with a primer and two coats of exterior paint, outside and in, after calking the joints. If the location of the shower interferes with the laundry tubs, put the stall on casters and wheel it into place when needed.

Connect the shower head to some half-inch pipe terminating over the laundry tubs. Connect the pipe with the mixer faucet by means of a hose. When not in use, the hose is unscrewed. (DL

'Peg-Board' Panel Face-Lifts Radio

To face-lift an old radio, remove the front and install a pice of Masonite "Peg-Board" panel. Its numerous holes will provide outlets for the controls, or extra holes can easily be drilled where needed. Paint it an interesting color, and the old-timer will look better than new. This technique may be used also for new cabinet work, whether for radio, high-fidelity reproducer or television.

Pressure On To Raise All Prices Slightly

Pressure to raise prices is building up all along the business front, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports in its current monthly review. In fact, a moderate rise in the price of many goods and services is already under way, despite record levels of output and "tightening" money.

Recent weeks have witnessed increases posted for a number of raw materials, producers' goods and retail items. In July and August, for example, nine out of ten purchasing agents in the Chicago area reported paying higher prices for the things they buy. More and more, business buying policies are being influenced by the prospect of further price markups in the near future.

BUT UPWARD price pressure has not developed as a result of any single factor. Both businessmen and consumers are apparently willing to spend more readily. Inventory building by business is currently running at a 5 billion dollar annual rate, and plant and equipment outlays are picking up sharply.

Spending by individuals has risen by an even larger dollar amount than business investment as personal income after taxes gained about 5 per cent since last year. Moreover, a larger share of this added income is being spent. The 1955 rate of personal saving — about 6 per cent of the after-tax pay check — is the lowest in five years. Meanwhile, higher wages are not only adding to incomes but also helping to edge prices up because of the addition to costs.

THE BUOYANT state of European business, too, has played a part in bolstering prices in the United States. American nonmilitary exports are exceeding 1954 by 10 per cent, and at the same time American buyers have had to offer higher prices for raw materials purchased in world markets.

General price indexes, however, have registered only a sluggish upward response to date. The index of consumer prices has been moving up by fractions of a point and in a recent month was still below a year ago. Wholesale prices have advanced only 1 percentage point since last spring. In past years, slipping farm prices have tended to offset increases in industrial goods. But despite a further decline in farm commodity prices expected this fall appreciable increases in consumer and wholesale price averages are in the making.

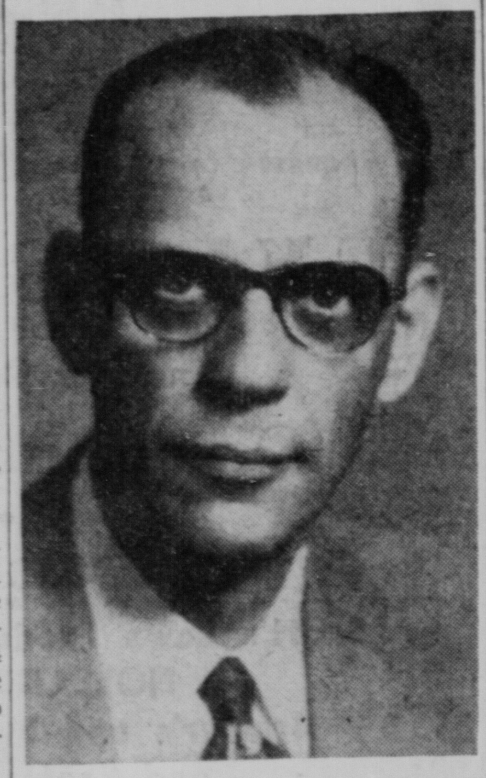
PRICE INCREASES for specific items are being announced daily. Television sets are going up 10 to 30 dollars per unit. Most TV makers believe that a strong fall market will readily absorb these increases. Electrical equipment has been raised 10 per cent by one manufacturer, and other firms are expected to follow suit.

After a series of boosts, domestic copper has reached 43 cents per pound, a Twentieth Century high. Even textile prices have risen, with further increases in the offing. According to the bank, these gains followed on the heels of earlier substantial increases for steel, rubber, machinery and various building materials. (BB

Directory Engineer



George E. Vitoux, 614 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights has been promoted to directory problems engineer with Illinois Bell Telephone company. In his new capacity he devotes his attention to the problems of production and distribution of all telephone directories for Illinois Bell.

Vitoux began his telephone career as a coin collector in Aurora in 1937. About a yar later he was named a service engineer in Cicero, was then transferred to the Harvey-Hammond area in a similar capacity.

In 1941 he was named assistant manager for the Rockford exchange, the post he held until called to active duty with the navy as an ensign.

A communications officer, he served first at an Atlantic advance base, then aboard an escort aircraft carrier in the Pacific. He earned seven battle stars on his Pacific Theatre ribbon for assults on islands from Guam to Okinawa. He was released to inactive duty as a senior lieutenant in 1945.

Returning to Illinois Bell, he was appointed division supervisor of methods with offices in Springfield. In 1949, he was transferred to the directory division in Chicago and assumed responsibility for coordinating telephone books with dial conversions.

Vitoux is a native of Fairbury, Ill. and attended Joliet junior college before taking his degree in general business at the University of Illinois in 1937. He is married and the father of two children, Joy, 15, a student at Arlington Heights high school and Michael, 9, a pupil at South school.

With his wife, Beth, he is active in the First Methodist church. He is also active in the naval reserve where he now holds the rank of lieutenant commander.

Chrysler Sales Up

All Chrysler sales records were smashed during the first nine months of 1955 when more Chrysler and Imperial automobiles were delivered to customers than in any other nine-month period in the 31-year-history of Chrysler Division.

Chrysler dealers delivered 132,143 cars between January 1 and September 30 of this year — up 80.8 per cent over the 73,083 cars sold in the same period of 1954.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

The idea of the "new day in missions" has brought about some interesting developments in the programs and philosophy of Christian missions.

The "new day" was heralded more than 60 years ago, when the missionaries of the Presbyterian church in Lebanon were strongly urging their board to take advantage of possible deveolpment of native leadership. The board was then afflicted with some of the connotations of "the white man's burden." Bearing administrative responsibilities in New York, they were not enthusiastic about Lebanon-Christian administration of mission properties and programs.

THE "NEW DAY" has come to New York. The board is now urging greater reliance on indigenous leadership. But the missionaries on the field are hesitant.

These comments are from a discussion by "Sandy" Sellers, former professor of Hebrew and Old Testament in McCormick seminary. Dr. Sellers has recently completed a world-tour in the interests of the board of foreign missions and of the American Friends of the Middle East.

The increased responsibility of local leaders of the church has almost completely removed the old question "Why should we send missionaries to people who are satisfied with their religion?" from the realm of relevance.

The United Churches of South India and North India invite mission boards to send qualified missionary personnel for specific tasks. But the Indian churches determine what those tasks are; there is an Indian Christian administrator under whom the missionary works.

IN INDONESIA, the Dutch had either not conducted or not permitted any religious education programs. (I failed to catch whether the lack of religious education was simply due to what Sandy calls "Dutch conservatism" or to a program of restriction.) In a land of about 66 millions of people, where about 1 in 11 are Christian, there have been no Sunday schools. Practically all of these Christians have been the result of adult conversions or being born in a Christian family.

The Indonesian churches are eager to receive help in the field of religious education. A practical instance of the way in which these specialists may serve is shown in Sandy's own experience. He spent 3 months as a visiting professor of Old Testament in the new theological seminary at the expense of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church.

This is a part of the "new day in missions," the lend-lease of personnel to do a necessary job for the church. It includes the process of turning over title to land and buildings owned and built by Christians in our own country and in other parts of the western world. It heralds the ouster of the spirit of colonialism which had crept into some of our missionary enterprise. So the Lord purifies His church.

Question: What causes grain in softwood boards?

Answer: Grain is caused by alternate layers of spring and summer wood as a tree grows. In the wet spring months, after a softwood tree comes out of its semi-dormant state, when the sap starts to flow freely, the Douglas fir, west coast hemlock and other softwood trees grow rapidly. The layer of wood put on during this period is porous. During the dry summer months, when there is little moisture, tree growth slows down and the layer of wood put on is dense and relatively hard. Thus, when a round log is sawed into square boards, the saws cut across the grain, making fascinating patterns, whorls, tracings and texture. The log can be sawn to get vertical grain boards for flooring and where wear is important, or the log can be quarter sawn to get a modified grain or full tangential to the annual rings to get the full effect of the beauty and character of the wood. Financing Problems, Specialized Studies Increase College Costs

More than one out of every four of the nation's young men and women of college age are currently continuing their studies after high school According to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, this ratio was one out of twenty-five in 1900.

Higher education today is a far more costly proposition than it was fifty or even twenty years ago. This is not just because of the rise in costs of everything students and colleges buy. Mostly is is because colleges now have to cover fields of specialized knowledge where training time is longer and teaching aids are more elaborate. Students and their families and public and private benefactors throughout the U.S. currently are meeting college costs which total well over 4 billion dollars—over 60 times as much as was spent in 1900.

WHAT'S MORE, financing higher education has become increasingly difficult in recent years. Chief problem of private colleges and universities, the bank observes has been the decline in the yield of their endowment funds. In 1930, endowment earnings amounted to nearly 25 per cent of operating costs, while today they are frequently no more than a tenth of the total. The financial burden on private colleges is being eased someehat by greater reliance on private gifts and grants to meet current expenses. Much of this support is coming from corporation contributions, a recent and growing development.

Public colleges have not been as severely plagued with financial problems as private institutions in the postwar period. In recent years, the bank says, well-heeled state treasuries have been able to meet the needs of publicly supported schools. But now, as high schools, elementary schools, and mental hospitals compete more vigorously for limited state funds, increasingly difficult financing problems are in store for public colleges.

IN FACT, the task of managing the finances of both public and private institutions will become even more challenging as enrollments climb in the years ahead. By 1975, college attendance figures are expected to be at least double what they are today.

Nevertheless, educators feel that further increases in tuition are not an easy way out. Higher fees may exclude those young people most suited for college. Even now about 100,000 superior high school graduates each year do not go on to college for financial reasons. The burden on the student consists not only of tuition but also of the 800 to 1,000 dollars per year for room and board plus the 3,000-4,000 dollars of income he might otherwise have earned.

ILLINOIS TAX FACTS

By George E. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

It is an almost unbelievable fact, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois reports, that expenses paid by the taxpayers for travel by members of Congress all over the world are secret, and not subject to inspection by newspapers or anyone else.

"So far we have been able to ascertain,' 'George Mahin, Federation executive secretary, stated, "vouchers covering expenditures of members of congress from public funds have never been made public. The house disbursing office never had and does not allow anyone to see these vouchers, and apparently the situation is the same in the senate."

Congress, while shrouding the expense accounts of its own members in secrecy, is investigation practices of executive brand agencies in withholding information from the public. The house government information subcommittee sent a questionnaire in September to executive branch agencies, which the sub-committee chairman described as "the first step toward the sub-committee's goal of finding out whether information from government agencies is sufficiently available to inform the public on the activities of their government."

Perhaps, Mahin said, the public would like to know the style in which they are supporting their perambulating senators and representatives, and Congress should investigate itself.

Chamber Of Commerce State Meeting At Conrad Hilton

Improving community planning and development will be one of the subjects discussed during the 37th annual meeting of the Illinois state chamber of commerce in Chicago's Conrad Hilton hotel Oct. 13-14.

Four top-plight authorities will appear on the program at the community organization dinner Thursday evening, Oct. 13. The dinner is held each year during the two-day event to pay special honor to local chamber of commerce officials and other community leaders throughout the state.

Each speaker on the program will discuss various phases of a general theme, "Planning—an Investment in Your Community's Future." Following the formal addresses, the speakers will answer questions from the audience.

Do not say, "He was scared of the results of such action." Say,, "He feared the results."

Should Keep Exemptions Up-To-Date For Wage Withholding Tax

Taxpayers subject to withholding tax should be careful that their exemption records are current, district director Ernest J. Sauber of the Chicago office of the Internal Revenue service warned. One of the common difficulties experienced by the service is straightening certificates.

Keeping one's employer posted concerning exemption status benefits both the employer and revenue service, Mr. Sauber pointed out. It enables the employer to maintain accurate records in both his own bookkeeping accounts and in his payment of these taxes to the service.

Taxpayers who find that their withholding bracket will not cover their tax indebtedness may if they wish reduce exemption claims to increase the withholding deductions to an annual total figure that will approximate the amount of the income tax that will be due, satisfying their tax owned. Similarly, persons with small additional incomes beyond that on which tax is withheld may follow this practice to avoid heavy tax payments at the April 15 deadline each year.

Financing Problems, Specialized Studies Increase College Costs

More than one out of every four of the nation's young men and women of college age are currently continuing their studies after high school According to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, this ratio was one out of twenty-five in 1900.

Higher education today is a far more costly proposition than it was fifty or even twenty years ago. This is not just because of the rise in costs of everything students and colleges buy. Mostly is is because colleges now have to cover fields of specialized knowledge where training time is longer and teaching aids are more elaborate. Students and their families and public and private benefactors throughout the U.S. currently are meeting college costs which total well over 4 billion dollars—over 60 times as much as was spent in 1900.

WHAT'S MORE, financing higher education has become increasingly difficult in recent years. Chief problem of private colleges and universities, the bank observes has been the decline in the yield of their endowment funds. In 1930, endowment earnings amounted to nearly 25 per cent of operating costs, while today they are frequently no more than a tenth of the total. The financial burden on private colleges is being eased someehat by greater reliance on private gifts and grants to meet current expenses. Much of this support is coming from corporation contributions, a recent and growing development.

Public colleges have not been as severely plagued with financial problems as private institutions in the postwar period. In recent years, the bank says, well-heeled state treasuries have been able to meet the needs of publicly supported schools. But now, as high schools, elementary schools, and mental hospitals compete more vigorously for limited state funds, increasingly difficult financing problems are in store for public colleges.

IN FACT, the task of managing the finances of both public and private institutions will become even more challenging as enrollments climb in the years ahead. By 1975, college attendance figures are expected to be at least double what they are today.

Nevertheless, educators feel that further increases in tuition are not an easy way out. Higher fees may exclude those young people most suited for college. Even now about 100,000 superior high school graduates each year do not go on to college for financial reasons. The burden on the student consists not only of tuition but also of the 800 to 1,000 dollars per year for room and board plus the 3,000-4,000 dollars of income he might otherwise have earned.

Way Back When

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money," — H. C. Paddock, 1898-1935

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

Fifty Years Ago

October 20, 1905

We are proud of the old reliable North Western and their new station platforms at Arlington Heights. It is the greatest and most accommodating railroad on Earth to-day. Its management is enterprising and liberal. They aim to keep abreast of the times in equipment and cheerfully co-operate with their patrons to build up a profitable business. They have the fewest serious accidents of any great railroad system. They will grant anything in the power of reason to those who make polite requests.

The Itasca park committee is improving the park grounds with a cinder path on the north side; also cutting their hay crop in the lagoon,

Albert Heine and Ed Rahlfs started for the party Sunday evening but they stuck in Schaumburg. Let us know when you are going next time, then we will help you out.

Arlington Heights Volunteer Fire Dept. did themselves proud, Sunday evening. A fire was discovered about 5 o'clock in the hay loft of Fred Hue's barn, rented by Joe Wehrner and if it had not been for the prompt action of citizens, half the village might have burned to the ground. Ald. Hue told the boys to bring their fire engine into his yard and he would keep them supplied with water. They used up all the water in several wells and cisterns and hauled more in milk cans and in Hansing's water tank, while the bucket brigade did valiant service and the fire was extinguished within two hours. It is awful to contemplate what the demon might have done, had it not been quickly curbed. This shows our need for extending the water works system as soon as possible. The Glen Falls Ins. Co. sent their adjuster next day, who promptly paid Fred Hue $119 in full satisfaction of all claims for loss by the fire and all parties are well satisfied.

Forty Years Ago

October 15, 1915

The Cook County Herald is 44 years old today.

Mt. Prospect was shocked last Friday morning when word was circulated about the village that John Weide had been killed instantly while putting on a 2-inch belt that runs the cream separator, in some manner his blouse was caught; he was carried around the shaft and his lifeless body fell to the floor stripped of all clothing.

Herman Gielow is installing a curb gasoline pump in front of his Palatine garage.

The Palatine village hall looks resplendent in a new coat of paint, the work of Henry Seene. A bulletin board is a new feature which will keep the large door to the fire engine room free from those unsightly notices that have previously bedecked it.

A party of eight girls from Itasca saw "The Birth of a Nation" at the Colonial theater Saturday afternoon. Where were the boys?

Mrs. E. J. Scharringhausen, Arlington Heights, invited a few friends to a quilting bee Thursday afternoon.

A curiosity was exhibited in Arlington Heights Wednesday. A man on his way to the Palatine Fair had a horse that walked on eight feet. All four legs were natural to the ankle joint, but had double hoofs.

Thirty Years Ago

October 23, 1925

The interstate commerce commission granted the Chicago and North Western railway permission to increase its suburban fares. The maximum of the boost is 20 per cent, but that is limited to a rate of not more than 2 cents a mile. The railway showed that it was losing money on its suburban traffic.

Mrs. M. Wesbo made the first batch of Bockhosenwost this season in Addison. It certainly was good.

Mrs. Charles H. Patten, Palatine, was in Schaumburg on business Saturday.

The Suawanee River Colored Quartette gave a wonderful program at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening. The church and Sunday school rooms were well filled. Their program was varied and the Ladies Aid feel that the audience were well paid for the effort they made in coming out that disagreeable evening.

Chicago gangsters are now using machine guns. Pretty soon equipment for the police force will have to include bombing planes and heavy artillery.

Twenty Years Ago

October 18, 1935

August J. Geistfeld, who has resided in the vicinity of Schaumburg all of his life, passed away Wednesday morning at the age of 73.

The first Arlington Heights WPA project under the new set-up has been approved by the government. The project calls for $6,000 to clean and repair bands of the sewer outlet and also for landscape work.

Frank Frohne and Albert DePue of Palatine were both badly injured early Sunday morning when the car driven by DePue hit the side of a brick building owned by Jefferson Ice Co., adjoining the Arlington Seating Co., in Arlington Heights.

The "Merry Wives" attended a luncheon and surprised Mrs. Grismer on her 21st wedding anniversary with a kitchen shower Monday. Mrs. Grismer was greeted with the singing of "Here Comes the Bride," "I Love You Truly," and "21 Years Is a Long Time." Needless to say, the wives were merry.

Mr. Hoveland, principal of Itasca public school, is in Elmhurst hospital for operation and treatment. The sixth, seventh and eighth grades are having a vacation.

Mrs. Thos. Pitt, Roselle, entertained the Ros-A-Lee club Wednesday evening. Prizes were awarded Mrs. W. Hattendorf, Mrs. Walter Nerge and Mrs. Leonard Etter.

Ten Years Ago

October 19, 1945

Work on a new store building at 119-121 E. Davis st. will be started in a few days in Arlington Heights. A modern and attractive building will be erected on the site on which a real estate office and barbershop now stand.

Deaths this week: Rufus Blackford, 75, of Wheeling; Joseph Podzimek, 47, of Arlington Heights; and John Charles Thompson, 74, of Arlington Heights.

Due to savings in the construction coasts, Mt. Prospect's new well cost $1,377 less than the engineer's estimate.

The contract has been let for building the new addition to the Prospect Heights schoolhouse.

Monday, October 8 was a gala night for Palatine Post American Legion when that organization admitted its first woman member. Miss Louise Stange received her discharge from the WACS Aug. 25 after serving 33 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schrader, Palatine, were honored with an open house Tuesday on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Wood Dale citizens will be called to the election polls Saturday to vote on a $30,000 school bond issue.

Keeneyville did it again. Mrs. Vivian Deike, chairman of the National War Fund of this community is happy to report the quota of the drive, $250 has been made.

Home Spun

Area Gambling Zooms Upward In September Reports Tax Director

Northern Illinois gambling was up again in September, according to Ernest J. Sauber, district director of Internal revenue for 26 northern Illinois counties.

Receipts under the 10 per cent wagering tax covering bookies and policy wheels came to $65,442, a rise of $3,740 over August, and a jump of $7,666 over September of last year.

Two more wagering stamps were issued in Cook County, bringing that total to 202. The district total for wagering stamps is 303.

There have been 16 new gaming stamps issued. These cost $250 each and cover devices such as slot machines. Fourteen of the 16 gaming stamps were purchased in McHenry county, bringing the total in McHenry to 100. One new stamp in Cook County brought the total here to 79. This brings the total of gaming stamps in the district to 291.

It has been suggested that the flourishing trade in gaming stamps in McHenry county may be due to recent federal investigations and indictments there.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from Patty McArdle

Dear Peg:

After a great deal of discussion and debate and promises made, it was agreed that Megan and Bridget should attend the wedding. Besides being a wedding (which all little girls just naturally love to see), it was to be the wedding of one of their favorite uncles, making it doubly important to them that they be there.

I had no trouble urging them into the bathtub Friday night, as soon as they understood that, besides putting on their prettiest dresses, people always take baths and wash their hair before weddings. During bathtime, dinnertime, hair-putting-up-time and just before lights-go-out-time, we discussed once more the rules of etiquette for guests attending a wedding ceremony and reception. We covered such points as: guests climbing on the church pews, guests talking loudly or whining to leave during the ceremony, guests talking out loud to either bride, bridegroom, bridesmaids, ushers or best man (whether or not the best man is one's father!)

INCLUDED AMONG points regarding etiquette at the reception were: guests playing tag, hide-and-go-seek, etc. in the hotel, guests sticking fingers into the wedding cake—whether or not it has been cut, guests insisting on tasting champagne when not offered a glass, guests sitting up at the table and quietly eating their wedding breakfast regardless of what is served.

A beautiful, sunny, crisp Saturday morning dawned — just shortly before two very excited little girls jumped out of their beds and ran into their parents' room to announce the wedding day. Daddy was the next one up—as best man to his brother, Jack, the bridegroom, he had to get an early start. After getting partially dressed and eating breakfast, he donned his striped trousers, grey vest and black coat, etc. , while his "ladies" stood around admiring him. They all agreed that Daddy never looked so handsome.

THE PLAN, that Bob was to leave about an hour and a half before we, gave us plenty of time to leisurely eat breakfast and dress. I could only hope that the way they were acting that morning was an indication of their behavior at the wedding. Such angels! As soon as they were dressed in their organdy dresses and had their hair tied with ribbons, I picked up their skirts and set them down on the couch, ordering them not to move until I got my hat and coat on. They didn't move! We slipped on their coats, hats and gloves and were off to the wedding of Gloria Tiritilli and Jack McArdle.

The girls were little ladies throughout the ceremony. Only once did Bridget comment loudly. When, looking behind her, she saw Gloria appear at the head of the aisle, she was so thrilled that without thinking she exclaimed, "Here comes the bride lady!" (She didn't recognize Gloria—since the last time she saw her was at the farm where "pedal-pushers" and blue jeans are the accepted dress). Gloria was a beautiful bride. Her bridal dress was a rich, creamy-white, pure silk, taffeta with a very full skirt and rounded neckline embroidered with seed pearls. Her modified Juliet cap, designed to match her dress, held the filmy, waist length, illusion veil. The bridesmaids wore taffeta dresses in a soft champagne-gold color and carried bouquets of matching flowers. The little flower girl wore a sweet dress of pale yellow nylon and a crown of yellow rose buds. In her hand, she carried a tiny basket of yellow and copper-colored mums.

FOLLOWING THE WEDDING, we all went to the Edgewater Beach hotel for the brunch. While a small orchestra played, we congratulated and toasted the bride and groom, ate roast chicken and wedding cake and danced with the other wedding guests.

Not wanting to push our luck too far, I gathered up Megan and Bridget shortly after eating and we said "goodbye"—leaving Daddy there to finish up his duties. I was proud of my little ladies (may never be again—but certainly was that morning) and I told them so—in fact, I agreed to the reward they suggested: two double-dip ice cream cones from our favorite dairy bar on the way home.

Patty.

Touring Americans Reminisce As They View Ruins In Greece

Jeannette Paddock Nichols, who went to Europe accompanied by her husband to attend an international historical congress, last week told about an audience with Pope Pius. This week she takes her readers down to Greece. Next week she will take them to Turkey.

"Athens, Greece, Sept. 25.

"We are 'ruined' completely. We have visited so many majestic ruins, dating back a couple of thousand years, that we never again can look at an 'old' structure in the United States without feeling how young we are as a nation.

"As people, we felt kinship with the past tonight, as we sat on marble seats occupied over 2,000 years ago by Greeks, and watched a play performed under the stars.

"THE PLACE was the theatre built for the Athenians by Emperor Heroditus Atticus, built of marble seats rising steeply on a hillside, in a perfect semi-circle. The semicircle faces an elliptical stone wall full of arches, and reaching up about as high as the top row of seats. At the base of the wall, a platform with a very plain little building on it to represent a simple palace, serves as the stage.

"I am sitting on a seat with a back (all carved out of one piece of marble) because a Greek friend secured me space in the 'ministerial row' in front on account of my crutches. None of the other seats has backs. But all are carved so that one's seat rests on a smooth section of stone while the rear part of the slab provides a slightly depressed, less smooth place for the feet of the person behind and above you. The marble is chiseled out in a graceful curve beneath the seat; but it is all one piece of stone except where other stone has been filled in to mend a break.

"THE PLAY is 'Oedipus Rex,' written by the great Greek dramatist named Sophocles, who lived long before the birth of Christ. It is a story of a man doomed by the Gods to murder his father and marry his mother. His parents, knowing of the prophecy, tried to prevent its fulfillment by ordering a shepherd to kill their son. But the shepherd saved the life of the baby boy, who later, unwittingly, fulfilled the prophecy.

"When this man, Oedipus, the king, learned what he had done, his mother-wife also learned of it. She hung herself. He gouged out his eyes with the pointed jewelry his dead mother-wife was wearing, and had himself banished forever.

"All the play is performed without any intermission. The 2 stars have acted in Hollywood, (she as Pilar in 'For Whom the Bell Tolls'), and all the cast employ the Greek language so vividly that anyone familiar with the tragic story is carried along by the drama and the horror of this great play. The costumes are, of course, those of ancient Greece.

"THE GREAT 'Acropolis' ruins here are well known in America through pictures of the 'Parthenon.' But also there is the market place, called by ancient rGeeks an 'Agora,' which the great American School of Classical Studies is restoring in a way to make us all proud of the United States.

"We visited many other Greek ruins, including the famous oracle of Delphi. You can never forget the beauty of the cloudless blue of sky and of sea, which you see through the majestic old marble columns, turned lovely shades of burnished gold and pastel shadings by the weather, through the centuries.

"The farmers now are harvesting grapes, cotton and tobacco, making the rides through the country an interesting lesson in ancient methods of farming still used by the peasants."

The Harmonettes have always been a welcome addition to the music department of Arlington high school, and this year's group is going to be no exception. Membership in the singing group changes each year, selected by the department heads after auditions.

Like Moscow

The statements by Sheriff Lohman and Mayor Daley, in your Editor's Column, of not conspiring against the suburbs, or eating them alive, is comparable with the attitude of the big boys in Moscow. They don't see any conspiracy in their action, but would like to have all other nations dance correctly to their tune, like those they already have.

Why not let Mayor Daley mind his own business. Let the state abolish county authority and make each township representative to the state regulation, especially schools.

There are too many chefs for one kettle of soup. Even the Bible says, "Nobody can serve two masters unless he loves the one and hates the other."

Church And State

In answer to your question of September 22, about your grandchildren not receiving free bus transportation to their parochial school, I think our wonderful constitution of the United States, based on the ten commandments, is the best answer.

Our forefathers came to America eager to escape religious persecutions and to found communities in which they could worship God in their own way, free from domination of church and government officials trying to enforce conformity to other faiths.

Do you realize that without the first Amendment of the "Bill of Rights," our Bibles and our churches of all demonimations could be taken away from us, right here and now without a war. So let us hold fast to the Constitution with its "Bill of Rights." This is the rightest thing in America — it is our heritage.

THEREFORE instead of questioning the fact that your grandchildren can not have free transportation to their parochial school you should be overjoyed that they have the opportunity of attending a public school or a parochial school of their choice.

I am sure you can see that if any share of our taxes are used in support of parochial schools it means that we the citizens are not a free people, but are being forced by the state to support a religious order in addition to the one of our choice.

The very fact that your grandchildren are receiving the benefits listed in your letter, which are supplied by public taxes, shows that the state and the church are not entirely separate, and this is cause for alarm.

Registered Nurses Club, composed of nurses from Palatine and Rolling Meadows are sponsoring the Kuarter Kaffe Klatsch which has netted $1,410, with 3020 people attending the Northwest Community Center Hospital fund. The club has been overwhelmed with response and cooperation of all the participating communities.

Parties are being held in Arlington, Barrington, Barrington Woods, Mt. Prospect, Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Wheeling, Lake Zurich, Palatine and Rolling Meadows. In Palatine and Rolling Meadows almost all women have attended at least one party.

The hospital board has its own Kaffee Klatsch at each meeting. The cake and coffee donated by the nurses and served by Mrs. Kenneth Hartman and Mrs. J. Walters.

Advice To Youth

I found this article in the "Evening World-Herald" from Omaha, Neb., and I thought you might be interested in it. Maybe some of our girls and boys would be interested in the article also.

The article reads thusly:

"DON'T LET PARENTS DOWN; COMMANDMENT TO YOUTH.

1. Don't let your parents down. They've brought you up.
2. Stop and think before you drink.
3. Be smart, obey. You'll give orders yourself some day.
4. Ditch dirt ythoughts fast or they'll ditch you.
5. Show-off driving is juvenile. Don't act your age.
6. Pick the right friends to be picked for a friend.
7. Choose a date fit for a mate.
8. Don't go steady unless you're ready.
8. Love GOD and neighbor.
10. Live carefully. The soul you save may be your own."

If you do print this article, my name isn't worth mentioning.

The Right To Know

A civic movement stands or falls not only on its merits but on the ability of the public to ascertain its virtues.

The fight for reformed judicial selection and tenure is no exception. The ever vigilant press has demonstrated beyond per adventure that judges are presently selected by party chieftains; that this method of selection subjects the judiciary to political pressure in counties large and small; and that the cry against improved selection is the voice of the false prophet uttered for selfish purposes.

Here in Illinois, the press working with the organized bar is spearheading the movement for judicial reform. Through the press the public has been informed of compromises inimical to the common welfare and suggestions as to division of the constitutional amendment which would assure its defeat.

The Illinois state bar association congratulates the Illinois Press on national newspaper week, recognizing that our newspapers fight for the right to know. This is a proud augur of our press' future and an inspiration to those who would serve the public.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

What are you going to do when it's time to retire? Just wait for the grim reaper in a mixed assortment of such unhappy circumstances as loneliness, fear, aches and pains from muscles and heart and mind no longer getting the exercise they need? Or figure out a new life for yourself, one that will be interesting, worth while, and will keep you on your toes?

Retirement brings an abrupt change in living habits for the greatest number of retirees. After a lifetime of reporting regularly for work at a certain time, eating regular meals, and getting a regular amount of sleep, there is suddenly no schedule to be followed, no one to tell you what to do and how to do it. You're your own boss, you who have been obeying orders all of your life suddenly are on the spot and have to supervise yourself.

SO THE ANSWER seems to be to begin in leisure moments to develop a new activity, a new and absorbing interest which you feel is important and necessary. Something that will keep you on the ball, keep your mind alert and and your body limber. Something that makes you wake up each morning with a zest for life and an urge to get going. And what is that something? the things you were always going to do when you got the time. Maybe its travel, or painting, or writing a book.

Perhaps it's taking a more active part in your lodge or church work. Then start making plans now, getting ideas, putting them down, planning your future. When the day of the gold watch with it's inscription from loving employees or from management comes along, you'll be ready to shift into high on a brand new start in life.

RETIREMENT isn't nearly so grim as it seems, and life should really begin for you then. To thousands it has--and to other thousands it hasn't. It's the you that makes the difference. You're on your own, with the rest of your life to do with as you see fit. Let's make it count for gain!

Fire Losses

Estimated fire losses in the United States during August amounted to $71,103,000, the national board of fire underwriters has reported.

According to Lewis A. Vincent, NBFU's general manager, this $71,103,000 loss represents a decrease of 4.0 pe rcent from losses of $78,163,000 reported for August, 1954, and an increase of 15.4 per cent over losses of $61,614,000 for last July (1955).

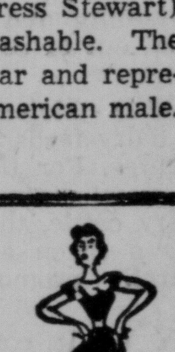
QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY



We heard one the other day that we find hard to believe. It seems that a couple of parents made the statement that all of their offspring were bound to be geniuses because they, said parents, were so well educated.

We batted that one around in our mind for a while and wondered by what process of osmosis all that book learning was supposed to be transmitted to those poor, unsuspecting unborn. Then, having that kind of mind, we had visions of these young entering the world, not with a good old fashioned yelp of anger, but spouting Lincoln's Gettysburg Address or bawling forth that most famous "To be, or not to be."

These mind pictures sent us into merry gales of laughter. As a matter of fact, we can't seem to be able to hang on to what education we gleaned years ago. While we have never considered that we were up to here in education, we did feel that a smattering of stuff was left over from so many years spent in the schools.

Now we know that this is a fallacy. We are not even fit to go into sixth grade. We have never felt that mama and papa should do junior's homework but on the other hand, we do feel that if they need a boost over a tough spot, we should boost.

Our middle young were having a great deal of trouble getting the idea of how to make out a report. In fact they were having so much trouble that we almost went berserk watching them struggle. Finally, we decided to take a hand to show them how a report should be done. It should be done, neatly, in sequence, and with a good deal of speed and dispatch. So, Mama proceeded to show them, yes she did.

We whipped along at great rate for at least half way through the project and then we hit a snag. We hit such a snag that between the Encyclopaedia and us we couldn't answer the questions. It has been borne upon us that we never went through sixth grade, our school obviously did not see fit to include sixth grade in the curriculum, and we would never have graduated from school if they had. Our ego has had a big blow, a really BIG blow. We may never recover.

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money," — H. C. Paddock, 1898-1935

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

Fifty Years Ago

October 20, 1905

We are proud of the old reliable North Western and their new station platforms at Arlington Heights. It is the greatest and most accommodating railroad on Earth to-day. Its management is enterprising and liberal. They aim to keep abreast of the times in equipment and cheerfully co-operate with their patrons to build up a profitable business. They have the fewest serious accidents of any great railroad system. They will grant anything in the power of reason to those who make polite requests.

The Itasca park committee is improving the park grounds with a cinder path on the north side; also cutting their hay crop in the lagoon,

Albert Heine and Ed Rahlfs started for the party Sunday evening but they stuck in Schaumburg. Let us know when you are going next time, then we will help you out.

Arlington Heights Volunteer Fire Dept. did themselves proud, Sunday evening. A fire was discovered about 5 o'clock in the hay loft of Fred Hue's barn, rented by Joe Wehrner and if it had not been for the prompt action of citizens, half the village might have burned to the ground. Ald. Hue told the boys to bring their fire engine into his yard and he would keep them supplied with water. They used up all the water in several wells and cisterns and hauled more in milk cans and in Hansing's water tank, while the bucket brigade did valiant service and the fire was extinguished within two hours. It is awful to contemplate what the demon might have done, had it not been quickly curbed. This shows our need for extending the water works system as soon as possible. The Glen Falls Ins. Co. sent their adjuster next day, who promptly paid Fred Hue $119 in full satisfaction of all claims for loss by the fire and all parties are well satisfied.

Forty Years Ago

October 15, 1915

The Cook County Herald is 44 years old today.

Mt. Prospect was shocked last Friday morning when word was circulated about the village that John Weide had been killed instantly while putting on a 2-inch belt that runs the cream separator, in some manner his blouse was caught; he was carried around the shaft and his lifeless body fell to the floor stripped of all clothing.

Herman Gielow is installing a curb gasoline pump in front of his Palatine garage.

The Palatine village hall looks resplendent in a new coat of paint, the work of Henry Seene. A bulletin board is a new feature which will keep the large door to the fire engine room free from those unsightly notices that have previously bedecked it.

A party of eight girls from Itasca saw "The Birth of a Nation" at the Colonial theater Saturday afternoon. Where were the boys?

Mrs. E. J. Scharringhausen, Arlington Heights, invited a few friends to a quilting bee Thursday afternoon.

A curiosity was exhibited in Arlington Heights Wednesday. A man on his way to the Palatine Fair had a horse that walked on eight feet. All four legs were natural to the ankle joint, but had double hoofs.

Thirty Years Ago

October 23, 1925

The interstate commerce commission granted the Chicago and North Western railway permission to increase its suburban fares. The maximum of the boost is 20 per cent, but that is limited to a rate of not more than 2 cents a mile. The railway showed that it was losing money on its suburban traffic.

Mrs. M. Wesbo made the first batch of Bockhosenwost this season in Addison. It certainly was good.

Mrs. Charles H. Patten, Palatine, was in Schaumburg on business Saturday.

The Suawanee River Colored Quartette gave a wonderful program at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening. The church and Sunday school rooms were well filled. Their program was varied and the Ladies Aid feel that the audience were well paid for the effort they made in coming out that disagreeable evening.

Chicago gangsters are now using machine guns. Pretty soon equipment for the police force will have to include bombing planes and heavy artillery.

Home Spun

The down to earth observations of Leland Ellis Truxell have made his poignant "Mailman's Corner" one of the most popular columns in Paddock Publications.

Twenty Years Ago

October 18, 1935

August J. Geistfeld, who has resided in the vicinity of Schaumburg all of his life, passed away Wednesday morning at the age of 73.

The first Arlington Heights WPA project under the new set-up has been approved by the government. The project calls for $6,000 to clean and repair bands of the sewer outlet and also for landscape work.

Frank Frohne and Albert DePue of Palatine were both badly injured early Sunday morning when the car driven by DePue hit the side of a brick building owned by Jefferson Ice Co., adjoining the Arlington Seating Co., in Arlington Heights.

The "Merry Wives" attended a luncheon and surprised Mrs. Grismer on her 21st wedding anniversary with a kitchen shower Monday. Mrs. Grismer was greeted with the singing of "Here Comes the Bride," "I Love You Truly," and "21 Years Is a Long Time." Needless to say, the wives were merry.

Mr. Hoveland, principal of Itasca public school, is in Elmhurst hospital for operation and treatment. The sixth, seventh and eighth grades are having a vacation.

Mrs. Thos. Pitt, Roselle, entertained the Ros-A-Lee club Wednesday evening. Prizes were awarded Mrs. W. Hattendorf, Mrs. Walter Nerge and Mrs. Leonard Etter.

Ten Years Ago

October 19, 1945

Work on a new store building at 119-121 E. Davis st. will be started in a few days in Arlington Heights. A modern and attractive building will be erected on the site on which a real estate office and barbershop now stand.

Deaths this week: Rufus Blackford, 75, of Wheeling; Joseph Podzimek, 47, of Arlington Heights; and John Charles Thompson, 74, of Arlington Heights.

Due to savings in the construction coasts, Mt. Prospect's new well cost $1,377 less than the engineer's estimate.

The contract has been let for building the new addition to the Prospect Heights schoolhouse.

Monday, October 8 was a gala night for Palatine Post American Legion when that organization admitted its first woman member. Miss Louise Stange received her discharge from the WACS Aug. 25 after serving 33 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schrader, Palatine, were honored with an open house Tuesday on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Wood Dale citizens will be called to the election polls Saturday to vote on a $30,000 school bond issue.

Keeneyville did it again. Mrs. Vivian Deike, chairman of the National War Fund of this community is happy to report the quota of the drive, $250 has been made.

Area Gambling Zooms Upward In September Reports Tax Director

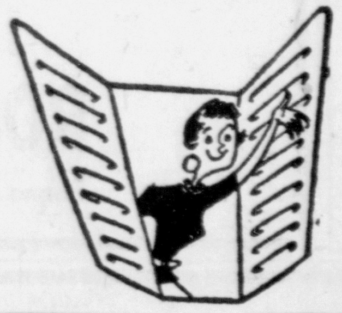
Northern Illinois gambling was up again in September, according to Ernest J. Sauber, district director of Internal revenue for 26 northern Illinois counties.

Receipts under the 10 per cent wagering tax covering bookies and policy wheels came to $65,442, a rise of $3,740 over August, and a jump of $7,666 over September of last year.

Two more wagering stamps were issued in Cook County, bringing that total to 202. The district total for wagering stamps is 303.

There have been 16 new gaming stamps issued. These cost $250 each and cover devices such as slot machines. Fourteen of the 16 gaming stamps were purchased in McHenry county, bringing the total in McHenry to 100. One new stamp in Cook County brought the total here to 79. This brings the total of gaming stamps in the district to 291.

It has been suggested that the flourishing trade in gaming stamps in McHenry county may be due to recent federal investigations and indictments there.



JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from Patty McArdle

Dear Peg:

After a great deal of discussion and debate and promises made, it was agreed that Megan and Bridget should attend the wedding. Besides being a wedding (which all little girls just naturally love to see), it was to be the wedding of one of their favorite uncles, making it doubly important to them that they be there.

I had no trouble urging them into the bathtub Friday night, as soon as they understood that, besides putting on their prettiest dresses, people always take baths and wash their hair before weddings. During bathtime, dinnertime, hair-putting-up-time and just before lights-go-out-time, we discussed once more the rules of etiquette for guests attending a wedding ceremony and reception. We covered such points as: guests climbing on the church pews, guests talking loudly or whining to leave during the ceremony, guests talking out loud to either bride, bridegroom, bridesmaids, ushers or best man (whether or not the best man is one's father!)

INCLUDED AMONG points regarding etiquette at the reception were: guests playing tag, hide-and-go-seek, etc. in the hotel, guests sticking fingers into the wedding cake—whether or not it has been cut, guests insisting on tasting champagne when not offered a glass, guests sitting up at the table and quietly eating their wedding breakfast regardless of what is served.

A beautiful, sunny, crisp Saturday morning dawned — just shortly before two very excited little girls jumped out of their beds and ran into their parents' room to announce the wedding day. Daddy was the next one up—as best man to his brother, Jack, the bridegroom, he had to get an early start. After getting partially dressed and eating breakfast, he donned his striped trousers, grey vest and black coat, etc. , while his "ladies" stood around admiring him. They all agreed that Daddy never looked so handsome.

THE PLAN, that Bob was to leave about an hour and a half before we, gave us plenty of time to leisurely eat breakfast and dress. I could only hope that the way they were acting that morning was an indication of their behavior at the wedding. Such angels! As soon as they were dressed in their organdy dresses and had their hair tied with ribbons, I picked up their skirts and set them down on the couch, ordering them not to move until I got my hat and coat on. They didn't move! We slipped on their coats, hats and gloves and were off to the wedding of Gloria Tiritilli and Jack McArdle.

The girls were little ladies throughout the ceremony. Only once did Bridget comment loudly. When, looking behind her, she saw Gloria appear at the head of the aisle, she was so thrilled that without thinking she exclaimed, "Here comes the bride lady!" (She didn't recognize Gloria—since the last time she saw her was at the farm where "pedal-pushers" and blue jeans are the accepted dress). Gloria was a beautiful bride. Her bridal dress was a rich, creamy-white, pure silk, taffeta with a very full skirt and rounded neckline embroidered with seed pearls. Her modified Juliet cap, designed to match her dress, held the filmy, waist length, illusion veil. The bridesmaids wore taffeta dresses in a soft champagne-gold color and carried bouquets of matching flowers. The little flower girl wore a sweet dress of pale yellow nylon and a crown of yellow rose buds. In her hand, she carried a tiny basket of yellow and copper-colored mums.

FOLLOWING THE WEDDING, we all went to the Edgewater Beach hotel for the brunch. While a small orchestra played, we congratulated and toasted the bride and groom, ate roast chicken and wedding cake and danced with the other wedding guests.

Not wanting to push our luck too far, I gathered up Megan and Bridget shortly after eating and we said "goodbye"—leaving Daddy there to finish up his duties. I was proud of my little ladies (may never be again—but certainly was that morning) and I told them so—in fact, I agreed to the reward they suggested: two double-dip ice cream cones from our favorite dairy bar on the way home.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

What are you going to do when it's time to retire? Just wait for the grim reaper in a mixed assortment of such unhappy circumstances as loneliness, fear, aches and pains from muscles and heart and mind no longer getting the exercise they need? Or figure out a new life for yourself, one that will be interesting, worth while, and will keep you on your toes?

Retirement brings an abrupt change in living habits for the greatest number of retirees. After a lifetime of reporting regularly for work at a certain time, eating regular meals, and getting a regular amount of sleep, there is suddenly no schedule to be followed, no one to tell you what to do and how to do it. You're your own boss, you who have been obeying orders all of your life suddenly are on the spot and have to supervise yourself.

SO THE ANSWER seems to be to begin in leisure moments to develop a new activity, a new and absorbing interest which you feel is important and necessary. Something that will keep you on the ball, keep your mind alert and and your body limber. Something that makes you wake up each morning with a zest for life and an urge to get going. And what is that something? the things you were always going to do when you got the time. Maybe its travel, or painting, or writing a book.

Perhaps it's taking a more active part in your lodge or church work. Then start making plans now, getting ideas, putting them down, planning your future. When the day of the gold watch with it's inscription from loving employees or from management comes along, you'll be ready to shift into high on a brand new start in life.

RETIREMENT isn't nearly so grim as it seems, and life should really begin for you then. To thousands it has--and to other thousands it hasn't. It's the you that makes the difference. You're on your own, with the rest of your life to do with as you see fit. Let's make it count for gain!

Fire Losses

Estimated fire losses in the United States during August amounted to $71,103,000, the national board of fire underwriters has reported.

According to Lewis A. Vincent, NBFU's general manager, this $71,103,000 loss represents a decrease of 4.0 per cent from losses of $78,163,000 reported for August, 1954, and an increase of 15.4 per cent over losses of $61,614,000 for last July (1955).

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

We heard one the other day that we find hard to believe. It seems that a couple of parents made the statement that all of their offspring were bound to be geniuses because they, said parents, were so well educated.

We batted that one around in our mind for a while and wondered by what process of osmosis all that book learning was supposed to be transmitted to those poor, unsuspecting unborn. Then, having that kind of mind, we had visions of these young entering the world, not with a good old fashioned yelp of anger, but spouting Lincoln's Gettysburg Address or bawling forth that most famous "To be, or not to be."

These mind pictures sent us into merry gales of laughter. As a matter of fact, we can't seem to be able to hang on to what education we gleaned years ago. While we have never considered that we were up to here in education, we did feel that a smattering of stuff was left over from so many years spent in the schools.

Now we know that this is a fallacy. We are not even fit to go into sixth grade. We have never felt that mama and papa should do junior's homework but on the other hand, we do feel that if they need a boost over a tough spot, we should boost.

Our middle young were having a great deal of trouble getting the idea of how to make out a report. In fact they were having so much trouble that we almost went berserk watching them struggle. Finally, we decided to take a hand to show them how a report should be done. It should be done, neatly, in sequence, and with a good deal of speed and dispatch. So, Mama proceeded to show them, yes she did.

We whipped along at great rate for at least half way through the project and then we hit a snag. We hit such a snag that between the Encyclopaedia and us we couldn't answer the questions. It has been borne upon us that we never went through sixth grade, our school obviously did not see fit to include sixth grade in the curriculum, and we would never have graduated from school if they had. Our ego has had a big blow, a really BIG blow. We may never recover.

Like Moscow

The statements by Sheriff Lohman and Mayor Daley, in your Editor's Column, of not conspiring against the suburbs, or eating them alive, is comparable with the attitude of the big boys in Moscow. They don't see any conspiracy in their action, but would like to have all other nations dance correctly to their tune, like those they already have.

Why not let Mayor Daley mind his own business. Let the state abolish county authority and make each township representative to the state regulation, especially schools.

There are too many chefs for one kettle of soup. Even the Bible says, "Nobody can serve two masters unless he loves the one and hates the other."

Church And State

In answer to your question of September 22, about your grandchildren not receiving free bus transportation to their parochial school, I think our wonderful constitution of the United States, based on the ten commandments, is the best answer.

Our forefathers came to America eager to escape religious persecutions and to found communities in which they could worship God in their own way, free from domination of church and government officials trying to enforce conformity to other faiths.

Do you realize that without the first Amendment of the "Bill of Rights," our Bibles and our churches of all demonimations could be taken away from us, right here and now without a war. So let us hold fast to the Constitution with its "Bill of Rights." This is the rightest thing in America — it is our heritage.

THEREFORE instead of questioning the fact that your grandchildren can not have free transportation to their parochial school you should be overjoyed that they have the opportunity of attending a public school or a parochial school of their choice.

I am sure you can see that if any share of our taxes are used in support of parochial schools it means that we the citizens are not a free people, but are being forced by the state to support a religious order in addition to the one of our choice.

The very fact that your grandchildren are receiving the benefits listed in your letter, which are supplied by public taxes, shows that the state and the church are not entirely separate, and this is cause for alarm.

Kaffee Klatsch

Registered Nurses Club, composed of nurses from Palatine and Rolling Meadows are sponsoring the Kuarter Kaffe Klatsch which has netted $1,410, with 3020 people attending the Northwest Community Center Hospital fund. The club has been overwhelmed with response and cooperation of all the participating communities.

Parties are being held in Arlington, Barrington, Barrington Woods, Mt. Prospect, Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Wheeling, Lake Zurich, Palatine and Rolling Meadows. In Palatine and Rolling Meadows almost all women have attended at least one party.

The hospital board has its own Kaffee Klatsch at each meeting. The cake and coffee donated by the nurses and served by Mrs. Kenneth Hartman and Mrs. J. Walters.

Advice To Youth

I found this article in the "Evening World-Herald" from Omaha, Neb., and I thought you might be interested in it. Maybe some of our girls and boys would be interested in the article also.

The article reads thusly:

"DON'T LET PARENTS DOWN; COMMANDMENT TO YOUTH.

1. Don't let your parents down. They've brought you up.
2. Stop and think before you drink.
3. Be smart, obey. You'll give orders yourself some day.
4. Ditch dirt ythoughts fast or they'll ditch you.
5. Show-off driving is juvenile. Don't act your age.
6. Pick the right friends to be picked for a friend.
7. Choose a date fit for a mate.
8. Don't go steady unless you're ready.
8. Love GOD and neighbor.
10. Live carefully. The soul you save may be your own."

If you do print this article, my name isn't worth mentioning.

The Right To Know

A civic movement stands or falls not only on its merits but on the ability of the public to ascertain its virtues.

The fight for reformed judicial selection and tenure is no exception. The ever vigilant press has demonstrated beyond per adventure that judges are presently selected by party chieftains; that this method of selection subjects the judiciary to political pressure in counties large and small; and that the cry against improved selection is the voice of the false prophet uttered for selfish purposes.

Here in Illinois, the press working with the organized bar is spearheading the movement for judicial reform. Through the press the public has been informed of compromises inimical to the common welfare and suggestions as to division of the constitutional amendment which would assure its defeat.

The Illinois state bar association congratulates the Illinois Press on national newspaper week, recognizing that our newspapers fight for the right to know. This is a proud augur of our press' future and an inspiration to those who would serve the public.

Need Better Understanding Between Farmers And Cities

by JOHN H. BICKET
Ass't. Farm Adviser

Recently I reported a visit of two South Americans who were in the county for the purpose of securing a better understanding of American agriculture. It was apparent that this primary purpose was only slightly more important than was their role as ambassador of good will between nations. These men were anxious to see the mechanization on the farms which we visited as well as marketing, economic and the social affairs of farm families.

The result will be a better working relationship between people of the countries involved which is becoming ever more important in this shrinking world of ours. We realize that it is possible to eat breakfast in Chicago and the evening meal in any other place in the world we might choose. But do we realize all the implications that it brings with it, – understanding between people.

THINKING of understanding between people, I wonder if we don't have an area for improvement in our own back yard. I'm refering to the improvement of understandings between city and farm people or those rural and urban people who live in this county, state and nation.

The farm progress show at Belvidere was an excellent opportunity for city people to see the progress that has been made in the business of farming. Farming, like business and industry has found it necessary to keep up with the changing times. To the city observer the many implements and labor saving devices on display, left an impression that much of the hard work and sweat have been removed from farming. To most farmers it was a look into tomorrow as many of the displays were well in advance of actual conditions on their home farms.

If you haven't seen the international dairy show being held at the International Amphitheater, October 8-15 plan now to attend and see the tops of the dairy industry.

Egg Law Can Raise Quality Within State

The ire of the American housewife is certain to be aroused if she breaks an "unsavory" egg into the skillet when preparing breakfast. For this reason—and others— the state egg law is important.

The intent of the Illinois egg law, he points out, is to raise the quality of eggs sold in the state so that the housewife may buy eggs with more confidence and satisfaction. Regulations to insure proper labeling, therefore, are necessary.

FARMERS PRODUCING and selling eggs are affected by this law in several ways. Here are 2:

1. All eggs bought from farmers must be candled and bought on a "loss off" basis, meaning that the buyer cannot purchase bad or inedible eggs and that farmers including such eggs in their shipment will not be paid for them. Actually, the law only specifies that eggs purchased from farmers must be candled so that the bad or inedible eggs will not be bought. Contrary to some ideas, he is not required to buy the eggs on a graded basis.

2. The existing Illinois law requires that persons buying and selling eggs be licensed by the Division of Markets, but this applies only to persons selling eggs not produced by them. Farmers may sell eggs to their own customers without a retailer license.

DOWN ON THE FARM with Your Farm Adviser

CARL F. MEES

This is designated as fire prevention week. Did you ever stop to think why this particular week is designated as such? October 9, 1871 was when the Great Chicago fire took 250 lives and destroyed 17,430 buildings at a direct loss of $168,000,000.

On the same date, Ocotber 9, 1871, in the Peshtigo, Wis. forest fire 1152 lives were lost in the town and the surrounding area. So fire prevention week traditionally includes and commemorates the anniversary dates of these 2 great fires.

IN ANOTHER rural disaster on October 12, 1918 the town of Cloquet, Minn., and the surrounding area suffered the loss of 283 lives from a forest fire.

Fire is a good servant but a bad master. The same is true of many other things that may cause fires. Real firemen when making a home fire inspection look for some of the following things.

Frayed electric cords – these often start fires and should be replaced.

Matches and lighters should be kept far out of the reach of small children.

Curtains, paper, furniture, laundry and anything that burns easily should not be anywhere near kitchen stoves or furnaces where they might catch fire.

THE BASEMENT and attic -- and closets, too -- should be neat and clean because very bad fires can start in piles of old clothes, papers, paint cans and rags, and other rubbish. This kind of junk is very dangerous to keep anywhere in the house.

Ash trays -- big ones – are a very good thing to have in every room in the house. Matches and cigarettes carelessly thrown away start more fires than anything else.

Other things to keep in mind are:

Don't leave your youngsters home unattended. Children left unattended would be completely helpless in case of fire. Baby sitters should be trained and capable of protecting your children in the face of emergency.

Make sure the sitter knows where the phone is and make it easy for her by prominently posting the telephone numbers of the fire and police departments and doctor on or near the phone.

THE BABY SITTER should know that at the first whiff of smoke or gas, she should immediately gather up the youngsters and get them out of the house. And tell her not to waste time dressing the kids -- wrap them in a blanket and get them out at once!

Once the children are safely away from the house, the sitter should then call the fire department, preferably from a neighboring house.

Your farm will be safe from fire if you don't give fire a place to start.

It's a good time to get a farm ready for winter, the season when the fire menace is severe.

Clean up all trash, for it can be fuel for unwanted fires. Oily rags should be stored in covered metal containers, well away from stoves or spark-throwing equipment.

REPLACE BADLY worn wiring. Circuits are likely to overheat and be a fire hazard if fuses are not the correct amperage.

"No smoking" signs should be posted in hay barns, machine shops, and wherever flammable liquids are stored. Obey no-smoking rules to the letter.

Keep heaters and stoves in good repair and always follow makers' instructions when operating them. Combustible materials should be stored a good, safe distance from these heat sources. Clean the soot from chimneys, and if there are chimney cracks, or loose mortar, or defective flue pipes, have these repaired.

When building, repairing or remodeling, use fire-resistant materials wherever possible. Protect roofs with asphalt shingles, or other fire retardant roofing. Stone, brick, concrete or cinder block walls slow the spread of fire.

And before the wintery winds start blowing, make sure your TV antenna is firmly attached to its mounting and is well grounded.

Soil Conservation Classes To Begin

In cooperation with the soil conservation district of North Cook county, the agriculture department of Barrington high school is offering an adult farmer evening class in soil conservation.

TOPICS COVERED during the course will include: An understanding of the types of soil on my farm, how can I secure the highest yields from my soil?. Soil capability, soil testing, rotations, what fertilizer for 100 bushel corn? what elements do our soils need?, grassland farming, why do seedings fail?, pasture management, grass silage, nutritional value of feeds, drainage and tiling, grass waterways, contouring and strip cropping, woodland and wildlife, economics of conservation and social responsibility, developing a conservation farm plan for my farm.

This course is being made possible by the cooperative efforts of the directors of the North Cook soil conservation district, the advisory council of the Barrington high school agriculture department, and the board of education of the Hanover Countryside school.

IF INTERESTED in increasing your farm income and improving farm living here is an opportunity to find the answers to your questions.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Maurcie Umbdenstock at CLearbrook 3-7656, Ellery Knake at Barrington 1400, an advisory council member or a soil conservation district director.

How Social Security Covers Farmers In Booklet Available

"How social security covers farmers," a booklet recently issued by the social security administration, explains in easy-to-understand language the rights and obligations of farm people under the social security law, according to Julius Berman, manager of the northwest district social security office.

The booklet is intended to help a farmer determine whether he is employed or self-employed, especially in relation to the farming of land leased on a cash rental or share of the crop basis. A section of the publication is devoted to income reporting requirements for self-employed farmers. This information is timely, as the reporting of self-employement farm income and the paying of the social security tax will be part of the Federal income tax return for 1955 which is due April 15 of the coming year.

Cows Prefer Temperature At 50, Give More Milk

Dairy cows can more than pay the cost of good housing. Holsteins that produce more than 9,000 pounds of milk a year or Guernseys that make more than 6,500 pounds, will show a larger profit if housed in buildings maintained at 45 to 50 degrees, according to tests made at the University of Missouri. At 50 degrees, experimental Holsteins produced an average of 49.80 pounds of milk daily, but dropped to 48.75 pounds at 60 degrees. The difference of 1.05 pounds per cow per day may seem unimportant, but in a 20-cow herd it can mean a difference of $336 for a 300-day lactation period when shipping Grade A milk. At 70-degree housing, the loss would amount to about 1,096.

Maintaining a dairy barn at 45 to 50 degrees during the lactation period of most cows is not particularly difficult in Northern and Western dairy areas. A properly insulated and ventilated barn is the first requirement. Second, the breeding cycle can be adjusted so most cows are dry during the hottest summer months.

To maintain a productive climate in the barn, walls and ceilings need to be adequately insulated with the vapor barrier installed as shown in the drawing. The drawing also shows the thickness of mineral wool insulation needed in barn walls and ceilings where average winter temperatures are between 20 and 30 degrees. Average winter temperature between 10 and 20 degrees requires 3 inches of sidewall insulation, with doors and windows of insulated glass or with storm sash. A roof of durable asphalt shingles provides weather and fire protection for the building and its contents.

When temperatures drop, the fans in the ventilating system should immediately restrict air flow through the barn, and they should increase air flow as outdoor temperatures rise.

Hogs To Reach Lowest Prices In Next 30 Days

Hogs will reach their lowest price between the middle of October and the middle of November says National Live Stock Producer, the nation's leading live stock magazine.

However, the fall market is in a stronger position than has been generally assumed.

Hog weights are at a record low —a factor which will hold down the overall supply of pork.

There has been a heavy movement of pork out of storage during the past few months which will have to be replaced during the heavy marketing period.

There is also considerable slack between hog prices and the wholesale and retail price level which should be taken up.

Why Farmers Should Use FORDS Molasses Feed Impregnator

One of the most effective methods of supplying these essential minerals . . . and by far the lowest-cost method . . . is to impregnate the grain, hay and legume feeds with MOLASSES.

Molasses rates highest per hundred pounds in organic matter of anything that can be fed. The minerals of the entire cane crop are in the black strap. Applying 10 to 20% black strap to the feed increases palatability and water consumption, acts as a tonic to the animal out of condition, increases weight and greatly improves finish.

MOLASSES AS A DAIRY FEED - Molasses is fast becoming a necessary ingredient of all dairy feeds. It increases milk production to a very marked degree. For the calf, the minerals in the molasses promote growth, strengthen skeleton, hoof, teeth and horns. To all dairy cattle, the proper amount of molasses in the feed supplies a sheen and finish almost like Spring pastures, and generally promotes good health in the herd.

MOLASSES FOR POULTRY — It contributes to the health and well-being of the birds increases water consumption, supplies a mild laxative, furnishes carbohydrates in a digestible form and provides the necessary Vitamin B.

MOLASSES FOR HOGS — It keep hogs healthy and growing, and is one of the very best aids to economical pork production. It causes them to eat more feed, drink more water, and mature faster with better finish.

MOLASSES FOR BEEF CATTLE — Feeders have learned that molasses puts fat and bloom on their herds better than any other feed, insuring quicker and cheaper gains. It keeps the appetite sharp and promotes the consumption of larger quantities of the cheaper roughages, thus reducing the per-pound beef production cost.

MOLASSES FOR SHEEP — To a greater extent than for any other livestock, succulent feeds are needed for sheep . . . feed that is fresh and appetizing. Molasses added to many unpalatable feeds make them most appetizing and produces excellent results. A mixture of ground alfalfa and 20% molasses, used as a basis for the grain ration, is recommended by many prominent authorities.

This Method of Feed Preparation Is Here to Stay. With the FORDS MOLASSES FEED Impregnator I Am Equipped to Give Farmer Customers 100% Complete Feed-Preparation Service.

My services include Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Des Plaines, Bensenville, Addison, Wood Dale, Itasca, Bloomingdale, Cloverdale, Roselle, Schaumburg, Hanover Township, Barrington, Palatine, Prairie View, Wheeling, Northbrook and Glenview.

Need Better Understanding Between Farmers And Cities

Ass't. Farm Adviser

Recently I reported a visit of two South Americans who were in the county for the purpose of securing a better understanding of American agriculture. It was apparent that this primary purpose was only slightly more important than was their role as ambassador of good will between nations. These men were anxious to see the mechanization on the farms which we visited as well as marketing, economic and the social affairs of farm families.

The result will be a better working relationship between people of the countries involved which is becoming ever more important in this shrinking world of ours. We realize that it is possible to eat breakfast in Chicago and the evening meal in any other place in the world we might choose. But do we realize all the implications that it brings with it, – understanding between people.

THINKING of understanding between people, I wonder if we don't have an area for improvement in our own back yard. I'm refering to the improvement of understandings between city and farm people or those rural and urban people who live in this county, state and nation.

The farm progress show at Belvidere was an excellent opportunity for city people to see the progress that has been made in the business of farming. Farming, like business and industry has found it necessary to keep up with the changing times. To the city observer the many implements and labor saving devices on display, left an impression that much of the hard work and sweat have been removed from farming. To most farmers it was a look into tomorrow as many of the displays were well in advance of actual conditions on their home farms.

If you haven't seen the international dairy show being held at the International Amphitheater, October 8-15 plan now to attend and see the tops of the dairy industry.

Egg Law Can Raise Quality Within State

The ire of the American housewife is certain to be aroused if she breaks an "unsavory" egg into the skillet when preparing breakfast. For this reason—and others— the state egg law is important.

The intent of the Illinois egg law, he points out, is to raise the quality of eggs sold in the state so that the housewife may buy eggs with more confidence and satisfaction. Regulations to insure proper labeling, therefore, are necessary.

FARMERS PRODUCING and selling eggs are affected by this law in several ways. Here are 2:

1. All eggs bought from farmers must be candled and bought on a "loss off" basis, meaning that the buyer cannot purchase bad or inedible eggs and that farmers including such eggs in their shipment will not be paid for them. Actually, the law only specifies that eggs purchased from farmers must be candled so that the bad or inedible eggs will not be bought. Contrary to some ideas, he is not required to buy the eggs on a graded basis.

2. The existing Illinois law requires that persons buying and selling eggs be licensed by the Division of Markets, but this applies only to persons selling eggs not produced by them. Farmers may sell eggs to their own customers without a retailer license.

CARL F. MEES

This is designated as fire prevention week. Did you ever stop to think why this particular week is designated as such? October 9, 1871 was when the Great Chicago fire took 250 lives and destroyed 17,430 buildings at a direct loss of $168,000,000.

On the same date, Ocotber 9, 1871, in the Peshtigo, Wis. forest fire 1152 lives were lost in the town and the surrounding area. So fire prevention week traditionally includes and commemorates the anniversary dates of these 2 great fires.

IN ANOTHER rural disaster on October 12, 1918 the town of Cloquet, Minn., and the surrounding area suffered the loss of 283 lives from a forest fire.

Fire is a good servant but a bad master. The same is true of many other things that may cause fires. Real firemen when making a home fire inspection look for some of the following things.

Frayed electric cords – these often start fires and should be replaced.

Matches and lighters should be kept far out of the reach of small children.

Curtains, paper, furniture, laundry and anything that burns easily should not be anywhere near kitchen stoves or furnaces where they might catch fire.

THE BASEMENT and attic -- and closets, too -- should be neat and clean because very bad fires can start in piles of old clothes, papers, paint cans and rags, and other rubbish. This kind of junk is very dangerous to keep anywhere in the house.

Ash trays -- big ones – are a very good thing to have in every room in the house. Matches and cigarettes carelessly thrown away start more fires than anything else.

Other things to keep in mind are:

Don't leave your youngsters home unattended. Children left unattended would be completely helpless in case of fire. Baby sitters should be trained and capable of protecting your children in the face of emergency.

Make sure the sitter knows where the phone is and make it easy for her by prominently posting the telephone numbers of the fire and police departments and doctor on or near the phone.

THE BABY SITTER should know that at the first whiff of smoke or gas, she should immediately gather up the youngsters and get them out of the house. And tell her not to waste time dressing the kids -- wrap them in a blanket and get them out at once!

Once the children are safely away from the house, the sitter should then call the fire department, preferably from a neighboring house.

Your farm will be safe from fire if you don't give fire a place to start.

It's a good time to get a farm ready for winter, the season when the fire menace is severe.

Clean up all trash, for it can be fuel for unwanted fires. Oily rags should be stored in covered metal containers, well away from stoves or spark-throwing equipment.

REPLACE BADLY worn wiring. Circuits are likely to overheat and be a fire hazard if fuses are not the correct amperage.

"No smoking" signs should be posted in hay barns, machine shops, and wherever flammable liquids are stored. Obey no-smoking rules to the letter.

Keep heaters and stoves in good repair and always follow makers' instructions when operating them. Combustible materials should be stored a good, safe distance from these heat sources. Clean the soot from chimneys, and if there are chimney cracks, or loose mortar, or defective flue pipes, have these repaired.

When building, repairing or remodeling, use fire-resistant materials wherever possible. Protect roofs with asphalt shingles, or other fire retardant roofing. Stone, brick, concrete or cinder block walls slow the spread of fire.

And before the wintery winds start blowing, make sure your TV antenna is firmly attached to its mounting and is well grounded.

"Don't give fires a chance to start" is the slogan for Fire Prevention week.

Soil Conservation Classes To Begin

In cooperation with the soil conservation district of North Cook county, the agriculture department of Barrington high school is offering an adult farmer evening class in soil conservation.

Theopeningsession will be held at Hanover Countryside grade school, located at the corner of Schaumburg and Bartlett roads, beginning at 8 p.m. Monday, October 17.

Maurice Umbdenstock, farm planner for North Cook soil conservation district will assume major responsibility for conducting the series of ten weekly meetings. Specialists from the soil conservation service and from the University of Illinois will be called in to help out.

TOPICS COVERED during the course will include: An understanding of the types of soil on my farm, how can I secure the highest yields from my soil? Soil capability, soil testing, rotations, what fertilizer for 100 bushel corn? what elements do our soils need?, grassland farming, why do seedings fail?, pasture management, grass silage, nutritional value of feeds, drainage and tiling, grass waterways, contouring and strip cropping, woodland and wildlife, economics of conservation and social responsibility, developing a conservation farm plan for my farm.

This course is being made possible by the cooperative efforts of the directors of the North Cook soil conservation district, the advisory council of the Barrington high school agriculture department, and the board of education of the Hanover Countryside school.

How Social Security Covers Farmers In Booklet Available

"How social security covers farmers," a booklet recently issued by the social security administration, explains in easy-to-understand language the rights and obligations of farm people under the social security law, according to Julius Berman, manager of the northwest district social security office.

The booklet is intended to help a farmer determine whether he is employed or self-employed, especially in relation to the farming of land leased on a cash rental or share of the crop basis. A section of the publication is devoted to income reporting requirements for self-employed farmers. This information is timely, as the reporting of self-employement farm income and the paying of the social security tax will be part of the Federal income tax return for 1955 which is due April 15 of the coming year.

Cows Prefer Temperature At 50, Give More Milk

Dairy cows can more than pay the cost of good housing. Holsteins that produce more than 9,000 pounds of milk a year or Guernseys that make more than 6,500 pounds, will show a larger profit if housed in buildings maintained at 45 to 50 degrees, according to tests made at the University of Missouri. At 50 degrees, experimental Holsteins produced an average of 49.80 pounds of milk daily, but dropped to 48.75 pounds at 60 degrees. The difference of 1.05 pounds per cow per day may seem unimportant, but in a 20-cow herd it can mean a difference of $336 for a 300-day lactation period when shipping Grade A milk. At 70-degree housing, the loss would amount to about 1,096.

Maintaining a dairy barn at 45 to 50 degrees during the lactation period of most cows is not particularly difficult in Northern and Western dairy areas. A properly insulated and ventilated barn is the first requirement. Second, the breeding cycle can be adjusted so most cows are dry during the hottest summer months.

To maintain a productive climate in the barn, walls and ceilings need to be adequately insulated with the vapor barrier installed as shown in the drawing. The drawing also shows the thickness of mineral wool insulation needed in barn walls and ceilings where average winter temperatures are between 20 and 30 degrees. Average winter temperature between 10 and 20 degrees requires 3 inches of sidewall insulation, with doors and windows of insulated glass or with storm sash. A roof of durable asphalt shingles provides weather and fire protection for the building and its contents.

When temperatures drop, the fans in the ventilating system should immediately restrict air flow through the barn, and they should increase air flow as outdoor temperatures rise.

Hogs To Reach Lowest Prices In Next 30 Days

Hogs will reach their lowest price between the middle of October and the middle of November says National Live Stock Producer, the nation's leading live stock magazine.

However, the fall market is in a stronger position than has been generally assumed.

Hog weights are at a record low —a factor which will hold down the overall supply of pork.

There has been a heavy movement of pork out of storage during the past few months which will have to be replaced during the heavy marketing period.

There is also considerable slack between hog prices and the wholesale and retail price level which should be taken up.

Why Farmers Should Use FORDS Molasses Feed Impregnator

One of the most effective methods of supplying these essential minerals . . . and by far the lowest-cost method . . . is to impregnate the grain, hay and legume feeds with MOLASSES.

Molasses rates highest per hundred pounds in organic matter of anything that can be fed. The minerals of the entire cane crop are in the black strap. Applying 10 to 20% black strap to the feed increases palatability and water consumption, acts as a tonic to the animal out of condition, increases weight and greatly improves finish.

MOLASSES AS A DAIRY FEED - Molasses is fast becoming a necessary ingredient of all dairy feeds. It increases milk production to a very marked degree. For the calf, the minerals in the molasses promote growth, strengthen skeleton, hoof, teeth and horns. To all dairy cattle, the proper amount of molasses in the feed supplies a sheen and finish almost like Spring pastures, and generally promotes good health in the herd.

MOLASSES FOR POULTRY — It contributes to the health and well-being of the birds. increases water consumption, supplies a mild laxative, furnishes carbohydrates in a digestible form and provides the necessary Vitamin B.

MOLASSES FOR HOGS — It keep hogs healthy and growing, and is one of the very best aids to economical pork production. It causes them to eat more feed, drink more water, and mature faster with better finish.

MOLASSES FOR BEEF CATTLE — Feeders have learned that molasses puts fat and bloom on their herds better than any other feed, insuring quicker and cheaper gains. It keeps the appetite sharp and promotes the consumption of larger quantities of the cheaper roughages, thus reducing the per-pound beef production cost.

MOLASSES FOR SHEEP — To a greater extent than for any other livestock, succulent feeds are needed for sheep . . . feed that is fresh and appetizing. Molasses added to many unpalatable feeds make them most appetizing and produces excellent results. A mixture of ground alfalfa and 20% molasses, used as a basis for the grain ration, is recommended by many prominent authorities.

This Method of Feed Preparation Is Here to Stay. With the FORDS MOLASSES FEED Impregnator I Am Equipped to Give Farmer Customers 100% Complete Feed-Preparation Service.

My services include Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Des Plaines, Bensenville, Addison, Wood Dale, Itasca, Bloomingdale, Cloverdale, Roselle, Schaumburg, Hanover Township, Barrington, Palatine, Prairie View, Wheeling, Northbrook and Glenview.

Aureomycin Fed Continuously Ups Egg Production

Results of experiments in which Aureomycin (chemical name chlortetracycline) was fed continuously at high levels to laying hens have shown that the antibiotic increases egg production as much as 40 per cent and improves hatchability by 18 per cent. In other tests, conducted under actual poultry-raising conditions, extra returns per 1,000 birds on a diet containing Aureomycin were more than $1,000.

On a commercial farm at Sandy, Utah, two groups of White Leghorn breeders were housed in separate pens under identical conditions. One group was fed a mash and grain diet. The other group received exactly the same diet plus Aureomycin at a level of 100 grams per ton of feed.

PRODUCTION of the group of hens which received the Aureomycin was 60 per cent compared with 54 per cent for the control group. The antibiotic-supplemented birds produced 580 cases of eggs per thousand hens housed while the controls produced only 498 cases. The group fed Aureomycin yielded an extra return of $501 per thousand birds.

In another test conducted under the same conditions, hens fed Aureomycin showed an average production of 69 per cent and produced 601 cases of eggs per 1,000 hens housed. The control group's production was 58 per cent and eggs produced totaled 481 cases. Extra return per 1,000 birds receiving Aureomycin in the diet was $1,233.

IN ANOTHER test program conducted at Red Hen farm, Gainesville, Ga., Vantress breeders were observed under adverse weather conditions. The 11-month field trial spanned a spell of damp, cold spring weather and a hot, dry fall.

The breeder hens were housed identically but in two separate groups. One was fed a mash and grain diet. The other group received the same diet but with the addition of Aureomycin, 100 grams per ton of ration.

Egg production of the control group was 44 per cent and that of the birds fed Aureomycin was 48 per cent. The controls produced only 322 cases of eggs per thousand hens housed as compared with 349 cases in the group fed Aureomycin. Hatchability for the first group was 79 per cent with a total of 91,570 chicks produced per thousand hens. For the breeders receiving Aureomycin, hatchability was 83 per cent with 104,650 chicks produced. On the basis of total feed costs including the Aureomycin, the antibiotic-fed group showed an extra return of $1,829 per thousand birds. (Fm

Don't Over-Estimate Your Own Fire Fighting Ability

Don't over-estimate your own fire-fighting ability, warns, Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser. There's no sorrier sight than the farmer who thought he could handle a small brush fire behind the barn – and then had to watch helplessly as the barn and half his stock were destroyed by the flames.

"Don't be embarrassed to call for an investigation by the fire department at once if you smell smoke or even suspect a fire," say the national fire protection association and the department of agriculture, co-sponsors of fire prevention week, October 9-15.

Since farms are often remote from fire departments, the NFPA and USDA urge farmers to summon the firemen at once at the first sign of fire. Post the fire department's phone number beside the telephone. (Fm

Circular Tells Intricacies Of Inheritances

Nearly everyone needs to make a will.

Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser, says that most farm land changes hands each generation through inheritance. And if you don't make special plans, your property will go to your nearest relatives according to the Illinois laws of descent.

But, if expressed in a valid, legal will, your special desires take precedence over the laws of descent. Without a will the law takes a rigid course, explains Mees. The same amount of property is given to a married, well established daughter as to juvenile and dependent daughter. An invalid and needy son gets no more than his healthy and prosperous brother.

WITH A WILL you can exercise your judgment and provide for each member of your family according to his needs.

Joint tenancy is a form of co-ownership of property whereby two or more persons own property together. But it differs from other types of co-ownership. A Joint tenant becomes the sole owner of the entire property upon the death of the other tenant or tenants. This is called the "right of survivorship."

TO PLACE real property in joint tenancy--and make it legal--you should use a deed containing the words "to John and Mary, not as tenants in common but as joint tenants."

There are many different aspects to laws of descent, wills and joint tenancy, says Mees. You can get more information from Circular 747, "Illinois Inheritance Laws, Wills, and Joint Tenancy," which now is available at the farm adviser's office. (Fm

Barttett Cow National Champ

Char Lane E. Nancy, a Guernsey owned by Mrs. Gertrude McNaught of Bartlett, was designated national grand champion female in the Guernsey breed Wednesday of last week at the dairy cattle congress in Waterloo, Iowa.

The Guernsey won the All-American two year old award in 1954.

The Guernsey went from Waterloo to Chicago to compete in the international competition this week.

Robert Stewart, secretary of the American Guernsey Cattle Club, stated that this year's dairy cattle show was "one of the largest in years with 275 head exhibited.

"Fifteen different states were represented and the quality was excellent," Stewart commented. Nine state herds were exhibited at the cattle contest.

Mrs. McNaught, who owns 200 head of purebred Guernsey cattle on a 456 acre farm on Barrington road, is secretary-treasurer of Duro Metal Products, 2649 Kildare, Chicago. (Fm

Government Opens New Drive On War Trophies

The Internal Revenue service has announced a final drive in its program aimed at the deactivation of all war trophy firearms.

At the same time, the service announced that owners who sell or give their deactivated war firearms to others no longer need notify the Internal Revenue service of the transfer.

If you have a firearm that you are keeping as a war trophy and have not had it deactivated, the government will do the job as a public service. Deactivation consists of welding the chamber shut and welding the barrel solidly to the frame.

Any person who restores the weapon to a firing condition violates the National Firearms act.

Tips on Traffic Safety

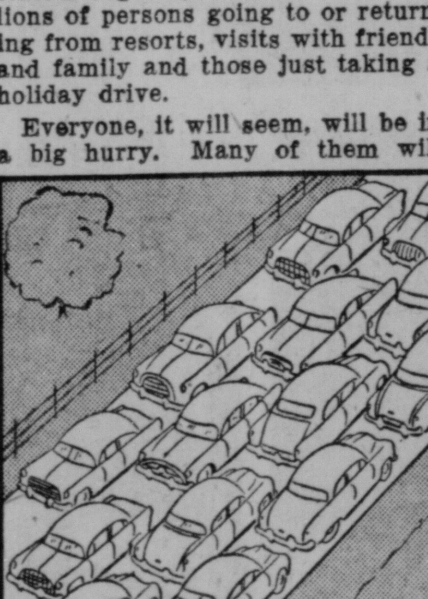
By

CHARLES F. CARPENTIER

Secretary of State

With another big Labor Day holiday weekend approaching us, the nation is again faced with the sad, horrifying statistics which tell us how many lives will be lost over the holiday weekend. From Friday evening until Monday night, millions of vehicles will clog the state's highways loaded with millions of persons going to or returning from resorts, visits with friends and family and those just taking a holiday drive.

Everyone, it will seem, will be in a big hurry. Many of them will merely be hurrying to their deaths. Long trips will make a number of drivers tired and irritated to a point where they will not heed the rules of the road. It will be necessary for holiday drivers to be especially cautious to avoid accidents, injuries and deaths. Caution and courtesy will not cost one cent but they will be extremely valuable in avoiding disaster.



This is one time of the year when the old saying of "let the other fellow do it" should be followed. If the "other fellow" wants to travel at excessive speeds, drive recklessly and violate traffic laws in general, let him. But, as for YOU, be cautious. On Tuesday he may be just a statistic in a holiday death toll, but you won't.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Winter Short Course Helps Many Unable To Attend College

After graduation from high school many young people find it impossible for one reason or another to attend college, because of the cost involved, time away from home and employment or other reasons. In view of this fact, the University of Illinois has started what they call the winter short course in agriculture which will start November 28 and end January 19 completing it's fifth consecutive year.

Courses are available in agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal science, dairy science, forestry, veterinary medicine and farm buildings.

There are many men and women who will take this opportunity to secure information which they have need for in their everyday work.

Busy Bees Will Model Skirts

Palatine Busy Bees were given books, "Pictures on the Wall," by their leader, Mrs. Koskela, at their recent meeting. Members of the Busy Bees will be guests of the Mothers club October 11 and will model their skirts. New members were also welcomed at the meeting.

Aureomycin Fed Continuously Ups Egg Production

Results of experiments in which Aureomycin (chemical name chlortetracycline) was fed continuously at high levels to laying hens have shown that the antibiotic increases egg production as much as 40 per cent and improves hatchability by 18 per cent. In other tests, conducted under actual poultry-raising conditions, extra returns per 1,000 birds on a diet containing Aureomycin were more than $1,000.

On a commercial farm at Sandy, Utah, two groups of White Leghorn breeders were housed in separate pens under identical conditions. One group was fed a mash and grain diet. The other group received exactly the same diet plus Aureomycin at a level of 100 grams per ton of feed.

PRODUCTION of the group of hens which received the Aureomycin was 60 per cent compared with 54 per cent for the control group. The antibiotic-supplemented birds produced 580 cases of eggs per thousand hens housed while the controls produced only 498 cases. The group fed Aureomycin yielded an extra return of $501 per thousand birds.

In another test conducted under the same conditions, hens fed Aureomycin showed an average production of 69 per cent and produced 601 cases of eggs per 1,000 hens housed. The control group's production was 58 per cent and eggs produced totaled 481 cases. Extra return per 1,000 birds receiving Aureomycin in the diet was $1,233.

IN ANOTHER test program conducted at Red Hen farm, Gainesville, Ga., Vantress breeders were observed under adverse weather conditions. The 11-month field trial spanned a spell of damp, cold spring weather and a hot, dry fall.

The breeder hens were housed identically but in two separate groups. One was fed a mash and grain diet. The other group received the same diet but with the addition of Aureomycin, 100 grams per ton of ration.

Egg production of the control group was 44 per cent and that of the birds fed Aureomycin was 48 per cent. The controls produced only 322 cases of eggs per thousand hens housed as compared with 349 cases in the group fed Aureomycin. Hatchability for the first group was 79 per cent with a total of 91,570 chicks produced per thousand hens. For the breeders receiving Aureomycin, hatchability was 83 per cent with 104,650 chicks produced. On the basis of total feed costs including the Aureomycin, the antibiotic-fed group showed an extra return of $1,829 per thousand birds. (Fm

Government Opens New Drive On War Trophies

The Internal Revenue service has announced a final drive in its program aimed at the deactivation of all war trophy firearms.

At the same time, the service announced that owners who sell or give their deactivated war firearms to others no longer need notify the Internal Revenue service of the transfer.

If you have a firearm that you are keeping as a war trophy and have not had it deactivated, the government will do the job as a public service. Deactivation consists of welding the chamber shut and welding the barrel solidly to the frame.

Any person who restores the weapon to a firing condition violates the National Firearms act.

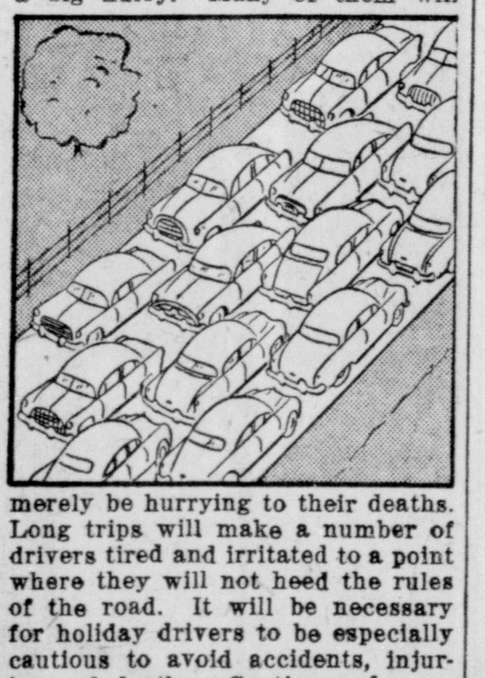
Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

With another big Labor Day holiday weekend approaching us, the nation is again faced with the sad, horrifying statistics which tell us how many lives will be lost over the holiday weekend. From Friday evening until Monday night, millions of vehicles will clog the state's highways loaded with millions of persons going to or returning from resorts, visits with friends and family and those just taking a holiday drive.

Everyone, it will seem, will be in a big hurry. Many of them will merely be hurrying to their deaths. Long trips will make a number of drivers tired and irritated to a point where they will not heed the rules of the road. It will be necessary for holiday drivers to be especially cautious to avoid accidents, injuries and deaths. Caution and courtesy will not cost one cent but they will be extremely valuable in avoiding disaster.



This is one time of the year when the old saying of "let the other fellow do it" should be followed. If the "other fellow" wants to travel at excessive speeds, drive recklessly and violate traffic laws in general, let him. But, as for YOU, be cautious. On Tuesday he may be just a statistic in a holiday death toll, but you won't.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Winter Short Course Helps Many Unable To Attend College

After graduation from high school many young people find it impossible for one reason or another to attend college, because of the cost involved, time away from home and employment or other reasons. In view of this fact, the University of Illinois has started what they call the winter short course in agriculture which will start November 28 and end January 19 completing it's fifth consecutive year.

Courses are available in agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal science, dairy science, forestry, veterinary medicine and farm buildings.

There are many men and women who will take this opportunity to secure information which they have need for in their everyday work.

For further information contact H. L. Sharp, Assistant to the dean, college of agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana, or John H. Bicket, assistant farm adviser, 201 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

Busy Bees Will Model Skirts

Palatine Busy Bees were given books, "Pictures on the Wall," by their leader, Mrs. Koskela, at their recent meeting. Members of the Busy Bees will be guests of the Mothers club October 11 and will model their skirts. New members were also welcomed at the meeting.

American Airlines To Have 16 Flights At O'Hare Starting Oct. 30

American Airlines said its initial plans for O'Hare Field call for 16 of its flights to serve the airport beginning Oct. 30. Ten will operate daily, five will operate six times weekly and one will operate on Sundays only.

The announcement was made by Joseph W. Eaken, who was selected early this year as the airline's manager of operations at the new Chicago airport.

With three through flights making stops at O'Hare enroute between eastern points and cities in Texas and 12 others either originating or terminating at the airport, American will have nine arrivals and nine departures daily except Saturdays. There will be seven departures and six arrivals on Saturdays — the day of the week when all airline schedules are reduced.

Eaken said his airline would use both four-engine DC-6s and twin-engine Convairs for its initial service at O'Hare.

The first American arrival at O'Hare will be Convair flight 715 from Detroit, which will land at O'Hare at 7:25 a.m., Oct. 30.

Eaken reported he will have a staff of about 60 ground personnel at the start of operations, but that the number would be increased as additional flights are moved to O'Hare. (G

No Competition

Of the problems that confront United states aircraft engine designers and engineers, one of the most critical is weight.

It is easy to imagine the relief, then, of the design engineer of one aircraft engine builder who on a recent vacation trip visited huge Boulder Dam in Arizona and observed a small metal plate attached to the lower section of a several-story-high turbine weighing hundreds of tons.

The plate was inscribed: "This turbine is not licensed for installation in aircraft."

Lessons In . . . . English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

Distinguish between "virtue" and "virtuosity." "Virtue" means moral goodness. "Virtuosity" means great technical skill in the practice of the fine arts, especially in music.

Do not say, "You hadn't ought to do that." Say, "You ought not to do that."

Do not say, "Each of you are allowed two pieces." Say, "Each of you is allowed two pieces."

Do not say, "She said to tell you about this." Say, "She said I should tell you about this."

Do not say, "During his illness he was careful to stay inside of the house." Omit "of."

Never use "at" with "Where." Say, "Where were you?" Never, "Where were you at?"

Words Often Mispronounced

Pious and impious. Pronounce the i in "pious" as in pie. Pronounce the second i in "impious" as in pit, and accent first syllable.

Hirohito (Japanese emperor). Preferred pronunciation is hee-roe-hee-toe, accents on first and third syllables.

Inquiry. Pronounce second i as in kite preferred, accent second syllable.

When using "worsted" to mean defeated, pronounce it wur-sted. When using "worsted" to apply to yarn or a fabric, pronounce it woosted, oo as in look.

Risque. Pronounce as though spelled riss-kay, accent on second

Therapeutic. Pronounce ther-a-u as in use, accent third syllable. pu-tik, e as in bet, a unstressed, syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Hara-kiri (the Japanese type of suicide); not hari-kari, sometimes seen. Hoard (a collection or accumulation); horde (a crowd or rabble). Massacre; observe the cre. Mutual (common; joint), observe the al; parimutuel (used in racetrack betting), observe the el. Cocaine; observe the vowels. Variegated; observe the vowels.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

EMULATOR one who strives to equal or surpass. "He is an emulator of the masters."

ATTENUATE; to make thin or slender. "When stretched, a rubber band becomes attenuated."

ELATION; a lifting up of the mind or mood by success or hope of success. "Their elation over their victory was spontaneous."

American Airlines To Have 16 Flights At O'Hare Starting Oct. 30

American Airlines said its initial plans for O'Hare Field call for 16 of its flights to serve the airport beginning Oct. 30. Ten will operate daily, five will operate six times weekly and one will operate on Sundays only.

The announcement was made by Joseph W. Eaken, who was selected early this year as the airline's manager of operations at the new Chicago airport.

With three through flights making stops at O'Hare enroute between eastern points and cities in Texas and 12 others either originating or terminating at the airport, American will have nine arrivals and nine departures daily except Saturdays. There will be seven departures and six arrivals on Saturdays — the day of the week when all airline schedules are reduced.

Eaken said his airline would use both four-engine DC-6s and twin-engine Convairs for its initial service at O'Hare.

The first American arrival at O'Hare will be Convair flight 715 from Detroit, which will land at O'Hare at 7:25 a.m., Oct. 30.

Eaken reported he will have a staff of about 60 ground personnel at the start of operations, but that the number would be increased as additional flights are moved to O'Hare. (G

No Competition

Of the problems that confront United states aircraft engine designers and engineers, one of the most critical is weight.

It is easy to imagine the relief, then, of the design engineer of one aircraft engine builder who on a recent vacation trip visited huge Boulder Dam in Arizona and observed a small metal plate attached to the lower section of a several-story-high turbine weighing hundreds of tons.

The plate was inscribed: "This turbine is not licensed for installation in aircraft."
